

Sample Essay (800 words) For the assignment question and analysis, see Sample essay 1 Education means considerably more than just teaching a student to read, write, and manipulate numbers. Computers, the Internet, and advanced electronic devices are becoming essential in everyday life and have changed the way information is gathered. How this new technology is utilized in the curriculum and managed by teachers will have an important role to play in widening the resource and knowledge base for all students. Technology affects the way teachers teach and students learn. To make the best use of information technology (IT), schools need a workable plan to fully integrate it into all aspects of the curriculum so students are taught how, why, and when to use technology to further enhance their learning. If a school does not have a clear plan of how and why it wishes to implement IT, then it runs the risk of wasting money. In schools today, nearly all classrooms have access to a computer. However, many schools mistake this as incorporating information technology into the curriculum. School staff need to research what IT is available and what would best serve the school's purpose, not simply purchase the latest equipment. There should be a policy stating how IT is going to assist pupils' development and what teachers want pupils to achieve (Reksten, 2000). Staff members need to be clear about what they want IT to do for them before they can start incorporating it into their lessons. The only way information technology is going to be useful to schools is if all staff members are well-informed and fully supported. It is the principal's responsibility, and should be part of the school's plan, to ensure that all staff are consulted about the changes, and that the change is carefully organised. Some teachers may be resistant, especially if they have not had much experience with computers, so training teachers is essential in implementing IT into the school curriculum. Staff members must feel involved in the process of acquiring technology, and in learning how to operate it, in order for them to increase their confidence in using IT as a curriculum tool. Teachers are only going to be able to incorporate IT into their lessons if they are competent users themselves (Reksten, 2000). In addition, teachers need to be aware that IT within the classroom is extremely flexible, but that they need to plan what purpose IT serves in each lesson. The skills a child learns are the Comment [de1]: Structure: Introductions The essay begins with a general lead into the broad topic by indicating the inadequacy of traditional teaching alone. It sets up a problem that the essay will solve. See essay introduction.

Comment [de2]: Format: Spacing Essays are usually double-spaced or 1.5-line spaced. See formatting and layout.

Comment [de3]: Structure: Introductions The topic is narrowed by affirming the significance of IT for teachers and students.

Comment [de4]: Structure: Introductions The final sentence is the thesis statement. Notice how the beginning of the sentence is constructed to answer the essay question. It uses keywords from the question: "best use", "information technology".

Sociologists Angelique Harris,Alia Tyner-Mullings,2013-01-04 A writing guide designed for upper level sociology undergraduate students and graduate students this instructional text introduces students to the variety of writing projects that sociologists undertake while also providing instruction on grammar and composition It will provide students with practical knowledge concerning topics such as peer reviewed journal manuscripts book reviews grant proposals and field notes What makes this book unique is that it offers useful advice and instruction for sociology college students whether they plan on entering the academy or the private non profit or government sectors Writing for Emerging Sociologists uses writing as a tool to help students learn not only about sociology as a field of study but also the practice of sociology Author and Journalist ,1921 Airway to the East, 1918-1920 Clive Semple,2012-03-19 The origins of what became officially known as No 1 Aerial Route lay in the newly formed Royal Air Forces desire to move several squadrons of the then recently designed first heavy bomber to enter service the Handley Page O 400 to the war in the Middle East The aircraft had served on the Western Front with some success although not in the long range capacity During the spring of 1918 the Wing Commander of No 5 Wing Billy Borton requested that one of the HP O 400 aircraft be flown to Egypt This was approved by Major General Sir Frederick Sykes Before the flight could proceed a great deal of planning was required since the aircrafts maximum range was only 600 miles Several refueling and maintenance bases along the route were required When planned in 1918 the route was from Paris Lyons Istres Pisa Rome Barletta Taranto Athens Crete Mersa Matru and finally Cairo Each landing station would require fuel spares and communications and back up personnel On July 50 00 1918 a new HPO 400 set off from Manston in Kent with Borton and his pilot Major McLaren plus two crew After a comparatively trouble free flight the bomber arrived in Aboukir Alexandria on the evening of 7 August As a result the RAF decided to use this route to fly several squadrons of the Handley Page bombers shortly after the war had ended The Arab leaders had found out that the Allies promise that the captured Turkish lands would be returned to them was a duplicitous lie and that France and Great Britain would take control of the area This quite naturally lead to massive unrest and rioting throughout the middle eastern lands The bombers were needed to quell the rioting and sabotage that had broken out Thus on 3 May 1919 58 Squadron set off from France on No 1 Aerial Route It was a premature departure since many of the refueling airfields along the route were not prepared for there incoming customers Chaos ensued by 1 November Three Squadrons had been dispatched Of the 51 bombers sent only 26 had arrived ten were stuck en route and 15 had been written off as broken or lost at sea and 11 aircrew had perished This is the story of the development of the route It would eventually form the first stage of the Imperial Air Route to Australia The Inland Printer ,1920 The Writer ,1919 Literature and Society Pamela J.
