The Mill Rade B. Vukmir, 2010-11-15 For those of you who will never know since the gargantuan sprawling mills are gone the testimonies of these men and women are recorded This is their story You would be afraid to walk where they toiled day to day their whole lives at the risk of their health either acutely or chronically just to get by Theirs was a world of extremes from the North Mill with its red hot steel and iron and its oppressive layer of soot to the South Mill with its clean swept floors and gleaming finished products tinplate pipe and I beams They knew the contrast also between the blast furnace a veritable hell on earth where the hot iron flowed and the acrid smell of combustibles permeated the air and the eerie calm and darkness found working near the river at 3 00 a m The Mill the Jones Laughlin Aliquippa Works was once the largest integrated steel making plant in the world The mill itself no longer exists but go stand on the site by the Ohio River and you will feel the memories and the presence of those who have come before you_I have In this moving and personal work Rade Vukmir vividly recreates life in an American steel town Relying on extensive interviews and his own experience in the industry Dr Vukmir offers a retrospective summary of the life and times of a diverse group of steel workers who were the heart and soul of one of America's largest industrial facilities Here is the story of the hopes and frustrations the triumphs and the trials of these workers captured in a way that will be valuable to the academic and the general reader alike

SNIPPETS Volume Two Judith Burke, 2008-10-20 Our past elbows its way into the present tap dances in the now and is part of the making of our future Sometimes we overlook our common ground We interact and shadow box our connections sNIPPETS is a quick read Tourism and the Millennium Development Goals Jarkko Saarinen, Christian M.

Rogerson, Haretsebe Manwa, 2013-10-31 In 2000 United Nations adopted the Millennium Development Goals UN MDGs committing the member nations to a new global partnership to reduce extreme poverty and setting out a series of specific targets with a deadline of 2015 Related to the UN MDGs tourism is increasingly seen as a promising tool for poverty reduction ensuring environmental sustainability and developing a global partnership for development for example Thus the industry has become an important policy tool for community and regional development in many developing countries and the expectations for tourism and its social and economic outcomes have evolved to a high level However there are still many challenges to overcome in the relationship between tourism industry development and poverty reduction This book aims to discuss the promises challenges and outcomes of tourism in development with a specific aim of drawing together research related to tourism and UN MDGs The papers discuss what lessons can be learnt and conclusions drawn from the utilisation of tourism for development and poverty reduction What emerges from this collection is a set of interesting results and notions which both support and challenge the connections between tourism and development and the new role of tourism in global development This book is an extended version of a special issue published in Current Issues in Tourism Jump Start Your Brain V2.0 Doug Hall, 2010-06 A guide to a counter corporate culture approach to creativity urging you to break rules with childlike abandonment and have fun doing it Annual Report - U. S. Small Business Administration United States. Small Business Administration, 1974

Lincoln City and the Twenty Miracle Miles Anne Jobbe Hall, 2008 On the central Oregon coast lies a sliver of land bounded on the north by the Salmon River and on the south by Depoe Bay with Devils Lake at its heart Creeks and rivers wind their way across this coastal plain down from the mountains through stands of towering spruce trees and empty into the sea This little bit of paradise remained as nature shaped it for many thousands of years of Native American habitation In the late 1890s rugged individuals began to find their way into the more hospitable corners of this windswept coast In time a string of small towns and cities appeared stretched like a string of pearls along the beach between the mountains and the sea These towns grew and overlapped until five combined to become Lincoln City By the 1950s the area had become a tourist mecca so beautiful it was known as the Twenty Miracle Miles

Pushing Our Limits Mark Nelson, 2018-02-27 Pushing Our Limits is a fresh examination of Biosphere 2 the world's first man made mini world twenty five years after its first closure experiment Author Mark Nelson one of the eight crew members locked in the enclosure during the 1991-1993 experiment offers a compelling insider's view of the dramatic story behind Biosphere 2 Biosphere 2 helped change public understanding of what our global biosphere is and how it provides for our health and well being However the experiment is often dismissed as a failure and news outlets at the time focused on interpersonal conflicts and unexpected problems that arose Delving past the sensationalism Nelson presents the goals and results of the experiment addresses the implications of the project for our global situation and discusses how the project's challenges and successes can change our thinking about Biosphere 1 the Earth Pushing Our Limits offers insights from the project that can help us deal with our global ecological challenges It also shows the intense and fulfilling connection the biospherians felt with their life support system and how this led to their vigilant attention to its needs With current concerns of sustainability and protection of our global biosphere as well as the challenge of learning how to support life in space and on Mars the largest longest and most important experiment in closed ecosystems is more relevant than ever The book explores Biosphere 2's lessons for changing technology to support and not destroy nature and for reconnecting people to a healthy relationship with nature
