In step with the times

Over the years, its name has brought to mind a special kind of car, one that makes a statement about the person who chooses it — a personal car. The 1987 Thunderbird carries on that tradition using the science and technology of the eighties. Its distinctive shape is a masterful blend of functional design and sleek style. It's in step with the times.

Thoroughly efficient

Thunderbird's dynamic shape uses the air around it to improve handling as well as fuel economy.* Even the dual halogen headlights were designed with wind management in mind. It's equipped the way

Air conditioning, tinted glass and a self-regulating quartz electric clock are among the many Thunderbird standard features (see page 19 for a comprehensive list). The right car for the times is one that looks to the future. See your Ford Dealer for a test drive today.

Thunderbird Sport

The driving force of the Thunderbird Sport is its powerful 5.0 liter V-6 engine. Its handling suspension, too, is something special. The quadra-shock arrangement in the rear gives Sport a "car on rails" feel through turns. Special P215HR70 x 14 speed-rated, BSW handling tires are also standard.

Black accents and styled road wheels define Sport's exterior. Interior highlights include the electronic instrument cluster (described on page 19), individual seats with full console, a floor-mounted shift lever for the Automatic Overdrive transmission, a dual-note, sport-tuned horn, an electronic digital clock and the Light Group (dual beam map light, instrument panel courtesy lights and engine compartment light). Thunderbird Sport is more than fair; it's a comfortable, capable performer — V-8 style.
