Heterotopia and the City Michiel Dehaene, Lieven De Cauter, 2008-05-15 Heterotopia literally meaning other place is a rich concept in urban design that describes a space that is on the margins of ordered or civil society and one that possesses multiple fragmented or even incompatible meanings The term has had an impact on architectural and urban theory since it was coined by Foucault in the late 1960s but it has remained a source of confusion and debate since Heterotopia and the City seeks to clarify this concept and investigates the heterotopias which exist throughout our contemporary world in museums theme parks malls holiday resorts gated communities wellness hotels and festival markets With theoretical contributions on the concept of heterotopia including a new translation of Foucault's influential 1967 text Of Other Space and essays by well known scholars the book comprises a series of critical case studies from Beaubourg to Bilbao which probe a range of post urban transformations and which redirect the debate on the privatization of public space Wastelands and terrains vagues are studied in detail in a section on urban activism and transgression and the reader gets a glimpse of the extremes of our dualized postcivil condition through case studies on Jakarta Dubai and Kinshasa Heterotopia and the City provides a collective effort to reposition heterotopia as a crucial concept for contemporary urban theory The book will be of interest to all those wishing to understand the city in the emerging postcivil society and post historical era Planners architects cultural theorists urbanists and academics will find this a valuable contribution to current critical argument Losing Site Dr Shelley Hornstein,2013-06-28 As Ruskin suggests in his Seven Lamps of Architecture We may live without architecture and worship without her but we cannot remember without her We remember best when we experience an event in a place But what happens when we leave that place or that place no longer exists This book addresses the relationship between memory and place and asks how architecture captures and triggers memory It explores how architecture exists as a material object and how it registers as a place that we come to remember beyond the physical site itself It questions what architecture is in the broadest sense assuming that it is not simply buildings Rather architecture is considered to be the mapping of physical mental or emotional space The idea that we are all architects in some measure as we actively organize and select pathways and markers within space is central to this book's premise Each chapter provides a different example of the manifold ways in which the physical place of architecture is curated by the architecture in our mental space our imaginary toolbox when we think of a place and look at a photograph or visit a site and describe it later or send a postcard By connecting architecture with other disciplines such as geography visual culture sociology and urban studies as well as the fine and performing arts this book puts forward the idea that a conversation about architecture is not exclusively about formal isolated buildings but instead must be deepened and broadened as spatialized visualizations and experiences of place Ecologies of Affect Tonya K. Davidson, Ondine Park, Rob Shields,2013-06-01 Ecologies of Affect offers a synthetic introduction to the felt dynamics of cities and the character of places The contributors capture the significance of affects including desire nostalgia memory and hope in forming the identity and tone of places The critical intervention this collection of essays makes is an active consistent engagement with the virtualities that produce and refract our idealized attachments to place Contributors show how place images and attempts to build communities are rather than abstractions fundamentally tied to and revolve around such intangibles We understand nostalgia desire and hope as virtual that is even though they are not material they are nevertheless real and must be accounted for In this book the authors take up affect emotion and emplacement and consider them in relation to one another and how they work to produce and are produced by certain temporal and spatial dimensions The aim of the book is to inspire readers to consider space and place beyond their material properties and attend to the imaginary places and ideals that underpin and produce material places and social spaces This collection will be useful to practitioners and students seeking to understand the power of affect and the importance of virtualities within contemporary societies where intangible goods have taken on an increasing value The Regional Travel Guide for Desert Paradises Julian Bolleter, 2019-03-29 Desert Paradises Surveying the Landscapes of Dubai's Urban Model explores how designed landscapes can play a vital role in constructing a city's global image and legitimizing its socio-political hierarchy. Using the case study of Dubai, Bolleter explores how Dubai's rulers employ a paradisiacal image of greening the desert in part as a tool for political legitimization. Bolleter also evaluates the designed landscapes of Dubai against the principles of the United Nations and the International Federation of Landscape Architects and argues that what is happening in Dubai represents a significant discrepancy between theory and practice. This book offers a new perspective on landscape design that has until now been unexplored. It would be beneficial to academics and students of geography, landscape architecture, urban design, and urban planning, particularly those with an interest in Dubai or the many cities in the region that are experiencing Dubaiification.

The Integrative Design Guide to Green Building 7group, Bill Reed, 2009-04-13 The members of 7group and Bill Reed are examples writ large of the kind of leadership that is taking this idea of green building and forming it into reality by helping change minds, building practice, and design process. Foreword by S. Rick Fedrizzi, President, CEO, and Founding Chair, U.S. Green Building Council. A whole building approach to sustainability. The integrative design process offers a new path to making better green building decisions and addressing complex issues that threaten living systems. In The Integrative Design Guide to Green Building: Redefining the Practice of Sustainability, 7group's principals and integrative design pioneer Bill Reed introduce design and construction professionals to the concepts of whole building design and whole systems. With integrative thinking that reframes what sustainability means, they provide a how-to guide for architects, designers, engineers, developers, builders, and other professionals on incorporating integrative design into every phase of a project. This practical manual explains the philosophy and underpinnings of effective integrative design, addressing systems thinking and building and community design from a whole living system perspective. Details how to implement integrative design from the discovery phase to occupancy, supported by process outlines, itemized tasks, practice examples, case studies, and real-world stories illustrating the nature of this work. Explores the deeper understanding of integration that is required to transform architectural practice and our role on the planet. This book, both practical and thoughtful, will help you deliver your vision of a sustainable environment.

Air and Water René Moreau, 2017-08-10 Air and water are so familiar that we all think we know them. Yet how difficult it remains to predict their behavior with so many questions butting against the limits of our knowledge. How are cyclones, tornadoes, thunderstorms, tsunamis, or floods generated, sometimes causing devastation and death? What will the weather be tomorrow, next week, next summer? This book brings some answers to these questions with a strategy of describing before explaining. Starting by considering air and water in equilibrium, i.e., at rest, it progresses to discuss dynamic phenomena, first focusing on large-scale structures such as El Niño or trade winds, then on ever smaller structures such as low pressure zones in the atmosphere, clouds, rain, as well as tides and waves. It finishes by describing man-made constructions: dams, ports, power plants, etc., that serve to domesticate our water. resources and put them to work for us Including over one hundred illustrations and very few equations most of the text is accessible to readers with no more than high school science and who are at ease with quantities such as the temperature of a fluid or the pressure within such a medium Beyond the primary audience of engineers teachers and students the book is thus also addressed to walkers hikers navigators and all nature lovers International Tourism Development and the Gulf Cooperation Council States Marcus L. Stephenson,Ala Al-Hamarneh,2017-07-14 This book examines the challenges facing the development of tourism in the six member states of the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC Bahrain Kuwait Oman Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates UAE This region which largely comprises the Arabian Peninsula possesses some of the fastest growing economies in the world and is remarkably unique It shares similar associations and affinities tribal histories royal kinship political associations Bedu cultural roots Islamic heritage rapid urbanization oil wealth rentier dynamics state capitalist structures migrant labour economic diversification policies and institutional restructuring Therefore this volume takes the study of tourism away from its normative unit of analysis where tourism in the region is being examined within the context of the Middle East and the wider Islamic and Arab world towards an enquiry focusing on a specific geo political territory and socially defined region Although international tourism development in the region embodies a range of challenges complexities and conflicts which are deeply contextualized in this volume the approach overall does not endorse the normative Gulf bashing position that has predominated within the critical enquiries in the region It presents a forward looking and realistic assessment of international tourism development examining development potentialities and constructive ways forward for GCC states and the region as a whole This edited volume provides a real attempt to examine critically ways in which tourism and its development intersect with the socio cultural economic political environmental and industrial change that is taking place in the region By doing so the book provides a theoretically engaged analysis of the social transformations and discourses that shape our contemporary understanding of tourism development within the GCC region Moreover it deciphers tourism development s role within the context of the GCC states undergoing rapid transformation urbanization ultra modernization internationalization and globalization In addition to state specific illustrations and destination case studies the work provides insights into relatable themes associated with international tourism development in the region such as tourism s relationship with religion heritage and identity the environment and sustainability mobility and cross border movements the transport industry image production and destination branding mega development and political stability and instability The book combines theory with diverse case study illustrations drawing on disciplinary knowledge from such fields as sociology political economy and social geography This timely and original contribution is essential reading for students researchers and academics in the field of tourism studies and related subject areas along with those who have regional interests in Middle East studies including Gulf and Arabian Peninsula studies Art and AsiaPacific ,2006 Seeing from Above Mark Dorrian,Frédéric Pousin,2013-10-03 The view from above or the bird s eye view has become so ingrained in contemporary visual culture that it is now hard to imagine our world without it. It has risen to pre-eminence as a way of seeing but important questions about its effects and meanings remain unexplored. More powerfully than any other visual modality this image of everywhere supports our idea of a world view yet it is one that continues to be transformed as technologies are invented and refined. This innovative volume edited by Mark Dorrian and Frederic Pousin offers an unprecedented range of discussions on the aerial view covering topics from sixteenth century Roman maps to the Luftwaffe's aerial survey of Warsaw to Google Earth. Underpinned by a cross disciplinary approach that draws together diverse and previously isolated material this volume examines the politics and poetics of the aerial view in relation to architecture art film literature photography and urbanism and explores its role in areas such as aesthetics and epistemology. Structured through a series of detailed case studies this book builds into a cultural history of the aerial imagination.

Fundamentals of Global Air Transport Geography George Arbuckle, 2025-04-14 The commercial air transport industry can be broadly split into three component parts: airlines, airports and aircraft. Each of these components is shaped by geography insofar as each is influenced by places, landscapes, environments, people and their various interactions. Conversely, air transport plays a large role in shaping the various themes of geography and the position of our physical, human and environmental world. It connects people, cultures and businesses across every continent and generates economic growth, allows international trade to occur and develops tourism. It can also be involved in creating negative outputs such as emissions, noise and loss of biodiversity which can have a large impact on the planet and quality of life. A lack of air transport links can also have a significantly negative impact on world regions in terms of economic and cultural development. In short, air transport and geography are inextricably linked. Fundamentals of Global Air Transport Geography details the geography of the global commercial air transport industry. The book aims to provide an understanding of these key areas at an introductory level in order to be accessible to students and non-technical airport/airline management. A key theme throughout the book will not only be how geographical issues have influenced air transport but also how air transport continues to influence geography. Each chapter boasts a range of features aimed at enhancing the reader's understanding including learning objectives, discussion questions and case studies and lecturers can find supporting resources including PowerPoint slides and teaching notes online.

Iconic Designs Grace Lees-Maffei, 2020-01-23 Iconic Designs is a beautifully designed and illustrated guide to fifty classic things, designs that we find in the city, in our homes and offices, on page and screen and in our everyday lives. In her introduction Grace Lees Maffei explores the idea of iconicity and what makes a design iconic and fifty essays by leading design and cultural critics address the development of each iconic thing, its innovative and unique qualities and its journey to classic status. Subjects range from the late 19th century to the present day and include the Sydney Opera House, the Post-It Note, Coco Chanel's classic suit, the Sony Walkman™, Hello Kitty™, Helvetica, the Ford Model T, Harry Beck's diagrammatic map of the London Underground and the Apple iMac G3. UAE and the Gulf George Katodrytis, Kevin Mitchell, 2015-05-08 At the end of the 20th century Dubai attracted international media attention as the world sought to make sense of the city's extraordinary growth. Exuberant projects such as the Burj Arab the Burj Khalifa and the Palm Islands attracted investment in dreams to transform the region. While the global financial crisis kept dreams from becoming reality this issue of AD seeks to present a view of architecture and urbanism in the United Arab Emirates UAE and other states in the wider Gulf Cooperation Council GCC at a time when greater economic stability promises new beginnings. The issue presents examples of architecture that transcends preoccupation with fabricating images and traces the process of making contemporary Gulf cities from material tectonics to large scale masterplans. By presenting the architecture of UAE and the Gulf within the context of broader regional developments and global trends it highlights how projects in the UAE Qatar Kuwait and Saudi Arabia have contributed to unprecedented urban growth while emphasising the continuing environmental challenges of building in the region. In addition to highlighting various sustainable initiatives intended to counteract these challenges the issue also explores how computational design and new technologies are being innovatively employed to mitigate the impact of arid climates.
