An Angel Behind Black Curtains:

Behind the Dark Curtain Adam Gibson, 2005-06 A century of lies have brought upon this dark day only a few knew it was coming and those few are marked for death A century old conspiracy is about to be unveiled on a hot august summer day in the windy city of Chicago The stage has been set all the evidence is there but time may be running out A dark horde of men in black trench coats lurk in the shadows A hideously deformed man has evil plans a schizophrenic security guard with constant visions of the horror he witnessed as a child may hold the key and a tragic bombing of thousands has thrown the nation into a tail spin Have the myths all been true Do they exist Why have they been kept secret all these years One man must face his deepest fears and journey deep into his dark forgotten past Betrayal and deceit surround him at every corner All that he held true has been a lie And death will become his only welcome friend Now he must face his ultimate challenge before it is too late but first he must realize the fate of humanity rests in his own blood soaked hands The Black Curtain

Irwin, 2006-10-25 The noted literary critic delves into the psychology and significance of American hardboiled crime fiction and film noir of the 1930s and 40s Early in the twentieth century American crime novelists like Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler put forward a new kind of character the hard boiled detective as exemplified by Sam Spade in The Maltese Falcon Unlike the analytical detectives of nineteenth century fiction these new detectives encountered cases not as intricate logical puzzles but as stark challenges of manhood John T Irwin explores how the stories of these characters grapple with ideas of American masculinity Professional codes are pitted against personal desires resulting in either ruinous relationships or solitary integrity In thematic conflicts between independence and subordination all notions of manly independence prove subordinate to the hand of fate Tracing the stylistic development of the genre Irwin demonstrates the particular influence of the novel of manners especially the writing of F Scott Fitzgerald He also shows that as hard boiled fiction began to appear on the screen in film noir it took on themes of female empowerment just as women entered the workforce in large numbers Finally he discusses how these themes persist in contemporary dramatic series on television representing the conflicted lives of Americans into the twenty first century Book Lust Nancy Pearl,2009-09-29 What to read next is every book lover s greatest dilemma Nancy Pearl comes to the rescue with this wide ranging and fun guide to the best reading new and old Pearl who inspired legions of litterateurs with What If All name the city Read the Same Book has devised reading lists that cater to every mood occasion and personality These annotated lists cover such topics as mother daughter relationships science for nonscientists mysteries of all stripes African American fiction from a female point of view must reads for kids books on bicycling chick lit and many more Pearl s enthusiasm and taste shine throughout Vinyl Moon Mahogany L. compulsively engaging area of Hollywood cultural production Krutnik recasts the films within a generic framework and draws on recent historical and theoretical research to examine both the diversity of film noir and its significance within American popular culture of the 1940s He considers classical Hollywood cinema debates on genre and the history of the emergence of character in film noir focusing on the hard boiled crime fiction of Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler and James M Cain as well as the popularisation of Freudian psychoanalysis and the social and cultural upheavals of the 1940s The core of this book however concerns the complex representation of masculinity in the noir tough thriller and where and how gender interlocks with questions of genre Analysing in detail major thrillers like The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Out of the Past and The Killers alongside lesser known but nonetheless crucial films as Stranger on the Third Floor Pitfall and Dead Reckoning Krutnik has produced a provocative and highly readable study of one of Hollywood most perennially fascinating groups of films
