Florida Preparing for FCAT Mathematics Kay Williams,2000 Handbook of Response to Intervention and Multi-Tiered Systems of Support Paige C. Pullen,Michael J. Kennedy,2018-10-04 Of the many issues facing special education and general education today it is difficult to imagine one more important or timely than response to intervention RTI Almost overnight RTI has become standard practice across the nation Unfortunately RTI remains ill defined falls far short of its evidence based practice goal is almost invariably misused and often results in more harm than good Nevertheless as a conceptual framework RTI has great potential for ensuring that students with disabilities receive appropriate evidence based instruction The mission of this handbook is to present a comprehensive and integrated discussion of response to intervention RTI and its relation to multi tiered systems of support MTSS in both special education and general education Although the two terms are currently used interchangeably distinct differences exist between them Therefore chapters are dedicated to distinguishing the two concepts RTI and MTSS and describing each one s unique role in both general and special education In addition the authors recommend a third term Multi Tiered Instruction to differentiate the practices related to the purpose of the specific intervention Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Juggling Flaming Chain Saws Joanne M. Marshall,Jeffrey S. Brooks,Kathleen M. Brown,Leslie Hazle Bussey,Bonnie Fusarelli,Catherine A. Lugg,Latish C. Reed,George Theoharis,Mark A. Gooden,2012-11-01 Challenges of work life balance in the academy stem from policies and practices which remain from the time when higher education was populated mostly by married White male faculty Those faculty were successful in their academic work because they depended upon the support of their wives to manage many of the not work aspects of their lives Imagine a tweedy middle aged white man coming home from the university to greet his wife and children and eat the dinner she s prepared for him and then disappearing into his study for the rest of the evening with his pipe to write and think great thoughts If that professor ever existed he is now emeritus

Juggling Flaming Chainsaws is the first book in a new series with Information Age Publishing on these challenges of managing academic work and not work. It uses the methodology of autoethnography to introduce the work life issues faced by scholars in educational leadership. While the experiences of scholars in this volume are echoed across other fields in higher education, educational leadership is unique because of its emphasis on preparing people for leadership roles within higher education and for preK-12 schools. Authors include people at different places on their career and life course trajectory, people who are partnered and single, gay and straight, with children and without, caring for elders and managing illness. They hail from different geographic areas of the nation, different ethnic backgrounds, and different types of institutions. What all have in common is commitment to engaging with this topic, to reflecting deeply upon their own experience, and to sharing that experience with the rest of us.

Quality Education as a Constitutional Right Theresa Perry, Robert P. Moses, Ernesto Cortes, Jr., Lisa Delpit, Joan T. Wynne, 2010-06-29. In 2005, famed civil rights leader and education activist Robert Moses invited one hundred prominent African American and Latino intellectuals and activists to meet to discuss a proposal for a campaign to guarantee a quality education for all children as a constitutional right, a movement that would transform current approaches to educational inequity, all of which have failed miserably to yield results for our children. The response was passionate, and the meeting launched a movement. This book, emerging directly from that effort, reports on what has happened since and calls for a new scale of organizing, legal initiatives, and public definitions of what a quality education is. Essays include Robert Moses's historically rooted call for citizens, especially young people, to make the demand for quality education; Ernesto Cortes's view from decades of work organizing Latino communities in Texas; Charles Payne's interview with students from the Baltimore Algebra Project who organized to make historic demands on their district; legal scholar Imani Perry's nuanced analysis of the prospects of making a case for quality education as a right guaranteed by the Constitution; Perspectives from scholars Lisa Delpit and Joan T. Wynne, and by teachers Alicia Carroll and Kim Parker who provide examples of what quality education is, describing its goal and how to guide practice in the meantime.

Transforming Public Education Stacey Childress, 2010. Transforming Public Education features nineteen cases that profile entrepreneurs who are pursuing opportunities to create pattern-breaking social change in our public schools. For nearly two decades, education entrepreneurs have been working to transform the K-12 public education system in the United States. Social entrepreneurship has become part of the language of a new generation of idealists, many of whom are focused on education. The nineteen cases in this book profile entrepreneurs who are pursuing opportunities to create pattern-breaking social change in our public schools, in particular by creating high-quality educational opportunities for low-income and minority students who are dramatically underserved by the current public education system. Based on a popular course developed and taught at the Harvard Business School, this casebook is organized into four modules: Understanding the Context of Urban Schooling in the United States; Tackling the People Problem; Focusing on Performance; Launching and Growing New Schools Students are invited to explore four overarching questions Why are there opportunities for entrepreneurs in a sector that is funded with public dollars and delivered by public agencies Why is entrepreneurial activity aggregating around certain opportunities What are the possibilities and constraints faced by entrepreneurs in each opportunity area How can we evaluate the impact of these entrepreneurs efforts Proceedings of the ...
