Copyright Office, 1968 The Greek and the Roman Novel Michael Paschalis, 2007 Lyric in contemporary literary criticism is a term as elusive as it is suggestive It exists both as an adjective expressing a poetic quality and as a noun denoting a poetic mode and both are notoriously difficult to define It is this protean quality that has allowed lyric to become a powerful creative stimulus for both poets and theorists A foundational period for today's sense of lyric was the end of the eighteenth and beginning of the nineteenth century The Government of Disability in Dystopian Children's Texts Dylan Holdsworth, 2024-03-11 This book takes up the task of mapping discursive shifts in the representation of disability in dystopian youth texts across four historical periods where major social cultural and political shifts were occurring in the lives of many disabled people By focusing on dystopian texts which the author argues act as sites for challenging or reinforcing dominant belief systems and ways of being this study explores the potential of literature film and television to act as a catalyst of change in the representation of disability In addition this work discusses the texts and technologies that continue to perpetuate questionable and often competing discourses on the subject The Greatest Cult Television Shows of All Time Christopher J. Olson, Carrie Lynn D. Reinhard, 2020-05-29 Reaching back to the beginnings of television The Greatest Cult Television Shows offers readers a fun and accessible look at the 100 most significant cult television series of all time compiled in a single resource that includes valuable information on the shows and their creators While they generally lack mainstream appeal cult television shows develop devout followings over time and exert some sort of impact on a given community society culture or even media industry Cult television shows have been around since at least the 1960s with Star Trek perhaps the most famous of that era However the rise of cable contributed to the rise of cult television throughout the 1980s and 1990s and now with the plethora of streaming options available more shows can be added to this categorization Reaching back to the beginnings of television the book includes such groundbreaking series as The Twilight Zone and The Prisoner alongside more contemporary examples like Crazy Ex Girlfriend and Hannibal The authors provide production history for each series and discuss their relevance to global pop culture To provide a more global approach to the topic the authors also consider several non American cult TV series including British Canadian and Japanese shows Thus Monty Python's Flying Circus appears alongside Sailor Moon and Degrassi Junior High Additionally to move beyond the conception of cult as a primarily white heteronormative fanboy obsession the book contains shows that speak to a variety of cult audiences and experiences such as Queer as Folk and Charmed With detailed arguments for why these shows deserve to be considered the greatest of all time Olson and Reinhard provide ideas for discussion and debate on cult television Each entry in this book demonstrates the importance of the 100 shows chosen for inclusion and highlights how they offer insight into the period and the cults that formed around them
