Answers to Chapter 6: Marketing

“Setting the scene” answers

1. Market research reports provide a business with lots of useful detail about the market they wish to enter, e.g. the number of customers, how often they make purchases and where, what sorts of prices they are prepared to pay, who the main competitors are etc. These reports would furnish the fashion retailer with a greater insight into the market in which they hope to operate.
2. Questions that a small fashion retailer might want to ask include:
 - (a) Are customers satisfied with the current range of shops supplying the fashion trade?
 - (b) What do shoppers feel is missing in terms of fashion clothes provision in the local market?
 - (c) How often do they make purchases, and how much do they spend on fashion items in a typical week?
 - (d) How much do they currently spend on specific fashion items?
 - (e) Would they be prepared to pay more for higher quality products?

These are examples of some of the questions that the retailer might want answering through market research. Asking a sample of the relevant population that the retailer is targeting will help the retailer to know whether it is worth entering the market, what section of the market to target, and how to adjust their business.

“Now try these” answers

6.1 Explain the concepts of markets and marketing

1. This will be unique for each student. An example might include: an electronics store, the local fruit and vegetable market, the market for train travel, the market for specialist foods, a souvenir shop, and the market for music lessons.
2. This will be unique for each student. Two products targeted at a mass market could be bananas and rice, as these are staple items that are often bought by the majority of the population. Two products targeted at a niche market could be certain video games and a certain style of shoe, as these are only bought by a small and specific section of the population.
3. This will be unique for each student.

6.2 Explain marketing activities

1. Answers will vary, but one example is to ask customers who have purchased the product from a local store to fill out a questionnaire.
2. This will be unique for each student.
3. This will be unique for each student.
4. Business in action: This will be unique for each student.

Virtual Principles in Aircraft Structures M. Gatewood,2012-12-06 The basic partial differential equations for the stresses and displacements in classical three dimensional elasticity theory can be set up in three ways 1 to solve for the displacements first and then the stresses 2 to solve for the stresses first and then the displacements and 3 to solve for both stresses and displacements simultaneously These three methods are identified in the literature as 1 the displacement method 2 the stress or force method and 3 the combined or mixed method Closed form solutions of the partial differential equations with their complicated boundary conditions for any of these three methods have been obtained only in special cases In order to obtain solutions various special methods have been developed to determine the stresses and displacements in structures The equations have been reduced to two and one dimensional forms for plates beams and trusses By neglecting the local effects at the edges and ends satisfactory solutions can be obtained for many case The procedures for reducing the three dimensional equations to two and one dimensional equations are described in Chapter 1 Volume 1 where the various approximations are pointed out pearsonitcertification.com Enterprise Security Architecture Using IBM Tivoli Security Solutions Axel Buecker, Ana Veronica Carreno, Norman Field, Christopher Hockings, Daniel Kawer, Sujit Mohanty, Guilherme Monteiro, IBM Redbooks, 2007-08-07 This IBM Redbooks publication reviews the overall Tivoli Enterprise Security Architecture. It focuses on the integration of audit and compliance, access control, identity management, and federation throughout extensive enterprise implementations. The available security product diversity in the marketplace challenges everyone in charge of designing single secure solutions or an overall enterprise security architecture. With Access Manager, Identity Manager, Federated Identity Manager, Security Compliance Manager, Security Operations Manager, Directory Server, and Directory Integrator, Tivoli offers a complete set of products designed to address these challenges. This book describes the major logical and physical components of each of the Tivoli products. It also depicts several e-business scenarios with different security challenges and requirements. By matching the desired Tivoli security product criteria, this publication describes the appropriate security implementations that meet the targeted requirements. This book is a valuable resource for security officers, administrators, and architects who want to understand and implement enterprise security following architectural guidelines.

Law and Practice of Crowdfunding and Peer-to-Peer Lending in Australia, China and Japan Pelma

Rajapakse, Yinxu Huang, Hatsuru Morita, 2022-08-03 The revolution in financial technology FinTech has created many advancements in the lending and investment space across the world. Law and Practice of Crowdfunding and Peer to Peer Lending in Australia, China and Japan is a timely publication as FinTech grows up and moves into the mainstream of finance in the last decade. Financial services is a highly regulated industry as it is the lifeblood of a modern economy. Pelma Rajapakse, Hatsuru Morita, and Yinxu Huang have done very solid work, blazing a new trail in what is a new industry and how to regulate it properly instead of stifling innovation. They have carried out a deep exploration and a thorough compilation of research that will bring everyone up to date on what Australia, China, and Japan are planning and doing in the field of crowdfunding and peer-to-peer lending. In addition to peer-to-peer lending, the book focuses on laws and practices related to Central Bank digital currencies, cryptocurrency, Bitcoin, and Initial Coin Offerings (ICOs), which is very meaningful and forward-looking. The authors presented their thoughts in such clarity that even those who lack familiarity with Asia Pacific will see how FinTech was growing in various ways driven by different factors. For example, peer-to-peer lending in Japan is mostly for small and medium enterprises. It was popular in China but cracked down by the authorities for a few years. It provides an alternative fundraising channel for the capital market in Australia. We also see a set of regulatory approaches among jurisdictions. Some countries draft new regulations while others amend existing laws. The mechanism of the regulatory sandbox was introduced As we know one size does not fit all What kind of best practices or lessons learned can we apply to our own jurisdiction This book covers all available answers to date This volume speaks highly of the quality and foresight of Pelma Rajapakse and her co authors Doing Business on the Internet Fay Sudweeks, Celia T. Romm, 2012-12-06 FAY SUDWEEKS AND CELIA ROMM At the turn of the twenty first century global communication is changing the fabric of society at a rate never experienced before The Internet in particular has redrawn the map of global economy To be competitive in today's marketplace companies need to expand commercial activities beyond national borders The global network of electronic infrastructure has played a significant role in this expansion but the technology itself is not the factor driving the business revolution The changes are driven by the interaction of information technology and customer demand Customers are not only adapting to new technologies they are demanding more and more global competition Electronic commerce therefore is arguably the most important economic trend of our time Its presence on the Internet in particular is becoming crucial to the effective functioning of organisations especially in a world where companies need to deal with suppliers customers partners and their own units distributed across the world A global business industry created by the Internet is no longer a projected vision of technocrats it is a reality The Internet is already playing a significant role in determining corporate strategy and in creating values
