Passionate Commitments Julia M. Allen,2013-06-01 Developing their rhetorical skills in early twentieth century women s organizations Anna Rochester and Grace Hutchins life partners and heirs to significant wealth aimed for revolution rather than reform They lived frugally while devoting themselves to several organizations in succession including the Episcopal Church and the Fellowship of Reconciliation as they searched for a place where their efforts were welcomed and where they could address the root causes of social inequities In 1927 they joined the Communist Party USA and helped to build the Labor Research Association There they engaged in research and wrote books pamphlets and articles arguing for gender and racial equality and economic justice Julia M Allen s Passionate Commitments is a love story but more than that it is a story of two women whose love for each other sustained their political work Allen examines the personal and public writings of Rochester and Hutchins to reveal underreported challenges to capitalism as well as little known efforts to strengthen feminism during their time Through an investigation of their lives and writings this biography charts the underpinnings of American Cold War fears and the influence of sexology on political movements in mid twentieth century America

Congress. House. Committee on International Relations, 1977 International Law and the Use of Force Shirley V. Scott, Anthony John Billingsley, Christopher Michaelson, 2009-11-25 This book is a discussion of key documents that explain the development current status and relevance of the international law governing the initiation of military hostilities

International Law and the Use of Force A Documentary and Reference Guide brings to life a crucial body of law explaining its historical origins the core rules and principles of the regime embodied in the Charter of the United Nations and contentious aspects of that law in the contemporary world In light of the intensified interest in the question of justified or unjustified use of force this timely resource introduces and analyzes over 40 documents relating to the legality of the initiation of military hostilities The volume presents competing assessments of the legality of key uses of force and explains mainstream positions on important issues such as national right to self defense anticipatory and preemptive self defense terrorism aggression and the role of the UN Security Council The book concludes by assessing whether the international law that seeks to limit the number of wars has in fact made the world a more peaceful place Secrecy and Methods in Security Research Marieke De Goede, Esmé Bosma, Polly Pallister-Wilkins, 2019-08-13 This book analyses the challenges of secrecy in security research and develops a set of methods to navigate encircle and work with secrecy How can researchers navigate secrecy in their fieldwork when they encounter confidential material closed off quarters or bureaucratic rebuffs This is a particular challenge for researchers in the security field which is by nature secretive and difficult to access This book creatively assesses and analyses the ways in which secrets operate in security research The collection sets out new understandings of secrecy and shows how secrecy itself can be made productive to research analysis It offers students PhD researchers and senior scholars a rich toolkit of methods and best practice examples for ethically appropriate ways of navigating secrecy It pays attention to the balance between confidentiality and academic freedom and integrity The chapters draw on the rich qualitative fieldwork experiences of the contributors who did research at a diversity of sites for example at a former atomic weapons research facility inside deportation units in conflict zones in everyday security landscapes in virtual spaces and at borders bureaucracies and banks The book will be of interest to students of research methods critical security studies and International Relations in general The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license This Is Not My World Adair Rounthwaite, 2024-01-16 A close up history of the Yugoslav artists who broke down the boundaries between public and private In the decades leading up to the dissolution of socialist Yugoslavia a collective of young artists based in Zagreb took to using the city's public spaces as a platform for radical individual expression This Is Not My World presents a detailed account of the Group of Six Authors and their circle in the prolific and experimental period from 1975 to 1985 highlighting the friction between public and private that underlied their innovative practices Looking to circumvent the rigid bureaucracy of official art institutions this freewheeling group of conceptual artists and their peers brought artistic activities directly to an unwitting public by staging provocative performances exhibiting artworks and interacting with passersby on the streets Exploring artworks such as Vlasta Delimar's act of tying herself to a tree in a busy pedestrian area,eljko Jerman's production of a giant banner declaring Intimate Inscription in the city's central square and Vlado Martek's creation of an artwork on a seaside beach using women's underwear Adair Rounthwaite examines the work of these artists as a site of tension between the intimacy of artistic expression and the political structure of the public sphere under state socialism Whereas many histories of modern and contemporary art in formerly socialist countries tend to be dominated by discussions of ideology and resistance This Is Not My World focuses its attention on the affective aspects of the group's activities using artist interviews and extensive documentation to bring the reader closer to the felt experience of their public interventions Situating the group's work within the context of broader developments in conceptualism and theories of the avant garde Rounthwaite provides a fresh consideration and newly detailed account of this marginalized episode in global art history
