Academic Writing And Genre A Systematic Analysis Ian Bruce:

Academic Writing and Genre Ian Bruce, 2008-02-07 The focus of this book is the use of genre based approaches to teaching academic writing Genre based courses enable second language learners to integrate their linguistic organisational and contextual knowledge in a variety of different tasks The book reviews pedagogical approaches to genre through English for Specific Purposes and Systemic Functional Linguistics to present a synthesis of the current research being undertaken in the field From this theoretical base Ian Bruce proposes a new model of genre based approaches to academic writing and analyses the ways in which this can be implemented in pedagogy and curriculum design Academic Writing and Genre is a cutting edge monograph which will be essential reading for researchers in applied linguistics Change and Stability in

Thesis and Dissertation Writing Brian Paltridge, Sue Starfield, 2023-12-14 Examining recent changes in the once stable genre of doctoral thesis and dissertation writing this book explores how these changes impact on the nature of the doctoral thesis dissertation itself Covering different theories of genre Brian Paltridge and Sue Starfield focus on the concepts of evolution innovation and emergence in the context of the production and reception of doctoral theses and dissertations Specifically concerned with this genre in the humanities social sciences and visual and performing arts this book also investigates the forces which are shaping changes in this high stakes genre as well as those which act as constraints Employing textography as its methodological approach the book provides multiple perspectives on the ways in which doctoral theses and dissertations are subject to forces of continuity and change in the academy Analyses of the new humanities doctorate professional doctorates practice based doctorates and the doctorate by publication contribute to understandings of new variants of the doctoral dissertation genre The book paves the way for a new generation of doctoral students and asks what might the doctorate of the future look like Expressing Critical Thinking through Disciplinary Texts Ian

Bruce, 2020-06-25 Exploring how critical thinking is expressed in writing this book investigates the specific linguistic elements involved in this process Ian Bruce takes a genre based approach to compare the textual expression of critical thinking in samples of academic professional and journalistic writing using five studies to examine the similarities and differences in the elements deployed across different genres Looking at phenomena such as the relations between propositions and words which express the writer's personal attitude content organizing patterns and the role of metaphor this book highlights the most important contributory factors in the expression of critical thinking Providing an in depth exploration of how it is articulated through different types of specialist writing this book provides a lens to both examine texts and to identify and practice this skill The English for Academic Purposes Practitioner Alex Ding, Ian

Bruce, 2017-06-28 This book contextualizes the field of English for Academic Purposes EAP with a particular focus on the professional and academic identity and role of the EAP practitioner The authors examine previously neglected areas such as the socio economic academic and employment contexts within which EAP practitioners function In doing so they develop a better understanding of the roles expectations and constraints that arise from these contexts which in turn shape professional practice and the identity of the practitioner As EAP is emerging as an academic discipline with a growing body of published research this book will appeal to trainee and established practitioners along with researchers and students of linguistics and education      Genre Anis S. Bawarshi, Mary Jo Reiff, 2010-03-08 GENRE AN INTRODUCTION TO HISTORY THEORY RESEARCH AND PEDAGOGY provides a critical overview of the rich body of scholarship that has informed a genre turn in Rhetoric and Composition including a range of interdisciplinary perspectives from rhetorical theory applied linguistics sociology philosophy cognitive psychology and literary theory      Contextualizing English for Academic Purposes in Higher Education Ian Bruce, Bee Bond, 2022-07-28 This book highlights the centrality of political and ideological issues as they relate to the positioning and practice of English for Academic Purposes EAP demonstrating that EAP cannot flourish as a profession or a discipline without an awareness of the macro and meso level political shifts that impact the wider university The volume states that the practices of EAP are in fact political acts and examines these as yet unexplored power dynamics The volume begins by considering key influences that have shaped universities and their governance and management over the last three decades and how these relate to the role and practice of EAP These influences include neoliberal economic policies governmental demands for widening participation globalization entrepreneurial approaches to higher education students as clients and therapeutism in universities Following consideration of these broader contextual issues specific chapters focus on politics and policies surrounding the recruitment and participation of international fee paying students their positioning and identity within English medium universities including issues relating to English language standards and academic integrity Further chapters then consider more local influences that shape EAP programmes such as their strategic roles within universities their management their teaching and wider academic impact      Specialised Languages in the Global Village Carmen Pérez-Llantada, Maida Watson, 2011-05-25 The status of LSP Languages for Specialised Purposes in the contemporary socio cultural context is an ongoing central issue of scholarly debate Specialised Languages in the Global Village examines the impact of globalisation on intercultural communication within specialised communities of practice The contributions to the volume provide linguistically and pedagogically informed discussion on modes of communication practice in professional and institutional domains frames of social action and the construction of professional identities The contributors also address issues of languages and social entrepreneurship and the acquisition and development of linguistic cultural competence in foreign languages for specialised purposes The edition is a valuable resource for researchers in LSP specialists in the fields of discourse analysis sociolinguistics and scholars in the area of rhetoric and composition It will also be of interest to professional translators language editors and language advisors in the fields of specialised academic professional communication LSP instructors and foreign language teachers will also find informed guidelines and useful pedagogical proposals for classroom implementation      Proceedings of the International Conference on English
