The Water Legacies of Conventional Mining James E. Nickum, David B. Brooks, Anthony Turton, Surina Esterhuyse, 2018-10-15 The impact of mining is too big to ignore in a world of oversubscribed water This is true of conventional mining as much as or even more than hydraulic fracturing fracking The legacy issues of such mining on water have not been fully appreciated especially the irretrievable effects mining has had on communities and ecosystems around the world through its impact on water Yet this is not an us or them problem the wealth influence and technical knowledge of mining interests can and must be part of the solution All of the contributions to this volume either consider the deficiencies of existing governance structures and the need for better ones or explore the use of new techniques to identify and evaluate social and environmental impacts The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Water International

The Final-Over-Final Condition Michelle Sheehan, Theresa Biberauer, Ian Roberts, Anders Holmberg, 2017-10-27 An examination of the evidence for and the theoretical implications of a universal word order constraint with data from a wide range of languages This book presents evidence for a universal word order constraint the Final over Final Condition FOFC and discusses the theoretical implications of this phenomenon FOFC is a syntactic condition that disallows structures where a head initial phrase is contained in a head final phrase in the same extended projection domain The authors argue that FOFC is a linguistic universal not just a strong tendency and not a constraint on processing They discuss the effects of the universal in various domains including the noun phrase the adjective phrase the verb phrase and the clause The book draws on data from a wide range of languages including Hindi Turkish Basque Finnish Afrikaans German Hungarian French English Italian Romanian Arabic Hebrew Mandarin Pontic Greek Bagirmi Dholuo and Thai FOFC the authors argue is important because it is the only known example of a word order asymmetry pertaining to the order of heads As such it has significant repercussions for theories connecting the narrow syntax to linear order

Coetzee, Magdalena Wojciechowska, 2019-01-01 The chapters in this book reflect on the practice of using narratives to understand individual and social reality They all reveal dimensions of the same concrete reality contemporary society of Central South Africa Except for two all the chapters originated from research in the program The Narrative Study of Lives situated in the Department of Sociology at the University of the Free State in Bloemfontein South Africa Each chapter opens a window on an aspect of everyday life in Central South Africa Each window displays the capacity of the narrative as a methodological tool in qualitative research to open up better understandings of everyday experience The chapters also reflect on the epistemological journey towards unwrapping and breaking open of meaning Narratives are one of many tools available to sociologists in their quest to understand and interpret meaning But when it comes to deep understanding narratives are particularly effective in opening up more intricate levels of meaning associated with emotions feelings and subjective experiences

Kaaps in Fokus Frank Hendricks, Charlyn Dyers, 2016-11-01 Kaaps as Afrikaanse omgangsvariëteit word deur verskillende outeurs vanuit diverse invalshoeke betrag Die boek beslaan nege hoofstukke in twee afdelings wat onderskeidelike die taalkundigheid en die kontekstuele gebruike van Kaaps bekijk Dis gebaseer op referate wat gelewer is by die eerste simposium oor Kaaps in 2012 Kaaps word in die boek voorgehou as 'n waardige talig genuanseerde en

leenskragtige vorm van Afrikaans Die ekonomiese potensiaal van Kaaps en die benutting daarvan as onderwys en joernalistieke medium word ook bespreek Cape Town Harmonies Armelle Gaulier, Denis-Constant Martin, 2017-07-19

Cape Town's public cultures can only be fully appreciated through recognition of its deep and diverse soundscape We have to listen to what has made and makes a city The ear is an integral part of the research tools one needs to get a sense of any city We have to listen to the sounds that made and make the expansive mother city Various of its constituent parts sound different from each other There is the sound of the singing men and their choirs teams they are called in preparation for the longstanding annual Malay choral competitions The lyrics from the various repertoires they perform are hardly ever written down There are texts of the hallowed Dutch songs but these do not circulate easily and widely Researchers dream of finding lyrics from decades ago not to mention a few generations ago back to the early 19th century This work by Denis Constant Martin and Armelle Gaulier provides us with a very useful selection of these songs More than that it is a critical sociological reflection of the place of these songs and their performers in the context that have given rise to them and sustains their relevance It is a necessary work and is a very important scholarly intervention about a rather neglected aspect of the history and present production of music in the city Language and Literature in a Glocal World Sandhya Rao Mehta, 2018-06-29

This collection of critical essays investigates the intersections of the global and local in literature and language Exploring the connections that exist between global forms of knowledge and their local regional applications this volume explores multiple ways in which literature is influenced and in turn influences movements and events across the world and how these are articulated in various genres of world literature including the resultant challenges to translation This book also explores the way in which languages especially English transform and continue to be reinvented in its use across the world Using perspectives from sociolinguistics discourse analysis and semiotics this volume focuses on diasporic literature travel literature and literature in translation from different parts of the world to study the ways in which languages change and grow as they are sought to be owned by the communities which use them in different contexts Emphasizing on interdisciplinary studies and methodologies this collection centralizes both research that theorizes the links between the local and the global and that which shows through practical evidence how the local and global interact in new and challenging ways A Luta Continua Lizette Rabe, 2020-10-16

What has media freedom entailed over the couple of centuries and successive governments of the geopolitical region that became South Africa since it was colonised by Westerners And why can media freedom be described as both pillar and cornerstone of a democracy It's simple as in the words of Nelson Mandela first state president of a democratic South Africa Press freedom is the lifeblood of democracy This book tells the tale of the various states of press freedom or unfreedom from colonial times to today from a British governor called a dictator and a despot through apartheid's pigmentocracy or sjambokkracy where the rule of law has been replaced by the rule of the whip up to the dawn of liberation with media freedom entrenched in Article 16 of South Africa's Bill of Rights

And why should all of this concern you Because media freedom is not about the freedom of the media It is about your freedom As was formulated by an editor under apartheid If we don't have a public sympathetic to a free press not only will we not have a free press we won't have a democracy either Or in the words of former Sowetan editor and SANEF chair Mpumelelo Mkhabela Media freedom has nothing to do with the media but with the freedom of citizens And that is why you should know that a free media is the only guarantee for your freedom As we have seen both under apartheid and also under a democratic dispensation it is a matter of a luta continua The struggle continues But you the public are the guardian of those that guard democracy Help ensure the rights of a free media and thereby your democratic rights and a democratic South Africa

Hydropolitics, Interest Groups and Governance Richard Meissner, 2016-06-17 This book investigates the role that interest groups have played over the years in influencing the government of Namibia the World Bank the European Union and project implementation authorities to not construct the proposed Epupa Hydroelectric Power Station on the Kunene River in the Baynes mountains a region on the border between Namibia and Angola Some of the issues brought forward by the interest groups are the socio economic impact the dam would have on the OvaHimba as well as negative consequences for the river's aquatic and terrestrial environment This book argues that interest groups and individuals have the ability to influence the above mentioned institutions and to such an extent that water politics and governance are not exclusively the domain of state institutions As such it argues that communal interest groups living in remote parts of the world can influence state institutions at various political scales

World War I and Propaganda, 2014-01-23 World War I and Propaganda offers a new look at a familiar subject The contributions to this volume demonstrate that the traditional view of propaganda as top down manipulation is no longer plausible Drawing from a variety of sources scholars examine the complex negotiations involved in propaganda within the British Empire in occupied territories in neutral nations and how war should be conducted Propaganda was tailored to meet local circumstances and integrated into a larger narrative in which the war was not always the most important issue Issues centering on local politics national identity preservation of tradition or hopes of a brighter future all played a role in different forms of propaganda Contributors are Christopher Barthel Donata Blobaum Robert Blobaum Mourad Djebabla Christopher Fischer Andrew T Jarboe Elli Lemonidou David Monger Javier Pounce Catriona Pennell Anne Samson Richard Smith Kenneth Andrew Steuer Mar a In's Tato and Lisa Todd

Precarious Liberation Franco Barchiesi, 2011-06-01 Winner of the 2012 CLR James Award presented by the Working Class Studies Association Millions of black South African workers struggled against apartheid to redeem employment and production from a history of abuse insecurity and racial despotism Almost two decades later however the prospects of a dignified life of wage earning work remain unattainable for most South Africans Through extensive archival and ethnographic research Franco Barchiesi documents and interrogates this important dilemma in the country's democratic transition economic participation has gained centrality in the government's definition of virtuous citizenship and yet for most workers employment remains an elusive and insecure experience In a context of market liberalization and persistent social and racial inequalities as jobs in South Africa become increasingly flexible fragmented and unprotected they depart from the promise of work with dignity and citizenship rights that once inspired opposition to apartheid Barchiesi traces how the employment crisis and the responses of workers to it challenge the state s normative imagination of work and raise decisive questions for the social foundations and prospects of South Africa s democratic experiment A scholarly inquiry into disciplinary practices in educational institutions Connie B.
