This volume focuses on three artists who embrace media and technology as essential elements of their theatrical expression Elizabeth LeCompte Ping Chong and Robert Lepage Diverse in their aesthetic interests they nevertheless share an approach to directing that includes technological media on stage as central to a rigorously crafted production concept Technological elements live alongside and negotiate with the theatre's human players disclosing shaping and even intruding on the dramas they enact The essays in this volume explore how all three directors have provided decisive responses to a question that has dogged the theatre for at least the last century what relationship can theatre an art form grounded in live ephemeral expression have to technology The Great North American Stage Directors series provides an authoritative account of the art of directing in North America by examining the work of twenty four major practitioners from the late 19th century to the present Each of the eight volumes examines three directors and offers an overview of their practices theoretical ideas and contributions to modern theatre The studies chart the life and work of each director placing his or her achievement in the context of other important theatre practitioners and broader social history Written by a team of leading experts the series presents the genealogy of directing in North America while simultaneously chronicling crucial trends and championing contemporary interpretation
