

FINAL EXAM US GLOBAL POLITICS

1. Please explain the difference between Obama and Trump foreign Policy in Middle East!
2. Why Joe Biden emphasizes Diplomacy at the forefront of US foreign policy?

Answer

1. If we look at the first term of the Obama administration, foreign policy served to restore the image of Washington in the world. Positive multilateral engagement of the Obama administration was expected to increase the profile of American leadership to engage regional and global issues. Positive directions were very certain to look forward the relations of the American government with Russia, the Middle East, Iran, the Islamic World, and other international cooperation on the Kyoto Treaty and CTBT. It was certain that the American government wasn't going to prefer unilateral initiatives. Instead, the proliferation of WMD would be the priority of the Obama administration. The relation between Russia was promised to reset and strengthen this option. Obama declared not to deploy a missile defense system in Poland and the Czech Republic. Despite some similarities about Iran policy, there was a difference in diplomatic style. United States government still, was against the Uranium enrichment of Iran to have nuclear capability but insisted that diplomatic option would be first and foremost to solve the problem with Tehran. Obama's Cairo speech was an important signal to the Islamic world that there would be no prejudice about Islam and no confusion Muslims with terrorists.

Obama also gave important messages about the two-state solution and in this regard the necessity of freezing settlements by Israel. Obama's approach to Syria as understood was different than Bush who refused diplomatic contact with Damascus in any way as well as with Hamas. Obama administration was expected to be willing to give an opportunity to Hamas at least unofficially to forward the establishment unity government in Palestine. Obama's Cairo speech was a good beginning for the Middle East policy because of the basic points that Obama underlined. He stated that America's strong bonds with Israel were well known. It was based upon cultural and historical ties and the recognition that the aspiration for a Jewish homeland was rooted in a tragic history that could not be denied. This bond was unbreakable. On the other hand, the situation for the Palestinian people was intolerable and America would not turn backs on the legitimate Palestinian aspiration. Aspirations could be met through two states, where Israelis and Palestinians would live in peace and security. Hamas must have put an end to violence, recognize past agreements, and recognize Israel's right to exist. The United States was not going to accept the legitimacy of continued Israeli settlements. This construction would continue
