Summary Circle of Helmets is a poignant and fascinating account of one infantryman's tour of duty in Vietnam during some of that war's heaviest fighting as told through first hand accounts written by that young soldier just hours after actual combat coupled with raw and intense poems about those battlefield experiences written by that same man some thirty years later Follow the author's journey from a brash inexperienced youth eager for his first combat mission to a seasoned hardened veteran striving to do his duty as a combat leader and come out alive Honest and powerful Circle of Helmets is a unique and very personal portrayal of combat in the Vietnam War and one man's efforts to face his memories of that war decades later Forget any other poetry books you have ever read this one unforgettable Inked: Tattoos and Body Art around the World Margo DeMello, 2014-05-30 In recent decades tattoos have gone from being a subculture curiosity in Western culture to mainstream and commonplace This two volume set provides broad coverage of tattooing and body art in the United States today as well as around the world and throughout human history In the 1960s tattooing was illegal in many parts of the United States Today tattooing is fully ingrained in mainstream culture and is estimated to be a multi billion dollar industry This exhaustive work contains approximately 400 entries on tattooing providing historical information that enables readers to fully understand the methods employed the meanings of and the motivations behind tattooing one of the most ancient ways humans mark themselves The encyclopedia covers all important aspects of the topic of tattooing the major types of tattooing the cultural groups associated with tattooing the regions of the world where tattooing has been performed the origins of modern tattooing in prehistory and the meaning of each society's use of tattoos Major historical and contemporary figures associated with tattooing including tattooists tattooed people and tattoo promoters receive due attention for their contributions The entries and sidebars also address the sociological movements involved with tattooing the organizations the media dedicated to tattooing such as television shows movies magazines websites and books and the popular conventions carnivals and fairs that have showcased tattooing Merchandise manual series , 1963 Chronophobia Pamela M. Lee, 2006-02-17 An examination of the pervasive anxiety about and fixation with time seen in 1960s art In the 1960s art fell out of time both artists and critics lost their temporal bearings in response to what E M Cioran called not being entitled to time This anxiety and uneasiness about time which Pamela Lee calls chronophobia cut across movements media and genres and was figured in works ranging from kinetic sculptures to Andy Warhol films Despite its pervasiveness the subject of time and 1960s art has gone largely unexamined in historical accounts of the period Chronophobia is the first critical attempt to define this obsession and analyze it in relation to art and technology Lee discusses the chronophobia of art relative to the emergence of the Information Age in postwar culture The accompanying rapid technological transformations including the advent of computers and automation processes produced for many an acute sense of historical unknowing the seemingly accelerated pace of life began to outstrip any attempts to make sense of the present Lee sees the attitude of 1960s art to time as a historical prelude to our current fixation on time and speed within digital culture Reflecting upon the 1960s cultural anxiety about temporality she argues helps us historicize our current relation to technology and time After an introductory framing of terms Lee discusses such topics as presentness with respect to the interest in systems theory in 1960s art kinetic sculpture and new forms of global media the temporality of the body and the spatialization of the visual image in the paintings of Bridget Riley and the performance art of Carolee Schneemann Robert Smithson's interest in seriality and futurity considered in light of his reading of George Kubler's important work The Shape of Time: Remarks on the History of Things and Norbert Wiener's discussion of cybernetics and the endless belaboring of the present in sixties art as seen in Warhol's Empire and the work of On Kawara Nation's Business, 1963-07 ABA Journal, 1958-08 The ABA Journal serves the legal profession Qualified recipients are lawyers and judges law students law librarians and associate members of the American Bar Association Microfiche 1969--a User Study Harold Wooster, 1969 U.S. House of Representatives Detailed Statement of Disbursements United States. Disrupting Copyright Margery Hilko, 2021-02-09 New innovations are created every day but today's business leaders are focused on finding disruptive innovations which are cheaper and lower performing than upmarket technologies They create new markets and challenge the status quo of existing technological thinking creating uncertainty both in the future of the innovation and the outcome of the market upheaval Disruptive innovation is an influential innovation theory in business but how does it affect the law Several of these technologies have brought new ways for individuals to deal with copyright works while disrupting existing market expectations while their ability to spawn social norms has presented challenges for legislation Considering disruptive innovation as a class this book examines innovations that have impacted copyright in the past what lessons can be learned from how the law interacted with them and how the law can successfully deal with them going forward Creating comprehensive guidance that can be used when faced with disruptive innovations with the aim of more successful legislation it considers whether copyright law itself has been disrupted through these innovations Exploring whether disruptive innovations as a class have unique properties that necessitate action by legislators and whether these properties have the possibility to disrupt the law itself this book theorises how the law should deal with disruptive innovations in general going beyond a discussion of the regulation of specific innovations to develop a framework for how law makers should deal with disruptive innovations when faced by one Aging, 1965
