

(afrikaans) My Hart Klop Nou Vir Jou

Het gesoek na jou vir 'n baie lang tyd het gesmeek vir jou, tot gepleit het altyd gewonder waar gaan ek jou kry toe eendag draai jy om en se vir my Al wat ek wil he is 'n meisie wat my gaan mis iemand om lief te he, iemand om te kus dis alles wat ek wil he, net soveel en net daar het jy my hart gesteel

My lief, dan is ek die een want vir jou gee ek maanskyn en die reen enige iets wat jy wil he my hart is joune, as jy net so se Ek sal jou lief he dag na dag want jy sit die sonskyn in my lag Ek mis jou nou my lief, meer en meer en hoe ek oor jou voel, kan ek nie meer keer

Al wat ek wil doen is my arms om jou vou en ek hoop jy onthou die meisie se hart, behoort nou aan jou!

Afrikaans Brief Poem English Translation:

The Lava of this Land Denis Hirson, 1997 A collection of South African poetry The Coroner's Wife: Poems in Translation Hambidge, Joan, 2018-09-24 Joan Hambidge has published over 25 collections of poetry Her work uses the magnifying lense of poetry to dissect examine and recompose the material of her own life and work and in so doing explores ideas and issues central to our understanding of language and meaning The poems selected for translation in this compilation offer insights into her views across a spectrum of four categories city life love and family ars poetica and time and eternity The Coroner s Wife offers English readers the unique opportunity to experience a prolific and renowned Afrikaans poet in their own language Translations have been sensively rendered by wellknown poets Charl JF Cilliers Johann de Lange Jo Nel and Douglas Reid Skinner The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil s Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell, Dirk Klopper, Craig Mackenzie, 2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa s history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party s policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary. The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored. An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history, this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice. Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages, English has remained the country's literary lingua franca. This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present. An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period. Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers. An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945. Nelson Mandela Elleke Boehmer, 2023. This second edition of Nelson Mandela VSI focuses on a far-reaching critical look at meanings of reconciliation and Mandela's ethic of reciprocity. Everyday Life and the Sacred, 2017-11-06. An interdisciplinary, gender-sensitive approach toward perspectives on the everyday and the sacred are the hallmark of this volume. Looking beyond the dualistic status quo, the authors probe the categories, textures, powers, and practices that define how we experience, embody, and understand religion and the sacred, their interconnection, but also disassociation with the secular. Contributions by an international group of feminist theologians and religious studies scholars aim to reconfigure the study of both religion and gender. Angela Berlis, Anne Marie Korte, Kune Biezeveld, Helga Kuhlmann, Maaïke de Haardt, Akke van der Kooi, Dorothea Erbe, Kester Willien van Wieringen, Magda Misset van de Weg, G. Speelman, Mathilde van Dijk, Jacqueline Borsje, Hedwig Meyer, Wilmes Goedroen, Juchtmans, Alma Lanser, and Riet Bons Storm. The Routledge Handbook of Translation History Christopher Rundle, 2021-09-30. The Routledge Handbook of Translation History presents the first comprehensive state-of-the-art overview of this multifaceted disciplinary area and serves both as an introduction to carrying out research into translation and interpreting history and as a key point of reference for some of its main theoretical and methodological issues, interdisciplinary approaches, and research themes. The Handbook brings together 30 eminent international scholars from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds, offering examples of the most innovative research while representing a wide range of approaches, themes, and cultural contexts. The Handbook is divided into four sections: the first looks at some key methodological and theoretical approaches; the second examines some of the key research areas that have developed an interdisciplinary dialogue with translation history; the third looks at translation history from the perspective of specific cultural and religious perspectives; and the fourth offers a selection of case studies on some of the key topics to have emerged in translation and interpreting history over the past 20 years. This Handbook is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of translation and interpreting history, translation theory, and related areas. Institutions of World Literature Stefan Helgesson, Pieter Vermeulen, 2015-06-19. This volume engages critically with the recent and ongoing consolidation of world literature as a paradigm of study. On the basis of an extended, active, and ultimately more literary sense of what it means to institute world literature, it views processes of institutionalization not as limitations but as challenges to understand how literature may simultaneously function as an enabling and exclusionary world of its own. It starts from the observation that literature is never simply a given but is always performatively and materially instituted by translators, publishers, academics and academics, critics and readers as well as authors themselves. This volume therefore substantiates, refines as well as interrogates current approaches to world literature such as those developed by David Damrosch, Pascale Casanova and Emily Apter. Sections focus on the poetics of writers themselves, market dynamics, postcolonial negotiations of discrete archives of literature and translation engaging a range of related disciplines. The chapters contribute to a fresh understanding of how singular literary works become inserted in transnational systems and conversely how transnational and institutional dimensions of literature are inflected in literary works. Focusing its methodological and theoretical inquiries on a broad archive of texts spanning the triangle Europe-Latin America-Africa, the volume unsettles North America as the self-evident vantage of recent world literature debates. Because of the volume's focus on dialogues between world literature and fields such as postcolonial studies, translation studies, book history and transnational studies, it will be of interest to scholars and students in a range of areas.

The Cambridge History of South African Literature David Attwell, Derek Attridge, 2012-01-12. South Africa's unique history has produced literatures in many languages in both oral and written forms reflecting the diversity in the cultural histories and experiences of its people. The Cambridge History offers a comprehensive multi-authored history of South African literature in all eleven official languages and more minor ones of the country produced by a team of over forty international experts including contributors from all of the major regions and language groups of South Africa. It will provide a complete portrait of South Africa's literary production organised as a chronological history from the oral traditions existing before colonial settlement to the post-apartheid revision of the past. In a field marked by controversy, this volume is more fully representative than any existing account of South Africa's literary history. It will make a unique contribution to Commonwealth, international and postcolonial studies and serve as a definitive reference work for decades to come.

The Routledge Companion to Picturebooks Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer, 2017-12-06. Containing forty-eight chapters, The Routledge Companion to Picturebooks is the ultimate guide to picturebooks. It contains a detailed introduction surveying the history and development of the field and emphasizing the international and cultural diversity of picturebooks. Divided into five key parts, this volume covers Concepts and topics from hybridity and ideology to metafiction and emotions. Genres from baby books through to picturebooks for adults. Interfaces their relations to other forms such as comics and visual media. Domains and theoretical approaches including developmental psychology and cognitive studies. Adaptations. With ground-breaking contributions from leading and emerging scholars alike, this comprehensive volume is one of the first to focus solely on picturebook research. Its interdisciplinary approach makes it key for both scholars and students of literature as well as education and media.

Switching Languages Steven G. Kellman, 2003-01-01. Though it is difficult enough to write well in one's native tongue, an extraordinary group of authors has written enduring poetry and prose in a second third or even fourth language Switching Languages is the first anthology in which translingual authors from throughout the world examine their experiences writing in more than one language or in a language other than their primary one Driven by factors as varied as migration imperialism a quest for verisimilitude and a desire to assert artistic autonomy translingualism has a long and brilliant history In Switching Languages Steven G Kellman brings together several notable authors from the past one hundred years who discuss their personal translingual experiences and their take on a general phenomenon that has not received the attention it deserves Contributors to the book include Chinua Achebe Julia Alvarez Mary Antin Elias Canetti Rosario Ferr Ha Jin Salman Rushdie L opold S dar Senghor and Ilan Stavans They offer vivid testimony to the challenges and achievements of literary translingualism

Present Imperfect Andrew van der Vlies,2017-05-26 Present Imperfect asks how South African writers have responded to the end of apartheid to the hopes that attended the birth of the new nation in 1994 and to the inevitable disappointments that have followed The first full length study of affect in South Africa s literature it understands disappointment both as a description of bad feeling and as naming a missed appointment with all that was promised by the anti colonial and anti apartheid Struggle a dis appointment Attending to contemporary writers treatment of temporality genre and form it considers a range of negative feelings that are also experiences of temporal disjuncture including stasis impasse boredom disaffection and nostalgia Present Imperfect offers close readings of work by a range of writers some known to international Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavic and Zo Wicomb some slightly less well known including Afrikaans language novelists Marlene van Niekerk and Ingrid Winterbach and others from a new generation including Songeziwe Mahlangu and Masande Ntshanga It addresses key questions in South African studies about the evolving character of the historical period in which the country now finds itself It is also alert to wider critical and theoretical conversations looking outward to make a case for the place of South African writing in global conversations and mobilizing readings of writing marked in various ways as South African in order to complicate the contours of World Literature as category discipline and pedagogy It is thus also a book about the discontents of neoliberalism the political energies of reading and the fates of literature in our troubled present

Conolly, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide

Jesus, Paul and Matthew, Volume Two Andries Van Aarde, 2020-04-16 This book is the second of two volumes which reflect on the trend in biblical scholarship that contrasts the vision of the historical Jesus with that of the apostle Paul on the one hand and the vision of Paul with that of the evangelist Matthew on the other It argues that Jesus replaced the concept of politics of holiness with that of politics of compassion This means that the church as a community of Jesus followers forms a fictive family replacing a soteriology grounded in the biological family God s adoption of people as God s children is based on the potential of people to absorb the divine into their humanity This truism is to be found in the visions shared by the peasant Jesus the apostle Paul and the rabbi Matthew as well as in creedal Christianity The book concludes with autobiographical reflective notes analogous to the parabolic story of the travellers to Emmaus from Jerusalem Luke 24 and that of the African eunuch Acts 8 on his way back from Jerusalem to Africa The notes serve to consolidate the two volumes on Jesus Paul and Matthew and their messages of God s wisdom justice and mercy

Literary Activism Amit Chaudhuri, 2018-02-15 Literary Activism revisits and interrogates and looks to renew the force of the literary It s a movement that emerges from a radically altered landscape for both publishing and academia where what Amit Chaudhuri calls market activism has effected changes on language on the measuring of value on the concept of influence in ways we struggle to recognise Encompassing the perspectives of the writer critic translator academic and publisher the essays in this volume follow no single line of enquiry Rather they offer the beginnings of an analysis of the literary world at a certain moment of globalisation while also questioning whether a literary world exists and if it does where its boundaries lie The collection moves in many directions from Arun Kolatkar and his near heroic refusal of both marketplace and reputation to Derek Attridge who argues for a form of affirmative criticism which positions the critic as a lover of the text while from Amsterdam Dubravka Ugrešić reflects on life in a literary out of nation zone adrift in a territory where intellectual protest has been stripped of ideological impetus and subsumed by the voraciousness of the market Taken together these essays initiate a series of conversations about who reads what and why about the practice of writing and criticism at this particular contemporary moment and about the activities and institutions that shape an understanding of what literature is and what it can do

A Necklace of Springbok Ears Helize van Vuuren, 2016-05-30 Where once there were twenty nine San Bushman languages and or dialects in Southern Africa few now remain The loss of these languages results in the loss of their stored oral culture and indigenous knowledge All that remains are archaeological evidence and rock art or archives recorded by individuals such as Wilhelm Bleek Lucy Lloyd and GR von Wielligh who heard the encroaching language and cultural death knell before it was too late

Writing Namibia - Coming of Age Sarala Krishnamurthy, Nelson Mlambo, 2022-06-02 A rich collection of captivating and remarkable chapters Writing Namibia Coming of Age presents research of senior academics as well as emerging scholars from Namibia The book includes wide ranging topics in literature written in English and other Namibian languages such as German Afrikaans and Oshiwambo Almost thirty years after independence Namibia literature has come of age with new writers experimenting with different genres and varied aspects of literature As an aesthetic object and social phenomenon Namibian literature still fulfils the function of social conscience and as new writers emerge there is ample demonstration that pluri vocal as they are Namibian literary texts relate in a complex manner to the socio historical trends shaping the country The Namibian literary critical tradition continues to paint some versions of Namibia and what we find in this new and highly welcome volume is a canvas of rich voices and perspectives that demonstrate an intricate diversity in terms of culture language and themes
