Daniel Adrian Doss, William H. Sumrall III, David H. McElreath, Don W. Jones, 2013-10-28 From small law offices to federal agencies, all entities within the justice system are governed by complicated economic factors and face daily financial decision making. A complement to Strategic Finance for Criminal Justice Organizations, this volume considers the justice system from a variety of economic and financial perspectives and introduces quantitative methods designed to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of organizations in both the non-profit and for-profit sectors. Using only a minimum of theory, Economic and Financial Analysis for Criminal Justice Organizations demonstrates how to make decisions in the justice system using multiple financial and economic models.

Designed for readers with little knowledge of advanced mathematics, quantitative analysis, or spreadsheets, the book presents examples using straightforward step-by-step processes with Excel and Linux Calc spreadsheet software. A variety of different types of decisions are considered, ranging from municipal bond issuance and valuation necessary for public revenues, pension planning, capital investment, determining the best use of monies toward construction projects and other resource planning, allocation, and forecasting issues. From municipalities and police departments to for-profit prisons and security firms, the quantitative methods presented are designed to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of all organizations in the justice domain.

The Politics of International Criminal Law Holly Cullen, Philipp Kastner, Sean Richmond, 2020-12-15 The Politics of International Criminal Law is an interdisciplinary collection of original research that examines the often noted but understudied political dimensions of International Criminal Law (ICL). As a nascent legal regime that seeks to regulate the longstanding power of states to manage war and crime, ICL faces challenges to its legitimacy including disagreement over its aims and effectiveness, inequality in the work of its institutions and opposition from dominant countries. The editors bring together eleven senior and emerging scholars and practitioners from Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and North America to analyse these challenges from an illuminating range of theoretical and empirical perspectives. Taken together, the collection ultimately helps advance our understanding of the particularly charged relationship between law and politics in ICL.

Law, Courts, and Justice in America Howard Abadinsky, 2014-05-01 Faculty praised each of the previous six editions of Howard Abadinsky's clear, comprehensive overview of the US legal system. His latest edition, Law, Courts, and Justice in America, previously Law and Justice, represents a refined, updated synthesis of the complex, fluid justice system in the United States. Part I, Law, describes the history of the US justice system and the emergence of law schools, the realities of a law school education and the current state of the legal profession for both women and men. Part II, Courts, unravels the structure of federal and state court systems, delineating differences between constitutional and legislative courts and between trial and appellate courts, the structure and purpose of appellate courts and the Supreme Court, noting variations in the interpretation of statutes, the Constitution and the original intent of legislators and the roles of judges, prosecutors and attorneys. Part III, Justice, demystifies the criminal, civil and juvenile judicial processes, plea bargaining and the controversies surrounding it and adjudication options outside of traditional adversarial legal venues. Throughout, landmark cases, important historical events, illustrative examples and boxed items highlight or expand chapter content.
