1988 I Want To Talk With The World:

Rebel Men Pamela Hunt, 2022-05-10 Masculinity fast changing and regularly declared to be in the throes of crisis is attracting more popular and scholarly debate in China than ever before At the same time Chinese literature since 1989 has been characterized as brimming with countercultural attitude This book probes the link between literary rebellion and manhood in China showing how as male writers critique the outcomes of decades of market reform they also ask the same question how best to be a man in the new postsocialist order In this first full length discussion of masculinity in post 1989 Chinese literature Pamela Hunt offers a detailed analysis of four contemporary authors in particular Zhu Wen Feng Tang Xu Zechen and Han Han In a series of insightful readings she explores how all four writers show the same preoccupation with the figure of the man on the edges of society Drawing on longstanding Chinese and global models of maverick as well as marginal masculinity and responding to a desire to retain a measure of masculine authority their characters all engage in forms of transgression that still rely heavily on heteronormative and patriarchal values Rebel Men argues that masculinity so often overlooked in literary analysis of contemporary China continues to be renegotiated debated and agonized over and is ultimately reconstructed as more powerful than before An exceptionally lucid elegant study of masculinity in mainland Chinese fiction of the 1990s and 2000s Both historically and theoretically informed Rebel Men Masculinity and Attitude in Postsocialist Chinese Literature offers a major new perspective on post 1989 Chinese counterculture Julia Lovell Birkbeck University of London

Common Worlds and Single Lives Verena Keck, 2020-08-20 In Pacific societies local knowledge which has been accumulated over thousands of years and is irreplaceable is rapidly disappearing With the extinction of languages the ability to observe and interpret the world from varying perspectives is also being lost At the same time an enormous body of knowledge about nature plants and animals is vanishing However in parallel with this the people of the Pacific are confronted with new modes of knowledge and newly introduced technologies through imported educational systems missions of various denominations and the media They do not passively assimilate this knowledge but adopt adapt and apply it in a syncretistic way These changes will have permanent effects on the individual lives of people in the region and their knowledge about themselves and their surrounding world This stimulating book tracks the course of these developments and offers revealing insights into the complexity of Pacific peoples responses to the process of globalization

Exploring Emotions, Aesthetics and Wellbeing in Science Education Research Alberto Bellocchi, Cassie Quigley, Kathrin Otrell-Cass, 2016-10-19 This book addresses new research directions focusing on the emotional and aesthetic nature of teaching and learning science informing more general insights about wellbeing It considers methodological traditions including those informed by philosophy sociology psychology and education and how they contribute to our understanding of science education In this collection the authors provide accounts of the underlying ontological epistemological methodological perspectives and theoretical assumptions that inform their work and that of others Each chapter provides a perspective on the study of emotion aesthetics or wellbeing using empirical examples or a discussion of existing literature to unpack the theoretical and philosophical traditions inherent in those works This volume offers a diverse range of approaches for anyone interested in researching emotions aesthetics or wellbeing It is ideal for research students who are confronted with a cosmos of research perspectives but also for established researchers in various disciplines with an interest in researching emotions affect aesthetics or wellbeing Violence, the Arts, and Willa Cather Joseph R.

The Need for Revision David P. Owen, Jr., 2012-01-01 Can we have more teacher intellectuals in our classrooms This book demonstrates that we can But many things have to change before intellectual standards appear again in public schools David Owen attempts to show but not in outline form how we can revise our schools Can we escape the rut in which public education finds itself dominated by the inane tests the stifling reduction of school to job training and the insane transformation of a life affirming odyssey of the mind to cliché information gathering and slogans We can reclaim the beauty of an education if we join David and revise our classrooms Education is uncertain risky wonderfully adventurous yet schooling has become stale No tediously dreadful There is a need to revise Reject standardized tests Repeal pay for performance Eject No Child Left Behind before no child has a thoughtful mind left It is time to revise and David's book explains why Are we still interested in the mind soul and substance of the individual Does it matter who we are and become or just what we do If these questions still matter dwell carefully with David's ideas and transform yourself your students school community state nation and world It is time to revise them all John A Weaver Georgia Southern University
