Traube, 2019-06-20 The key question for many anthropologists and historians today is not whether to cross the boundary between their disciplines but whether the idea of a disciplinary boundary should be sustained Reinterpreting the dynamic interplay between archive and field these essays propose a method for mutually productive crossings between historical and ethnographic research It engages critically with the colonial pasts of indigenous societies and examines how fieldwork and archival studies together lead to fruitful insights into the making of different colonial historicities Timor Leste's unusually long and in some ways unique colonial history is explored as a compelling case for these crossings Cultural Turns Doris Bachmann-Medick, 2016-01-15 The contemporary fields of the study of culture the humanities and the social sciences are unfolding in a dynamic constellation of cultural turns This book provides a comprehensive overview of these theoretically and methodologically groundbreaking reorientations It discusses the value of the new focuses and their analytical categories for the work of a wide range of disciplines In addition to chapters on the interpretive performative reflexive postcolonial translational spatial and iconic turns it discusses emerging directions of research Drawing on a wealth of international research this book maps central topics and approaches in the study of culture and thus provides systematic impetus for changed disciplinary and transdisciplinary research in the humanities and beyond e.g. in the fields of sociology economics and the study of religion This work is the English translation by Adam Blauhut of an influential German book that has now been completely revised It is a stimulating example of a cross cultural translation between different theoretical cultures and also the first critical synthesis of cultural turns in the English speaking world Following Father Chiniquy Caroline Brettell, 2015-06-05 4 From First to Second Generation Demography Economy and Society of the French Canadian Immigrants 1860 1900 5 Disputes and Social Boundaries 6 The Miracles of St Anne The Historical Origins and Meaning of a Religious Pilgrimage God Is Samoan Matt Tomlinson, 2020-03-31 Christian theologians in the Pacific Islands see culture as the grounds on which one understands God In this pathbreaking book Matt Tomlinson engages in an anthropological conversation with the work of contextual theologians exploring how the combination of Pacific Islands culture and Christianity shapes theological dialogues Employing both scholarly research and ethnographic fieldwork the author addresses a range of topics from radical criticisms of biblical stories as inappropriate for Pacific audiences to celebrations of traditional gods such as Tagaloa as inherently Christian figures This book presents a symphony of voices engaged critical prophetic from the contemporary Pacific's leading religious thinkers and suggests how their work articulates with broad social transformations in the region Each chapter in this book focuses on a distinct type of culturally driven theological dialogue One type is between readers and texts in which biblical scholars suggest new ways of reading and even rewriting the Bible so it becomes more meaningful in local terms A second kind concerns the state of the church and society For example feminist theologians and those calling for prophetic action on social problems propose new conversations about how people in Oceania should navigate difficult times A third kind of discussion revolves around identity emphasizing what makes Oceania unique and culturally coherent A fourth addresses the problems of climate change and environmental degradation to sacred lands by encouraging eco theological awareness and interconnection Finally many contextual theologians engage with the work of other disciplines prominently anthropology as they develop new discourse on God people and the future of Oceania Contextual theology allows people in Oceania to speak with God and fellow humans through the idiom of culture in a distinctly Pacific way Tomlinson concludes however that the most fruitful topic of dialogue might not be culture but rather the nature of dialogue itself Written in an accessible engaging style and presenting innovative findings this book will interest students and scholars of anthropology world religion theology globalization and Pacific studies Conventional Gestures Richard L Epstein, Alex Raffi, 2018-11-05 Conventional gestures are those movements we make such as waving hello and shaking hands that are part of a learned shared symbolic system In this book Richard L Epstein working with the illustrator Alex Raffi examines how such gestures mean and how we can study them Drawing on their collection of over 400 American gestures available on the Advanced Reasoning Forum website they examine problems of methodology and the nature of gestures in relation to the work of others who have studied and collected gestures from various cultures An extensive annotated bibliography describes and comments on virtually all known collections of conventional gestures interaction Markku Haakana, Minna Laakso, Jan Lindström, 2009-01-01 During the recent decades Conversation Analysis has developed into a distinctive method for analyzing talk in interaction The method is utilized in several disciplines sharing an interest in social interaction like anthropology linguistics social psychology and sociology and it has been applied to a great variety of languages and types of interaction Conversation Analysis then is coming of age as a truly comparative enterprise This volume presents and discusses comparative approaches to analyzing interactional practices and structures The contributors to the volume have their background in sociology linguistics and logopedics.
