A School History of the Great War (WWI Centenary Series) Charles a Coulomb, Albert E McKinley, 2014-05-21 This brief history of the world's greatest war was prepared upon the suggestion of the National Board for Historical Service. Its purpose is to expand into an historical narrative the outline of the study of the war which the authors prepared for the Board and which was published by the United States Bureau of Education as Teachers Leaflet No 4 in August 1918. The arrangement of chapters and the choice of topics have been largely determined by the various headings in the outline for the course in grades seven and eight. The authors trust that the simple presentation here given may aid in developing a national comprehension of the issues involved in the war and they hope it may play some part in preparing the American people for the solution of the great problems which lie immediately before us. This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis. The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world's bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history. Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context.

Mr. Punch's History of the Great War (WWI Centenary Series) Charles L. Graves, 2016-03-10 This early work by Charles L. Graves was originally published in 1919 and we are now republishing it as part of our WWI Centenary Series. Mr. Punch's History of the Great War is a classic work of intelligent and witty satire. It is complete with wonderful cartoon illustrations and tells the story of Mr. Punch's exploits during the Great War. This is perfect for anyone with a love of the Punch series. This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis. The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world's bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history. Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context.

The Great War as I Saw It (WWI Centenary Series) Frederick George Scott, 2016-03-10 May the ears of Canada never grow deaf to the plea of widows and orphans and our crippled men for care and support. May the eyes of Canada never be blind to that glorious light which shines upon our young national life from the deeds of those who counted not their lives dear unto themselves and may the lips of Canada never be dumb to tell to future generations the tales of heroism which will kindle the imagination and fire the patriotism of children that are yet unborn. This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis. The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world's bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history. Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context.

The Sherwood Foresters in the Great War 1914-1919 (WWI Centenary Series) W. C. C. Weetman, 2016-03-10 The book is not intended in any way to be a literary effort.

All that has been attempted has been a simple narrative of our doings for the use primarily of persons connected with the Battalion My main endeavour throughout has been to secure accuracy but it will be understood that in sifting the mass of material placed at my disposal errors may have crept in I trust however that these are few This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world s bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context

War Letters of a Public-School Boy (WWI Centenary Series) Henry Mainwaring Jones,2020-08-06 In deciding to publish some of the letters written by the late Lieutenant H P M Jones during his twenty seven months service with the British Army accompanying them with a memoir I was actuated by a desire first to enshrine the memory of a singularly noble and attractive personality secondly to describe a career which though tragically cut short was yet rich in honourable achievement thirdly to show the influence of the Great War on the mind of a public school boy of high intellectual gifts and sensitive honour who had shone with equal lustre as a scholar and as an athlete This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world s bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context

Germany and the Next War (WWI Centenary Series) Friedrich Von Bernhardi,2014-12-12 Our science our literature and the warlike achievements of our past have made me proudly conscious of belonging to a great civilized nation which in spite of all the weakness and mistakes of bygone days must and assuredly will win a glorious future and it is out of the fulness of my German heart that I have recorded my convictions I believe that thus I shall most effectually rouse the national feeling in my readers hearts and strengthen the national purpose This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world s bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context

A Patriotic Schoolgirl (WWI Centenary Series) Angela Brazil,2016-03-10 A Patriotic Schoolgirl is a work of juvenile fiction by Angela Brazil The story is set during the First World War and tells of the intricacies of living in a girls school in the early part of the 20th century There are also German prisoners of war spies and misunderstandings all thrown in for good measure Originally published in 1918 this is not only an entertaining read but also gives a valuable insight into how the Great War was depicted in contemporary literature This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis The

Churchill, Francis Trevelyan Miller, 2016-03-10 This is the fourth volume in a wonderful series of publications covering the history of the First World War It includes the chapters Zeppelins Attack London The Battle of Verdun Bulgarian Attacks and many more and is perfect for anyone interested in the history of the conflict This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world's bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context George Guynemer, Knight of the Air (WWI Centenary Series) Henry Bordeaux, 2020-09-17 Originally published in 1918 this work describes the life of the French pilot and fighter ace George Guynemer The biography which I have attempted to write seeks the soul for its object rather than the motor and the soul too has its wings This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world's bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context Reading in the Great War, 1917~1919 David Bilton, 2016-10-19 Reading in the Great War 1917 1919 looks at life in an important industrial and agricultural town in the south of England The book charts the changes that occurred in ordinary people's lives some caused by the war some of their own doing On the surface Reading was a calm town that got on with its business beer biscuits metalwork seeds and armaments but its poverty impacted on industrial relations leading to strikes It was also a God fearing hard working and sober town However underneath it had a darker side all of it exposed in this book drunkenness desertion suicide child abuse murder double murder and underage sex it was all there happening when eyes were not watching This is a book about human relationships to each other and the outside world wars and all It is a telling account of the human tragedies and triumphs of a nation at war and the day to day preoccupations of community attempting to find normality in a reality so far removed from anything they had ever known Including over 100 unique and rarely seen illustrations and expertly written by a prolific author this is an enriching read for anybody wishing take a glimpse beneath the surface of life on Reading's Home Front Reading in the Great War, 1914-1916 David Bilton, 2016-03-31 How the experience of war impacted on the town from the initial enthusiasm for sorting out the German kaiser in time for Christmas 1914 to the gradual realization of the enormity of human sacrifice the families of

Reading were committed to as the war stretched out over the next four years A record of the growing disillusion of the people their tragedies and hardships and a determination to see it through Reading's experiences during the Great War can be taken as standing for the many smaller but important towns in the country whose story will never be told However being a county town it experienced both industrial and agrarian pressures that deeply affected its population Initially enthusiastic about the war recruitment soon dropped and the local regiment filled with men from the big cities By 1916 most of the eligible men were keen to find ways to stay out of the army In the centre of the town was the infamous Reading jail home to Irish dissidents terrorists and POWs On the surface it was a calm town that got on with its business beer biscuits metalwork seeds and armaments but its poverty impacted on industrial relations leading to strikes It also had a darker side with child cruelty and death especially suicide Imperial Culture in Antipodean Cities, 1880-1939 J. Griffiths, 2014-03-11 Drawing on a wealth of primary and secondary sources this book explores how far imperial culture penetrated antipodean city institutions It argues that far from imperial saturation the city Down Under was remarkably untouched by the Empire In the Shadow of the Great War Kirsty Bennett, Imogen Middleton, Michael Page, Juliet Warren, 2019-10-07 The military toll of World War I is widely known millions of Britons were mobilised many thousands killed or wounded and the landscape of British society changed forever But how was the conflict experienced by the people of Surrey on the home front Surrey Heritage's project Surrey in the Great War A County Remembers has over the four year centenary commemoration explored the wartime stories of Surrey's people and places The project's discoveries are here captured through text case studies and images This book chronicles the mobilisation of Surrey men the training of foreign troops in the county objection to military service defence against invasion voluntary work and fundraising the experiences of women and children shortages industrial supply to the armed forces and the commemoration of Surrey's dead Drawing heavily on the rich archives of Surrey Heritage it is an engaging exploration of a county in the shadow of the first globalised war between industrialised nations

Harrogate & Ripon in the Great War Stephen Wade, 2016-11-30 Harrogate and Ripon just a few miles apart in one of the most beautiful localities in Yorkshire have rarely had their contributions to the Great War told all together in one volume Stephen Wade has written an account of their importance from the Ripon camps where thousands of infantrymen for Kitcheners new Pals Battalions were trained to the many Harrogate hospitals where casualties were cared for Added to this are stories of local individuals at home and in the European theatre of war who played their part in this massive conflict Harrogate and Ripon made the usual contributions to the war effort raising money and making food but the local people experienced many of the significant Yorkshire events of the war such as the explosion at Barnbow munitions factory and the housing of Belgian refugees The book tells the stories of not only the heroes such as Betty Stevenson and Donald Bell VC but of the ordinary Yorkshire folk who endured the hardships and made great sacrifices The book provides ample evidence that Harrogate and Ripon along with their surrounding areas have a fine record for courage and determination during the First

World War Women and the Decade of Commemorations Oona Frawley, 2021-01-26 When women are erased from history what are we left with Between 1912 and 1922 Ireland experienced sweeping social and political change including the Easter Rising World War I the Irish Civil War the fight for Irish women's suffrage the founding of the Abbey Theatre and the passage of the Home Rule Bill In preparation for the centennial of this epic decade the Irish government formed a group of experts to oversee the ways in which the country would remember this monumental time Unfortunately the group was formed with no attempt at gender balance Women and the Decade of Commemorations edited by Oona Frawley highlights not only the responsibilities of Irish women past and present but it also privileges women's scholarship in an attempt to redress what has been a long standing imbalance For example contributors note the role of the Waking the Feminists movement which was ignited when in 2016 the Abbey Theater released its male dominated centenary program They also discuss the importance of addressing missing history and curating memory to correct the historical record when it comes to remembering revolution Together the essays in Women and the Decade of Commemorations consider the impact of women's unseen unsung work which has been critically important in shaping Ireland a country that continues to struggle with honoring the full role of women today A History of the 17th Aero Squadron - Nil Actum Reputans Si Quid Supereset Agendum, December, 1918 \(WWI Centenary Series\) Anon, 2021-01-08 This early work details the history of the 17th Aero Squadron during the First World War It includes information on their training and their combat operations and is a fascinating read for anyone interested in military aviation or the Great War in general This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry fiction autobiography and analysis The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the world's bloodiest wars offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context Historical Justice and History Education Matilda Keynes, Henrik Åström Elmersjö, Daniel Lindmark, Björn Norlin, 2021-07-21 This book explores how the expectations of historical justice movements and processes are understood within educational contexts particularly history education In recent years movements for historical justice have gained global momentum and prominence as the focus on righting wrongs from the past has become a feature of contemporary politics This imperative has manifested in globally diverse contexts including societies emerging from recent violent conflict but also established democracies which are increasingly compelled to address the legacies of colonialism slavery genocides and war crimes as well as other forms of protracted discord This book examines historical justice from an educational perspective exploring the myriad ways that education is understood as a site of historical injustice as well as a mechanism for redress The editors and contributors analyse the role of history education in processes of historical justice broadly exploring educational sites policies media and materials This edited collection is a unique and important touchstone volume for scholars policy makers practitioners and teachers that can guide future research policy and practice in the fields of historical justice human rights and history education

Commemorative Spaces of the First World War James Wallis, David C. Harvey, 2017-07-20 This is the first book to bring together an interdisciplinary theoretically engaged and global perspective on the First World War through the lens of historical and cultural geography Reflecting the centennial interest in the conflict the collection explores the relationships between warfare and space and pays particular attention to how commemoration is connected to spatial elements of national identity and processes of heritage and belonging Venturing beyond military history and memory studies contributors explore conceptual contributions of geography to analyse the First World War as well as reflecting upon the imperative for an academic discussion on the War's centenary This book explores the War's impact in more unexpected theatres blurring the boundary between home and fighting fronts investigating the experiences of the war amongst civilians and often overlooked combatants It also critically examines the politics of hindsight in the post war period and offers an historical geographical account of how the First World War has been memorialised within official spaces in addition to those overlooked and often undervalued alternative spaces of commemoration This innovative and timely text will be key reading for students and scholars of the First World War and more broadly in historical and cultural geography social and cultural history European history Heritage Studies military history and memory studies

Portraits of Battle Peter Farrugia, Evan J. Habkirk, 2021-04-01 All Canadians are taught about Vimy Ridge But that celebrated victory was just one battle among many to shape the country's experience of the First World War Portraits of Battle brings together biography battle accounts and historiographical analysis to examine the lives of a cross section of Canadians who served in the war Contributors to this thoughtful collection consider the range of Canadians touched by war soldiers and their loved ones deserters nurses Indigenous people those injured in body or mind raising fundamental questions about the nature of conflict and memory These portraits of the formerly faceless men and women honoured on war memorials fill in what is often missing from accounts of the Great War In the process they provide a more nuanced perspective on the complex legacy of that war in Canadian history

Roll of Honour Barry Blades, 2015-10-30 The Great War was the first Total War a war in which human and material resources were pitched into a life and death struggle on a colossal scale British citizens fought on both the Battle Fronts and on the Home Front on the killing fields of France and Flanders as well as in the industrial workshops of Blighty Men women and children all played their part in an unprecedented mobilisation of a nation at war Unlike much of the traditional literature on the Great War with its understandable fascination with the terrible experiences of Tommy in the Trenches Roll of Honour shifts our gaze It focuses on how the Great War was experienced by other key participants namely those communities involved in schooling the nation's children It emphasises the need to examine the myriad faces of war rather than traditional stereotypes if we are to gain a deeper understanding of personal agency and decision making in times of conflict and upheaval The dramatis personae in Roll of Honour include Head Teachers and Governors charged by the Government with mobilising their troops school masters whose enlistment conscription or conscientious objection to military service changed lives and career paths the temporary school mistresses who sought to demonstrate their interchangeability in male dominated institutions the school alumni who thought of school whilst knee deep in mud and finally of course the school children themselves whose campaigns added vital resources to the war economy These myriad faces existed in all types of British school from the elite Public Schools to the elementary schools designed for the country's poorest waifs and strays This powerful account of the Great War will be of interest to general readers as well as historians of military campaigns education and British society
