publicized race to the South Pole and aviators like Clarence Ellsworth and Richard Byrd flying over great stretches of undiscovered land Yet Antarctica is also the story of nations seeking to incorporate the Antarctic into their national narratives and to claim its frozen wastes as their own As Day shows in a place as remote as Antarctica claiming land was not just about seeing a place for the first time or raising a flag over it it was about mapping and naming and more generally knowing its geographic and natural features And ultimately after a little known decision by FDR to colonize Antarctica claiming territory meant establishing full time bases on the White Continent The end of the Second World War would see one last scramble for polar territory but the onset of the International Geophysical Year in 1957 would launch a cooperative effort to establish scientific bases across the continent And with the Antarctic Treaty science was in the ascendant and cooperation rather than competition was the new watchword on the ice Tracing history from the first sighting of land up to the present day Antarctica is a fascinating exploration of this deeply alluring land and man's struggle to claim it The Annual Index to
