parenting responsibilities all by themselves What Doesn't Kill You An Anthology of YA Short Fiction features two time National Book Award Finalist Eliot Schrefer as well as Scholastic PUSH author Matthue Roth among a group of two dozen distinguished writers from all over the United States and Canada who claim to have survived the harrowing passage of their teenage years but sometimes just barely They hope these stories will help you survive too since they know being a teenager often feels like an impossible task like it's trying to kill you for no apparent reason If you've ever felt like the world's out to get you then this book's for you The Science Teacher, 2006 High Points in the Work of the High Schools of New York City New York (N.Y.). Board of Education, 1965 The Biologist, 1929 Pathways to Thinking Schools David N. Hyerle, Larry Alper, 2014-03-19 Give students the essential thinking skills they need to thrive Exclusively content focused teaching may improve test scores but it leaves students without the cognitive skills for success in an information overloaded world where deep thinking collaborative problem solving and emotional intelligence is essential In this book David Hyerle presents case studies of schools and educators who have applied these powerful models in some case system wide to remedy this situation including Visual learning tools including Hyerle's renowned Thinking Maps A language for students to improve their intellectual emotional behaviors as they learn A system for developing students abilities to ask questions in the context of a developing Community of Inquiry New Technical Books New York Public Library, 1925 The Redshirt Corey Sobel, 2020-10-13 Finalist for the Center for Fiction's First Novel Prize IPPY Gold Medal for LGBT Fiction Selected for NPR's Books We Love LitHub's Best Books of 2020 You Might Have Missed Foreword Reviews Editor's Pick and Book of the Day Roundup 10 Things to Tell You's Best Book of the Year Corey Sobel challenges tenacious stereotypes in this compelling debut novel shedding new light on the hypermasculine world of American football The Redshirt introduces Miles Furling a young man who is convinced he was placed on earth to play football Deep in the closet he sees the sport as a means of gaining a permanent foothold in a culture that would otherwise reject him Still Miles's body lags behind his ambitions and recruiters tell him he is not big enough to compete at the top level His dreams come true when a letter arrives from King College The elite southern school boasts one of the best educations in America and one of the worst Division One football programs King football is filled with obscure ignored players like Miles which is why he and the sports world in general are shocked when the country's top recruit Reshawn McCoy also chooses to attend the college As brilliant a student as he is a player the intensely private Reshawn refuses to explain why he chose King over other programs Miles is as baffled as everyone else and less than thrilled when he winds up rooming with the taciturn Reshawn Initially at odds with each other the pair become confidants as the win at all costs program makes brutal demands on their time and bodies When their true selves and the identities that have been imposed on them by the game collide both young men are forced to make life changing choices Civic Engagement Pedagogy in the Community College: Theory and Practice Emily Schnee, Alison Better, Martha Clark Cummings, 2015-11-19 This book will help post secondary educators to discover the joys and challenges of implementing theoretically grounded civic engagement projects on their campuses The essays on civic engagement and public scholarship are written by an interdisciplinary group of community college faculty who have designed and implemented civic engagement projects in their classrooms The projects they describe stand at the intersection of research theory and pedagogy They challenge dominant constructions of civic engagement as students bring their community culture and history into the classroom The authors consider the particular complexities and constraints of doing civically engaged teaching and scholarship at the community college level and situate their projects within current theoretical debates about civic engagement public scholarship and public higher education
