Geographies of New Femininities Nina Laurie, Claire Dywer, Sarah L. Holloway, Fiona Smith, 2014-06-03 Geographies of New Femininities examines the emergence of contemporary constructions of femininity in a global context It asks whether these femininities are new and suggests that current celebrations of diversity in the lived experience and performance of women's identities are largely Euro-centric. Through four in-depth case studies, Geographies of New Femininities illustrates how constructions of femininities across the world reflect gender inequalities embedded within global local geographies of social and economic change. The analysis brings together key themes in geography and feminist studies showing how globalisation and the fracturing of identities are influencing research on gender. Throughout the book, the authors explore spaces of opportunity and oppression for women and highlight the geographies associated with the negotiation of gender identities. Geographies of New Femininities moves between empirical and theoretical debate using first-hand accounts to work through methodological issues relating to gender and geography. It is deliberately written in an accessible style to encourage students to engage with up-to-date research on gender. Hearings

The activist and author of A People's History of the United States records an in-depth and personal account of the Civil Rights Movement in Atlanta. During the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s, students of Spelman College, a black liberal arts college for women, were drawn into the historic protests occurring across Atlanta. At the time, Howard Zinn was a history professor at Spelman and served as an adviser to the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Zinn mentored many of Spelman's students fighting for civil rights at the time, including Alice Walker and Marian Wright Edelman. Zinn's involvement with the Atlanta student movement and his closeness to Spelman's leading activists gave him an insider's view of the political and intellectual world of Spelman College, Atlanta University, and the SNCC. He recorded his many insights and observations of the time in his Spelman College diary. Robert Cohen presents Zinn's diary in full along with a thorough historical overview and helpful contextual notes. It is a fascinating historical document of the free speech, academic freedom, and student rights battles that rocked Spelman and led to Zinn's dismissal from the college in 1963 for supporting the student movement. Congressional Record United States.

The Ohio Teacher ,1907 Abortion Policy and Christian Social Ethics in the United States Mako A.

Nagasawa,2021-01-06 Today s Christian pro life movement has misplaced its priorities The issue of abortion is more complex than the movement often appreciates For a start Scripture is less clear about the moral weight of the fetus than we often think In fact early Christians took different positions on abortion because they also relied on different scientific sources about the unborn Furthermore Christian conservatives today do not acknowledge that in American history as today Christian stances on abortion were motivated by other political fears White Protestant Americans developed different state laws on abortion to accomplish anti immigrant goals in the North but anti black racism in the South That messiness impacts U S constitutional law including Roe v Wade Meanwhile Scripture commissions God s people to confront socio economic factors that push abortion rates higher male privilege and the disempowerment of women the high cost of child raising the causes of birth defects the desire to care narrowly for just my children mistaken views about contraception and the culture wars and most of all poverty This book incorporates biblical studies church history science social science history and public policy to argue that we must not approach abortion policy primarily from a criminal justice standpoint as modern conservatives do but from a broad social and economic standpoint meant to benefit and bless all children
