Transnationalism and Translation in Modern Chinese, English, French and Japanese Literatures Ryan

Johnson,2020-12-15 The theory of literary worlds has become increasingly important in comparative and world literatures But how are the often contradictory elements of Eastern and Western literatures to cohere in the new worlds such contact creates Drawing on the latest work in philosophical logic and analytic Asian philosophy this monograph proposes a new model of literary worlds that is best suited to comparative literature dealing with Western and East Asian traditions Unlike much discussion of world literature anchored in North American traditions featured here is the transnational work of artists philosophers and poets writing in English French Japanese and Mandarin in the twentieth century Rather than imposing sharp borders this book suggests that vague boundaries link Eastern and Western literary works and traditions and that degrees of distance can better help us to see the multiple dimensions that both distinguish and join together literary worlds East and West As such it enables us to grasp not only how East Asian and Western writers translate one another s works into their own languages and traditions but also how modern writers East and West modify their own traditions in order to make them fit in the new constellation of literary worlds brought about by the complex flow of literary information across twentieth century Eurasia Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle ,1864 A Translation of the Odes and Epodes of Horace into English verse. Attemped by T. Hare Horace,1737 Style and Ideology in Translation Jeremy Munday,2013-05-24 Adopting an interdisciplinary approach this book investigates the style or voice of English language translations of twentieth century Latin American writing The style of the different translators is subjected to a close linguistic investigation within their cultural and ideological framework The Academy and Literature ,1904 The Translation of Experience Ricarda

Vidal,Madeleine Campbell,2025-02-27 Experience is a multilayered cumulative affair with transformation at its core Its study a necessary first step for its translation requires an exploration of embodiment the senses and cultural and social environments The second of two volumes this book explores how artefacts as outcomes of experience brought about by the artisttranslator perform semiotic work This semiotic work arises through the intervention of their makers but also through their viewers audience often through the latter s direct participation in the artefacts creation which we see as an open ended process Drawing on diverse examples from across the world the chapters explore visual materiality the digital world and the multisensory nature of artefacts such as monuments festivals theatre performances artworks rituals the urban environment and human bodies the embodied perception of which may draw holistically or variously on the haptic olfactory auditory kinetic or kinaesthetic senses Throughout the book experiential translation is framed as a political endeavour that allows experience to be shared across linguistic cultural generational or gendered divides in the form of artefacts that facilitate transformation and the acquisition of knowledge This book and its companion volume The Experience of Translation Materiality and Play in Experiential Translation include an international range of contributions from graduate students and early career researchers ECRs to tenured academics in translation studies comparative literature performance arts fine arts media and cultural studies as well as educators artists and curators It will be of particular interest to translators and arts practitioners scholars and researchers in the transdisciplinary field of humanities The Literary Digest International Book Review Clifford Smyth,1923

Rhetorical Style Jeanne Fahnestock,2011-10-12 A comprehensive guide to the language of argument Rhetorical Style offers a renewed appreciation of the persuasive power of the English language Drawing on key texts from the rhetorical tradition as well as on newer approaches from linguistics and literary stylistics Fahnestock demonstrates how word choice sentence form and passage construction can combine to create effective spoken and written arguments With examples from political speeches non fiction works and newspaper reports Rhetorical Style surveys the arguer s options at the word sentence interactive and passage levels and illustrates the enduring usefulness of rhetorical stylistics in analyzing and constructing arguments The Atlantic Monthly ,1904
