

Hysterically and With Great Relief

Questions on Part Three of Act One of The Crucible by Arthur Miller ANSWER KEY

1. How does Miller characterize Reverend Hale?

He says that Hale looks like "a young doctor on his first call," and "He looks himself stirred with the best minds of Europe.... His goal is right, goodness, and its preservation" and he is ready for "a bloody fight with the fiend himself." In other words, he sees himself as ready, willing, and able to do battle with evil and make the world a better place.

2. Why does Hale say that he recognizes Rebecca even though they have never met?

He says, "I suppose you look as such a good soul should. We have all heard of your great charities in Beverly." Her reputation as someone who does good things has preceded her, and he believes that her goodness shows on the outside.

3. How does Proctor show that he is suspicious of those who believe in witchcraft?

He says to Hale that he has heard that he is sensible and that he hopes that he'll "leave some of it to others." In other words, he suggests that sensible people don't believe in witchcraft, and he feels that sense is lacking in his village.

4. How does Hale establish his authority?

He asks questions of everyone in the room, gathering evidence to help him figure out the causes of the illness. He acts confident that he will find answers and defeat evil, saying, "I have no fear now—we shall find him out if he has come among us, and I mean to strike him utterly if he has shown his face!"

5. How does Rebecca show that she doesn't approve of what's going on?

She says, "I think I'll go, then. I'm too old for this" when Hale talks about ripping flesh from the devil's grip.

6. Why is Giles suspicious of his wife?

He is suspicious because she made books and she is a woman.

7. What does this tell you about the kind of woman that might have been accused of witchcraft?

This suggests that women who are educated or prevented in any way might have been accused of witchcraft, especially by those who were too ignorant to understand why they were doing.

8. Why does Hale say that the devil has chosen Betty?
