

My Basketball

by Radley

The team practice before the game

I came and did the jump ball and pass it to my teammate

I was very excited!

My teammate scored the first shot of the game.

The crowd shouting and clapping cheering for the team

I caught the rebound and got a bang with the ball on the forehead

I fell forward to the floor and took a break from the game.

My team was scoring a lot of points

The final score was 23-24

We won by one point

I was so excited when we won!

Line Basketball Poem:

Fast Break to Line Break Todd Davis, 2012-02-01 If baseball is the sport of nostalgic prose basketball's movement myths and culture are truly at home in verse In this extraordinary collection of essays poets meditate on what basketball means to them how it has changed their perspective on the craft of poetry how it informs their sense of language the body and human connectedness how their love of the sport made a difference in the creation of their poems and in the lives they live beyond the margins Walt Whitman saw the origins of poetry as communal oral myth making The same could be said of basketball which is the beating heart of so many neighborhoods and communities in this country and around the world On the court and on the page this poetry in motion can be a force of change and inspiration leaving devoted fans wonderstruck
