Finding Voice Kim Shelley Berman, 2018-01-02 In Finding Voice Kim Berman demonstrates how she was able to use visual arts training in disenfranchised communities as a tool for political and social transformation in South Africa Using her own fieldwork as a case study Berman shows how hands on work in the arts with learners of all ages and backgrounds can contribute to economic stability by developing new skills as well as enhancing public health and gender justice within communities Berman s work and the community artwork her book documents present the visual arts as a crucial channel for citizens to find their individual voices and to become agents for change in the arenas of human rights and democracy The Oxford Companion to the Economics of South Africa Haroon Borat, Alan Hirsch, Ravi Kanbur, Mthuli Ncube, 2014-11-27 In 1994 South Africa saw the end of apartheid The new era of political freedom was seen as the foundation for economic prosperity and inclusion The last two decades have seen mixed results Economic growth has been volatile While inequalities in public services have been reduced income inequality has increased and poverty has remained stagnant As the twentieth anniversary of the transition to democracy approaches in 2014 the economic policy debates in South Africa are in full flow They combine a stocktake of the various programs of the last two decades with a forward looking discussion of strategy in the face of an ever open but volatile global economy Underlying the discourse are basic and often unresolved differences on an appropriate strategy for an economy like South Africa with a strong natural resource base but with deeply entrenched inherited inequalities especially across race This volume contributes to the policy and analytical debate by pulling together perspectives on a range of issues micro macro sectoral country wide and global from leading economists working on South Africa Other than the requirement that it be analytical and not polemical the contributors were given freedom to put forward their particular perspective on their topic The economists invited are from within South Africa and from outside from academia and the policy world from international and national level economic policy agencies The contributors include recognized world leaders in South African economic analysis as well as the very best of the younger crop of economists who are working on the study of South Africa the next generation of leaders in thought and policy The South African Tradition of Racial Capitalism Zachary Levenson, Marcel Paret, 2024-06-28 This book documents the emergence and development of the theory of racial capitalism in apartheid South Africa It interrogates the specificity of this theory in the South African context and draws lessons for its global applicability Racism and capitalism have a long history of entanglement Nowhere is this more evident than in South Africa where colonial and apartheid regimes used explicit systems of racial hierarchy to shore up profit It is therefore no surprise that South Africa has represented a key site for thinking about the role that racism plays in shaping state policy labor markets patterns of capital accumulation and working class struggle Illuminating these dynamics this volume develops a distinctive South African tradition of thought about the relationship between racism and capitalism The South African Tradition of Racial Capitalism contributes to a burgeoning literature on the concept of racial capitalism the origins of which many commentators trace back to apartheid South Africa It pays particular attention to the crucial role of anti apartheid activists as theorists whose important insights remain relevant for scholars and activists around the globe This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies     Debates of the ...
