Behl,2016-07-01 The encounter between Muslim and Hindu remains one of the defining issues of South Asian society today It began as early as the 8th century and the first Muslim kingdom in India the Sultanate of Delhi was established at the end of the 12th century This power eventually reduced to vassalage almost every independent kingdom on the subcontinent In Love s Subtle Magic a remarkable and highly original book Aditya Behl uses a little understood genre of Sufi literature to paint an entirely new picture of the evolution of Indian culture during the earliest period of Muslim domination These curious romantic tales transmit a profound religious message through the medium of adventurous stories of love Although composed in the Muslim courts they are written in a vernacular Indian language and involve Hindu yogis Hindu princes and princesses and Hindu gods Until now they have defied analysis Behl shows that the Sufi authors of these charming tales sought to convey an Islamic vision via an Indian idiom They thus constitute the earliest attempt at the indigenization of Islamic literature in an Indian setting More important however Behl s analysis brilliantly illuminates the cosmopolitan and composite culture of the Sultanate India in which they were composed This in turn compels us completely to rethink the standard of the opposition between Indian Hindu and foreign Muslim and recognize that the Indo Islamic culture of this era was already significantly Indian in many important ways Medieval Iberia Olivia Remie Constable,Damian Zurro,2012 For some historians medieval Iberian society was one marked by peaceful coexistence and cross cultural fertilization others have sketched a harsher picture of Muslims and Christians engaged in an ongoing contest for political religious and economic advantage culminating in the fall of Muslim Granada and the expulsion of the Jews in the late fifteenth century The reality that emerges in Medieval Iberia is more nuanced than either of these scenarios can comprehend Now in an expanded second edition this monumental collection offers unparalleled access to the multicultural complexity of the lands that would become modern Portugal and Spain The documents collected in Medieval Iberia date mostly from the eighth through the fifteenth centuries and have been translated from Latin Arabic Hebrew Judeo Arabic Castilian Catalan and Portuguese by many of the most eminent scholars in the field of Iberian studies Nearly one quarter of this edition is new including visual materials and increased coverage of Jewish and Muslim affairs as well as more sources pertaining to women social and economic history and domestic life This primary source material ranges widely across historical chronicles poetry and legal and religious sources and each is accompanied by a brief introduction placing the text in its historical and cultural setting Arranged chronologically the documents are also keyed so as to be accessible to readers interested in specific topics such as urban life the politics of the royal courts interfaith relations or women marriage and the family Reference Manual ,2007

Waqf in Central Asia R. D. McChesney,2014-07-14 Waqfs or religious endowments have long been at the very center of daily Islamic life establishing religious cultural and welfare institutions and serving as a legal means to keep family property intact through several generations In this book R D McChesney focuses on the major Muslim shrine at Balkh once a flourishing city on an ancient trade route in what is now northern Afghanistan and provides a detailed study of the political economic and social conditions that influenced and were influenced by the development of a single religious endowment. From its founding in 1480 until 1889 when the Afghan government took control of it, the waqf at Balkh was a formidable economic force in a financially dynamic region, particularly during those times when the endowment's sacred character and the tax privileges it acquired gave its managers considerable financial security. This study sheds new light on the legal institution of waqf within Muslim society and on how political conditions affected the development of socio-religious institutions throughout Central Asia over a period of four hundred years.
