

Lesson Plan

Title: Seventh Grade Research Paper Project

Short Summary: Seventh grade students work in both geography and writing classes to create a research paper. The content (ideas and content) of the paper is based on the current geography unit, Latin America. Students do the researching in both writing and geography. Students then receive a grade in both classes for the paper.

Objectives: The overarching objective of this unit is for seventh graders to become familiar with the research paper process. Several other objectives include:

- Students will be able to take effective notes.
- Students will be able to identify 46 various geographical facts about a country.
- Students will be able to apply definitions of geographical terms when researching.
- Students will be able to utilize MLA form to create source and note cards.
- Students will be able to utilize their notes to create a well written research paper
- Students will be able to cite (document) their paper.
- Students will be able to create a bibliography and works cited page.

State Standards:

English/Language Arts: B.8.1, B.8.2, B.8.3, E.8.1, F.8.1
