Romanticism and the Biopolitics of Modern War Writing Neil Ramsey, 2023-02-23 Military literature was one of the most prevalent forms of writing to appear during the Romantic era yet its genesis in this period is often overlooked Ranging from histories to military policy manuals and a new kind of imaginative war literature in military memoirs and novels modern war writing became a highly influential body of professional writing Drawing on recent research into the entanglements of Romanticism with its wartime trauma and revisiting Michel Foucault's ground breaking work on military discipline and the biopolitics of modern war this book argues that military literature was deeply reliant upon Romantic cultural and literary thought and the era's preoccupations with the body life and writing Simultaneously it shows how military literature runs parallel to other strands of Romantic writing forming a sombre shadow against which Romanticism took shape and offering its own exhortations for how to manage the life and vitality of the nation
