A Rhetoric Of Argument 3rd Edition:

A Rhetoric of Argument Jeanne Fahnestock, Marie Secor, 2004 The stasis approach pioneered by Fahnestock and Secor distinguishes among four basic questions that arguments are written to answer What is it Definition arguments How did it get that way Causal arguments Is it good or bad Evaluation arguments What should we do about it Proposal arguments These four questions now standard in many argument texts give students a constructive engaging way to analyze arguments by other writers and to construct their own arguments GoogleBooks

A Rhetoric of Argument Jeanne Fahnestock, Marie Secor, 1990 This composition text focuses on argument and persuasion using examples exercises readings and writing assignments The text guides students through developing a thesis finding and organizing evidence and writing and revising several different types of argumentative papers The second edition de emphasizes the language of formal logic and all the readings examples and exercises have been updated Additional coverage has been given to refutation It is widely used in both advanced composition and second semester freshman courses

A Rhetoric for Argument Jeanne Fahnestock, Marie Secor, 1981-12-01

Examining Argumentation in Context Frans H. van Eemeren, Frans Hendrik Eemeren, 2009 Examining Argumentation in Context Fifteen studies on strategic maneuvering contains a selection of papers on strategic maneuvering in argumentative discourse Starting point of all of these contributions is that a satisfactory analysis and evaluation of strategic maneuvering is possible only if the argumentative discourse is first situated in the communicative and interactional context in which it occurs While some of the contributions present general views with regard to strategic maneuvering other contributions report on the results of empirical studies examine strategic maneuvering in a particular legal or political context or highlight the presentational design of strategic maneuvering Examining Argumentation in Context therefore provides an insightful view of recent developments in the research on strategic maneuvering which is currently prominent in the study of argumentation

The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field Key Features Brings together scholars from across the disciplines of Speech Communication English and Writing Studies While rhetoric is by definition interdisciplinary self identified scholars in the field are most often institutionally separated from one another This Handbook bridges this divide by providing a refreshing range of transdisciplinary views on the nature status definition and scope of rhetoric today Offers a thorough going overview of rhetorical studies today Organized in four sections Historical Studies in Rhetoric Rhetoric Across the Disciplines Rhetoric and Pedagogy and Rhetoric and Public Discourse the volume provides a single resource for engaging rhetorical studies Underscores the importance of rhetoric to education across a wide range of disciplines as well as to effective participation in public arenas Thus the volume connects rhetoric's long teaching tradition to an activist agenda for informed civic engagement Addresses methodological and theoretical difficulties and offers means of negotiating them Provides one of the first introductions to rhetorical studies across cultures and to the related debates concerning comparative and contrastive rhetorics Argumentation in Higher Education Richard Andrews, 2009-09-10 Argumentation in Higher Education offers professors lecturers and researchers informative guidance for teaching effective argumentation skills to their undergraduate and graduate students This professional guide aims to make the complex topic of argumentation open and transparent Grounded in empirical research and theory but with student voices heard strongly throughout this book fills the gap of argumentation instruction for the undergraduate and graduate level Written to enlighten even the most experienced professor this text contributes to a better understanding of the demands of speaking writing and visual argumentation in higher education and will undoubtedly inform and enhance course design The book argues for a more explicit treatment of argument the product and argumentation the process in higher education so that the ground rules of the academic discipline in question are made clear Each chapter concludes with practical exercises for staff development use Topics discussed include The importance of argument The current state of argumentation in higher education Generic skills in argumentation The balance between generic and discipline specific skills Information communication technologies and visual argumentation How can we best teach argumentation so that students feel fully empowered in their academic composition Professors new and experienced lecturers researchers professional developers and writing coaches worldwide grappling with this question will find this accessible text to be an extremely valuable resource Richard Andrews is Professor in English at the Institute of Education University of London The Language of Argumentation Ronny Boogaart, Henrike Jansen, Maarten van Leeuwen, 2021-01-20 Bringing together scholars from a broad range of theoretical perspectives The Language of Argumentation offers a unique overview of research at the crossroads of linguistics and theories of argumentation In addition to theoretical and methodological reflections by leading scholars in their fields the book contains studies of the relationship between language and argumentation from two different viewpoints While some chapters take a specific argumentative move as their point of departure and investigate the ways in which it is linguistically manifested in discourse other chapters start off from a linguistic construction trying to determine its argumentative function and rhetorical potential The Language of Argumentation documents the currently prominent research on stylistic aspects of argumentation and illustrates how the study of argumentation benefits from insights from linguistic models ranging from theoretical pragmatics politeness theory and metaphor studies to models of discourse coherence and construction grammar Arguing on the Toulmin Model David Hitchcock, Bart Verheij, 2007-01-24 Summarizing in The Uses of Argument Toulmin emphasized a number of points that are by now familiar but still deserve attention 1 Reasoning and argument involve not only support for points of view but also attack against them 2 Reasoning can have qualified conclusions 3 There are other good types of argument than those of standard formal logic 4 Unstated assumptions linking premisses to a conclusion are better thought of as inference licenses than as implicit premisses 5 Standards of reasoning can be field dependent and can be themselves the subject of argumentation Each of these points is illustrated by his layout of arguments The rebuttal illustrates the first point the qualifier the second point and the warrant and backing the last three points 2 RECEPTION OF TOULMIN S BOOK As Toulmin himself notes in his essay in this volume which was delivered as an address in 2005 his fellow philosophers were initially hostile to the ideas in his book They were taken up however by specialists in fields like jurisprudence and psychology who found that they fit the forms of argument and reasoning that they were studying And Toulmin s model was embraced by the field of speech communication in the United States whose textbooks on argumentation now include an obligatory chapter on the Toulmin model of micro arguments

Writing in the Disciplines Christine Hardy, Lisa Clughen, 2012-05-18 This book develops academic writing in higher education Viewing writing as a complex sociocultural act it analyses key issues in writing environments and their impact on student writing Drawing on research practice and the existing body of knowledge it also offers practical writing activities that can be used with students in the disciplines

The Art of Woo G. Richard Shell, Mario Moussa, 2007 Explains that the selling of ideas is a matter of encouraging others to share one s beliefs in a guide for salespeople that invites readers to self assess their persuasion personality and build on natural strengths

CliffsAP® English Language and Composition, 3rd Edition, Rhetorical Style Jeanne Fahnestock, 2011-10-12 A comprehensive guide to the language of argument Rhetorical Style offers a renewed appreciation of the persuasive power of the English language Drawing on key texts from the rhetorical tradition as well as on newer approaches from linguistics and literary stylistics Fahnestock demonstrates how word choice sentence form and passage construction can combine to create effective spoken and written arguments With examples from political speeches non fiction works and newspaper reports Rhetorical Style surveys the arguer s options at the word sentence interactive and passage levels and illustrates the enduring usefulness of rhetorical stylistics in analyzing and constructing arguments

Science and the Internet Alan Gross, Jonathan Buehl, 2016-12-05 The essays in Science and the Internet address the timely topic of how digital tools are shaping science communication Featuring chapters by leading scholars of the rhetoric of science and technology the volume fills a much needed gap in contemporary rhetoric of science scholarship Overall the essays reveal how digital technologies may both fray the boundaries between experts and non experts and enable more collaborative democratic means of public engagement with science Lisa Ker nen PhD Associate Professor and Director of Graduate Studies Department of Communication University of Colorado Denver

Argumentation Theory: A Pragma-Dialectical Perspective Frans H. van Eemeren, 2018-07-27 The book offers a compact but comprehensive introductory overview of the crucial components of argumentation theory In presenting this overview argumentation is consistently approached from a pragma dialectical perspective by viewing it

pragmatically as a goal directed communicative activity and dialectically as part of a regulated critical exchange aimed at resolving a difference of opinion As a result the book also systematically explains how the constitutive parts of the pragma dialectical theory of argumentation which are discussed in a number of separate publications hang together The following crucial topics are discussed 1 argumentation theory as a discipline 2 the meta theoretical principles of pragma dialectics 3 the model of a critical discussion aimed at resolving a difference of opinion 4 fallacies as violations of a code of conduct for reasonable argumentative discourse 5 descriptive research of argumentative reality 6 analysis as theoretically motivated reconstruction 7 strategic manoeuvring aimed at combining achieving effectiveness with maintaining reasonableness 8 the conventionalization of argumentative practices 9 prototypical argumentative patterns 10 pragma dialectics amidst other approaches Argumentation Theory A Pragma Dialectical Perspective is clearly written and makes argumentation theory understandable to all scholars and advanced students interested in argumentation research

Teaching Science Students to Communicate: A Practical Guide Susan Rowland, Louise Kuchel, 2023-04-25 This highly readable book addresses how to teach effective communication in science The first part of the book provides accessible context and theory about communicating science well and is written by experts The second part focuses on the practice of teaching communication in science with nuts and bolts lesson plans direct from the pens of practitioners The book includes over 50 practice chapters each focusing on one or more short teaching activities to target a specific aspect of communication such as writing speaking and listening Implementing the activities is made easy with class run sheets tips and tricks for instructors signposts to related exercises and theory chapters and further resources Theory chapters help build instructor confidence and knowledge on the topic of communicating science The teaching exercises can be used with science students at all levels of education in any discipline and curriculum the only limitation is a wish to learn to communicate better Targeted at science faculty members this book aims to improve and enrich communication teaching within the science curriculum so that science graduates can communicate better as professionals in their discipline and future workplace

Coalescent Argumentation Michael A. Gilbert, 2013-11-05 Coalescent Argumentation is based on the concept that arguments can function from agreement rather than disagreement To prove this idea Gilbert first discusses how several components emotional visceral physical and kisceral intuitive are utilized in an argumentative setting by people everyday These components also characterized as modes are vital to argumentative communication because they affect both the argument and the resulting outcome In addition to the components modes this book also stresses the goals in argumentation as a means for understanding one s own and one s opposer s positions Gilbert argues that by viewing positions as complex human events involving a variety of communicative modes we are better able to find commonalities across positions and therefore move from conflict to resolution By focusing on agreement and shared goals in all modes arguers can coalesce diverse positions and more easily distinguish between minor or unrelated differences and core disagreements This permits much greater latitude for locating shared beliefs values and attitudes that will lead to conflict resolution

Academic and Professional Writing in an Age of Accountability

Shirley Wilson Logan, Wayne H. Slater, 2018-12-27 What current theoretical frameworks inform academic and professional writing What does research tell us about the effectiveness of academic and professional writing programs What do we know about existing best practices What are the current guidelines and procedures in evaluating a program's effectiveness What are the possibilities in regard to future research and changes to best practices in these programs in an age of accountability Editors Shirley Wilson Logan and Wayne H Slater bring together leading scholars in rhetoric and composition to consider the history trends and future of academic and professional writing in higher education through the lens of these five central questions The first two essays in the book provide a history of the academic and professional writing program at the University of Maryland Subsequent essays explore successes and challenges in the establishment and development of writing programs at four other major institutions identify the features of language that facilitate academic and professional communication look at the ways digital practices in academic and professional writing have shaped how writers compose and respond to texts and examine the role of assessment in curriculum and pedagogy An afterword by distinguished rhetoric and composition scholars Jessica Enoch and Scott Wible offers perspectives on the future of academic and professional writing This collection takes stock of the historical rhetorical linguistic digital and evaluative aspects of the teaching of writing in higher education Among the critical issues addressed are how university writing programs were first established and what early challenges they faced where writing programs were housed and who administered them how the language backgrounds of composition students inform the way writing is taught the ways in which current writing technologies create new digital environments and how student learning and programmatic outcomes should be assessed Manifest Rationality Ralph H.

Johnson, 2012-11-12 This book works through some of the theoretical issues that have been accumulating in informal logic over the past 20 years At the same time it defines a core position in the theory of argument in which those issues can be further explored The underlying concern that motivates this work is the health of practice of argumentation as an important cultural artifact A further concern is for logic as a discipline Argumentative and dialectical in nature this book presupposes some awareness of the theory of argument in recent history and some familiarity with the positions that have been advanced It will be of interest to academics researchers and advanced undergraduate and graduate students in the disciplines of logic rhetoric linguistics speech communication English composition and psychology

Reasonableness and Effectiveness in Argumentative Discourse

Frans H. van Eemeren, 2015-08-27 This volume presents 50 contributions on the themes of reasonableness and effectiveness and their connections which are central issues in argumentation theory It discusses van Eemeren's views on the study of argumentation the approach to argumentation adopted in pragma dialectics pragma dialectical perspectives on the dialectical and pragmatic dimensions of argumentative discourse the notion of strategic maneuvering the pragma dialectical method of analyzing argumentative discourse the treatment of fallacies as violations of rules for critical discussion pragma dialectical views on context the role of logic verbal indicators of argumentative moves and argument schemes and the process of writing and rewriting argumentative texts The pragma dialectical quantitative approach to empirical research on argumentative discourse is illustrated by reporting on selected illustrative experimental studies as well as qualitative studies of historical cases An Invitation to Debate Ben Voth, 2025-08-07 This comprehensive introductory textbook gives students the framework and tools to become great debaters and use those skills to further civil and respectful responses on contentious topics Focusing on core concepts and skills of research reasoning and argumentation with a special focus on debate rhythms the book builds students ability to express ideas and respectfully dissent ultimately improving their individual resilience in adverse circumstances and encouraging the emergence of communal values in society An Invitation to Debate takes students on a step by step preparation of case research speech composition rebuttals and resolutions It is not specific to a particular debate style allowing professors to use the book across a variety of procedural types including policy British Parliamentary Lincoln Douglas International Public Debate Association world schools and Coolidge As the most up to date debate textbook An Invitation to Debate will show students how to use AI technologies to aid but never replace their own case preparation Throughout the book students will be challenged to consider opportunities for debate to create more civil and fruitful discussion in their daily lives and on the world stage where respectful debate can break through political barriers and counteract social injustices
