Maberry, 1971 Transactions of the IRE Professional Group on Audio , 1953 Low Power Analog CMOS for Cardiac Pacemakers Fernando Silveira, Denis Flandre, 2013-03-09 Low Power Analog CMOS for Cardiac Pacemakers proposes new techniques for the reduction of power consumption in analog integrated circuits Our main example is the pacemaker sense channel which is representative of a broader class of biomedical circuits aimed at qualitatively detecting biological signals The first and second chapters are a tutorial presentation on implantable medical devices and pacemakers from the circuit designer point of view This is illustrated by the requirements and solutions applied in our implementation of an industrial IC for pacemakers There from the book discusses the means for reduction of power consumption at three levels base technology power oriented analytical synthesis procedures and circuit architecture Technical Manual , 1943 Telegraph Carrier Terminal AN/FGC-3, -7, and -8 , 1955 Fusion Technology 1980 Sam Stuart, 2013-10-22 Fusion Technology 1980 Volume 2 contains the proceedings of the 11th Symposium on Fusion Technology held at the Examination Schools Oxford UK on September 15 19 1980 As a continuation of the papers presented in the symposium the book begins with a description of the data acquisition and control in fusion technology Subsequent papers presented focus on power supplies plasma engineering and fusion materials Various reactor studies reported in the symposium are also shown Laser Spectroscopy Wolfgang Demtröder, 2013-06-29 The impact of lasers on spectroscopy can hardly be overestimated Lasers represent intense light sources with spectral energy densities which may exceed those of incoherent sources by several orders of magnitude Furthermore because of their extremely small bandwidth single mode lasers allow a spectral resolution which far exceeds that of conventional spectrometers Many experiments which could not be done before the application of lasers because of lack of intensity or insufficient resolution are readily performed with lasers Now several thousands of laser lines are known which span the whole spectral range from the vacuum ultraviolet to the far infrared region Of particular interest are the continuously tunable lasers which may in many cases replace wavelength selecting elements such as spectrometers or interferometers In combination with optical frequency mixing techniques such as continuously tunable monochromatic coherent light sources are available at nearly any desired wavelength above 100 nm IRE Transactions on Audio IRE Professional Group on Audio, 1954 Current topics in photosynthesis J. Ames, A.J. Hoff, H.J. van Gorkum, 2012-12-06

Four decades ago when Lou Duysens was about to start his work on fluorescence and energy transfer in photosynthesis that would lead to his thesis 1 very little was known about the molecular mechanisms of photosynthesis certainly from our present day point of view However this state of affairs would rapidly change in the ensuing years by the introduction of modern physical and biochemical techniques Especially the field of optical spectroscopy on which the work of Duysens had such a significant impact has proved to be one of the most fruitful techniques in the study of primary processes and electron transfer reactions in photosynthesis Duysens thesis established the role of energy transfer in photosynthesis and also showed for the first time the existence in photosynthetic bacteria of light induced absorbance changes of what is now known as the primary electron donor P 870 Subsequent studies by the same method demonstrated the photo oxidation of cytochromes both in bacteria 2 and in algae 3 4 and of the absorbance changes 3 that were later found to be due to electrochromic band shifts of antenna pigments Measurements of cytochrome kinetics in light of various wavelengths led to the concept of two photosystems in green plant photosynthesis 5 whereas a study of the factors affecting the fluorescence yield of chlorophyll gave the first information on the electron acceptor Q of photo system II 6 U.S. Geological Survey Professional Paper ,1971 Radio Sets SCR-608-A and SCR-628-A. ,1945 Popular Electronics ,1982 Geological Survey Professional Paper ,1971
