Absent A Novel

Horacio Legrás

Absent A Novel:

Reclaiming Community in Contemporary African American Fiction Philip Page, 2011-08-19 As a reaction against persistent black exclusion from white American society the novels of recent African American writers boldly celebrate the heritage of black culture They acclaim a people once dispersed by racism and humiliation but now restoring its legacy of rich community life For close examination of this theme Philip Page brings together five novelists who are in the forefront of contemporary fiction and shows how their voices combine for an ongoing dialogue on the importance of community to the African American world Gaining its special force through addressing national concerns and through never backing away from the truth in the face of stubborn opposition the fiction of Gaines Naylor Johnson Cade Bambara and Wideman contributes to postmodernist debates on race the repressed past and the contemporary American conscience Circles of Sorrow, Lines of Struggle: The Novels of Toni Morrison Gurleen Grewal, 1998 The Self of the City Todd S. Garth, 2005 The Self of the City shows Macedonio's work to be a highly systematic effort to save the city from the ills of modernity Responding directly to the context of early twentieth century Buenos Aires Macedonio rejects modern culture as inherently paradoxical and pernicious hinging on the unsustainable fallacy of Descartes' autonomous self Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction Peter Ferry, 2014-08-21 Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction is an interdisciplinary study that presents masculinity as a key thematic concern in contemporary New York fiction This study argues that New York authors do not simply depict masculinity as a social and historical construction but seek to challenge the archetypal ideals of masculinity by writing counter hegemonic narratives Gendering canonical New York writers namely Paul Auster Bret Easton Ellis and Don DeLillo illustrates how explorations of masculinity are tied into the principal themes that have defined the American novel from its very beginning The themes that feature in this study include the role of the novel in American society the individual and urban society the journey from innocence to awareness of masculinity the archetypal image of the absent and or patriarchal father the impact of homosocial relations on the everyday performance of masculinity male sexuality and the male individual and globalization What connects these contemporary New York writers is their employment of the one of the great figures in the history of literature the fl neur These authors take the fl neur from the shadows of the Manhattan streets and elevate this figure to the role of self reflexive agent of male subjectivity through which they write counter hegemonic narratives of masculinity This book is an essential reference for those with an interest in gender studies and contemporary American fiction Textual Translation and Live Translation Fernando Poyatos, 2008 After the many interdisciplinary perspectives on nonverbal communication offered by the author in his previous seven John Benjamins books which have generated a wide range of scholarly applications the present monograph is dominated by a very broad concept of translation This treatment of translation includes theater and cinema enriching our intellectual sensorial experience of both reading act and viewing act and offers among other topics sensorial intellectual emotional pre and post reading interactions with books mute or audible oralization of texts the translator's linguistic and nonverbal cultural fluency and implicit textual paralanguage and kinesics translating functions of pictorial illustrations the blind's text and film perception the foreign reader's cultural background and circumstances theater and cinema spectators total sensory intellectual experience of plays and films beyond staging or projection the multiple interrelationships between cinema and theater performers spectators and their environments of special interest to all those involved in the theater and the translator's challenging textual perception of sounds and movements Over 800 literary quotations and two virtually exhaustive English inventories of sound and movement denoting words with many examples offer serious students of translation language or literature a rich reference and drill source

The Fiction of Emyr Humphreys Linden Peach, 2011-01-15 For over half a century Emyr Humphreys's work as a novelist short story writer poet dramatist and television producer has been extraordinarily impressive This pioneering and stimulating book considers Humphreys's fiction from a range of contemporary critical perspectives and stresses its relevance to the 21st century Drawing on the work of leading modern cultural and literary theorists such as Jacques Derrida and Homi Bhabha psychoanalytic critics such as Melanie Klein and Jacqueline Rose and gender theorists such as Judith Butler Linden Peach brings fresh perspectives to the content structure and developing nature of Humphreys's work employing for example historicist post historicist new geography psychoanalytic and feminist and postfeminist frameworks Through detailed readings which highlight subjects such as gender identity contested masculinities war pacifism strangeness and otherness problematic father and daughter relationships and cultural discourse in complex linguistic environments Peach suggests that Humphreys's work is best understood as dramatic dissident and or dilemma fiction rather than by the term Protestant novelist which Humphreys used to describe himself at the outset of his career Stressing how Humphreys came to see himself as more of a protesting novelist Peach examines how the dilemmas around which his fiction is based originally linked to Humphreys's definition of himself as a protestant writer increasingly become sites in which controversial and often dark themes are explored This approach to Humphreys's work is pursued through exciting readings of some of Humphreys's best and lesser known works including A Man's Estate A Toy Epic Outside the House of Baal The Best of Friends salt of the Earth Unconditional Surrender The Gift of a Daughter Natives Ghosts and Strangers Old people are a Problem The shop and The Woman at the Window

Novels Behind Glass Andrew H. Miller, 1995-10-19 Drawing on work in critical theory feminism and social history this book traces the lines of tension shot through Victorian culture by the fear that the social world was being reduced to a display window behind which people their actions and their convictions were exhibited for the economic appetites of others Affecting the most basic elements of Victorian life the vagaries of desire the rationalisation of social life the gendering of subjectivity the power of nostalgia the fear of mortality the cyclical routines of the household the ambivalence generated by commodity culture organizes the thematic concerns of these novels and the society they represent Taking the commodity as their point of departure chapters on Thackeray Gaskell Dickens Eliot

Trollope and the Great Exhibition of 1851 suggest that Victorian novels provide us with graphic and enduring images of the power of commodities to affect the varied activities and beliefs of individual and social experience Criminal Femmes Fatales in American Hardboiled Crime Fiction Maysaa Husam Jaber, 2016-02-02 This book fills a gap in both literary and feminist scholarship by offering the first major study of femme fatales in hardboiled crime fiction Maysaa Jaber shows that the criminal literary figures in the genre open up powerful spaces for imagining female agency in direct opposition to the constraining forces of patriarchy and misogyny Absent Without Leave Heinrich Böll, 1995 Contains the novellas When the War Broke Out and When the War Was Over originally published in German by Insel Verlag Frankfurt am Main 1962 and subsequently published as Absent Without Leave by Kiepenheuer and Witsch Köln 1964 The English translation first appeared in 1965 and was published in the US by McGraw Hill Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

'Surfacing' the Politics of Desire Rajeshwari Suryamohan Vallury, 2008-01-01 Surfacing the Politics of Desire re-examines the myths of masculine desire in order to challenge this premise placing literature at the centre of recent feminist debates over the ontology and politics of sexual difference Nonverbal Communication Across Disciplines: Narrative literature, theater, cinema, translation Fernando Poyatos, 2002 In a progressive and systematic approach to communication and always through an interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspective this first volume presents culture as an intricate grid of sensible and intelligible sign systems in space and time identifying the semiotic and interactive problems inherent in intercultural and subcultural communication according to verbal nonverbal cultural fluency The author lays out fascinating complexity of our direct and synesthesial sensory perception of people and artifactual and environmental elements and its audible and visual manifestations through our speaking face to then acknowledge the triple reality of discourse as verbal language paralinguistic kinesics which is applied through two realistic models a for a verbal nonverbal comprehensive transcription of interactive speech and b for the implementation of nonverbal communication in foreign language teaching The author presents his exhaustive model of nonverbal categories for a detailed analysis of normal or pathological behaviors in any interactive or noninteractive manifestation and based on all the previous material his equally exhaustive structural model for the study of conversational encounters which suggests many applications in different fields such as the intercultural and multisystem communication situation developed in simultaneous or consecutive interpreting 956 literary quotations from 103 authors and 194 works illustrate all the points discussed Good Form Jesse Rosenthal, 2017 What do we mean when we say that a novel's conclusion feels right How did feeling form and the sense of right and wrong get mixed up during the nineteenth century in the experience of reading a novel Good Form argues that Victorian readers associated the feeling of narrative form of being pulled forward to a satisfying conclusion with inner moral experience Reclaiming the work of a generation of Victorian intuitionist philosophers who insisted that true morality consisted in being able to feel or intuit the morally good Jesse Rosenthal shows that when Victorians discussed the moral dimensions of reading novels they were also subtly discussing the genre's formal properties. For most Victorian moralizing is one of the period's least attractive and interesting qualities. But Good Form argues that the moral interpretation of novel experience was essential in the development of the novel form and that this moral approach is still a fundamental if unrecognized part of how we understand novels. Bringing together ideas from philosophy, literary history, and narrative theory, Rosenthal shows that we cannot understand the formal principles of the novel that we have inherited from the nineteenth century without also understanding the moral principles that have come with them. Good Form helps us to understand the way Victorians read but it also helps us to understand the way we read now.

Literature and Subjection Horacio Legrás, 2008-10-16 In Literature and Subjection Horacio Legras employs theoretical, philosophical, cultural, political, and historical analysis to assess the factors that have both facilitated and stifled the integration of peripheral experiences into Latin American literature. Legras examines a handful of contemporary authors who have attempted in earnest to present marginalized voices to the Western world and evaluates the success or failure of these endeavors. His deep and insightful evaluation of key works by novelists Juan Jose Saer, The Witness, Nellie Campobello, Cartucho, Roa Bastos, Son of Man, and Jose Maria Arguedas, The Fox from Up Above and the Fox from Down Below, among others, provides a theoretical basis for understanding the plight of the author, the peripheral voice, and the confines of the literary medium. What emerges is an intricate discussion of the clash and subjugation of cultures and the tragedy of a lost worldview.

On Women's Films Ivone Margulies, Jeremi Szaniawski, 2019-07-25 On Women's Films looks at contemporary and classic films from emerging and established makers such as Maria Augusta Ramos, Xiaolu Guo, Valérie Massadian, Lynne Ramsay, Lucrecia Martel, Rakhshan Bani Etemad, Chantal Akerman, or Claire Denis. The collection is also tuned to the continued provocation of feminist cinema landmarks such as Chick Strand's Soft Fiction, Barbara Loden's Wanda, Valie Export's Invisible Adversaries, Cecilia Mangini's Essere donne. Attentive to minor moments, to the pauses and the charge, and forms bodies adopt through cinema, the contributors suggest the capacity of women's films to embrace shape and question the world.

Modularity in Development and Evolution Gerhard Schlosser, Günter P. Wagner, 2004-07 Modularity in Development and Evolution offers the first sustained exploration of modules from developmental and evolutionary perspectives. Contributors discuss what modularity is, how it can be identified and modeled, how it originated and evolved, and its biological significance. Covering modules at levels ranging from genes to colonies, the book focuses on their roles not just in structures but also in processes such as gene regulation. Among many exciting findings, the contributors demonstrate how modules can highlight key constraints on evolutionary processes. A timely synthesis of a crucial topic, Modularity in Development and Evolution shows the invaluable insights modules can give into both developmental complexities and their evolutionary origins.
