A History of Zimbabwe Alois S. Mlambo, 2014-04-07 The first single volume history of Zimbabwe with detailed coverage from pre colonial times to the present this book examines Zimbabwe's pre colonial colonial and postcolonial social economic and political history and relates historical factors and trends to recent developments in the country Zimbabwe is a country with a rich history dating from the early San hunter gatherer societies

The arrival of British imperial rule in 1890 impacted the country tremendously as the European rulers exploited Zimbabwe's resources giving rise to a movement of African nationalism and demands for independence. This culminated in the armed conflict of the 1960s and 1970s and independence in 1980. The 1990s were marked by economic decline and the rise of opposition politics. In 1999 Mugabe embarked on a violent land reform program that plunged the nation's economy into a downward spiral with political violence and human rights violations making Zimbabwe an international pariah state. This book will be useful to those studying Zimbabwean history and those unfamiliar with the country's past.

Malawi Zoë Groves, Jessica Johnson, 2025-06-27. This book explores Malawi's recent history in light of longer term historical developments contributing important new insights to debates about migration citizenship chieftaincy language cultural practice anti colonialism and nationalism. The book is organised around five key themes: Rethinking Kamuzu Banda's Malawi Rural Development and Agricultural Production Power and Politics from pre to post colony Malawi and the Southern African Region and Culture and Cultural Production. The focus on a single country facilitates consideration of local particularities as well as identification of similarities in the trajectories and challenges shared with other countries in Africa. This book provides a nuanced understanding of Hastings Kamuzu Banda Malawi's first Prime Minister and President 1964-94 and the legacy of his rule. Chapters analyse decolonisation in a political and a cultural sense and show how the beginning and end of colonial rule were gradual processes rather than sharp ruptures. Individual chapters expand our knowledge of the history of public health development rural livelihoods food production and agricultural policy as well as prompting new debate on migration citizenship chieftaincy language cultural practice anti colonialism and nationalism. This book will be of particular interest to scholars of Malawi and the wider Southern African region. Nine of the chapters were originally published in a special issue of the Journal of Southern African Studies volume 46 issue 2 2020. This volume contains a revised Introduction five additional chapters all previously published in JSAS and a new Afterword.

African Connections Peter Mitchell, 2005. From the exodus of early modern humans to the growth of African diasporas Africa has had a long and complex relationship with the outside world. More than a passive vessel manipulated by external empires the African experience has been a complex mix of internal geographic environmental sociopolitical and economic factors and regular interaction with outsiders. Peter Mitchell attempts to outline these factors over the long period of modern human history to find their commonalities and development over time. He examines African interconnections through Egypt and Nubia with the Near East through multiple Indian Ocean trading systems through the trans Saharan trade and through more recent incursion of Europeans. The African diaspora is also explored for continuities and resistance to foreign domination. Commonalities abound in the African experience as do complexities of each individual period and interrelationship. Mitchell's sweeping analysis of African connections place the continent in context of global prehistory and history. The book should be of interest not only to

Africanists but to many other archaeologists historians geographers linguists social scientists and their students

Archaeologies of Listening Peter R. Schmidt,Alice B. Kehoe,2019-04-26 This book provides a fresh and bold look at how archaeologists and heritage managers may enhance their capacity to interpret and understand material culture and heritage values Drawing on the founding principles of anthropology Archaeologies of Listening demonstrates the value of cultural apprenticeship an almost forgotten part of archaeological practice

Temporal Explorations in the Anthropology of Religion Diana Espírito Santo,Ruy Blanes,2025-03-27 How do people make sense of their past and look forward into their future through practices religious spiritual or otherwise in places of both modernity and political trauma This volume investigates how political social and individual temporal and historical horizons are generated and reformulated in relation to embodied material and ideological contexts It also considers how this history making projects itself onto imagined futures or alternative historical lines creating temporal continuities and discontinuities This book presents an innovative perspective on the relationship between past and the future namely one that shifts the perspective from pure history or pure anthropology to the anthropology of history Religious and spiritual engagements are fundamental to this exercise especially ones that have emerged in times of crisis because they provide conceptual platforms from which the past and the present connect directly to the future and its imagined horizons Utilising chapters and case studies drawn from Europe Latin America Africa and Asia this book shows that the experience of time including temporal plasticity emerges from social formations that are cosmological at heart These include prophetic and messianic thinking conversion experiences and narratives spirit possession religions and the mythical and symbolic dimensions of materialities and memory This research demonstrates that ideas of cyclicity repetition and other temporal forms are fundamental as acts of ordering human experience as well as in other more modern forms of cosmology teleological theories of advancement and development and even post apocalyptic economic and social realities

Indian Ocean Imaginings Joshua Esler,Mark Fielding,2022-11-28 This book is a multidisciplinary study of the Indian Ocean region bringing together perspectives from the disciplines of history defense and strategic studies cultural and religious studies and environmental studies From the earliest exchanges through Sumerian and Harappan trade to emerging geopolitical alliances in the twenty first century this volume demonstrates both the continuity and change of the region as well as its unity and diversity The expanse of this ocean and its littoral rim is connected through the social imaginary which enables these processes It is with the stories of the peoples inhabiting this rim that this book is concerned told both through micro studies of the everyday lives of the region s people and through macro studies centered around civilizations empires nation states and climate change

Politics and Power Steven E. Falconer,Charles L. Redman,2009-12-15 This distinctive book is the first to address the topic of landscape archaeology in early states from a truly global perspective It provides an excellent introduction to and overview of the discipline today The volume grew out of the Fifth Biennial Meeting of the Complex Societies Group whose theme States and the Landscape paid tribute to the work of

Robert McC Adams When Adams began publishing in the 1960s the interdependence of cities and their countrysides and the information revealed through the spatial patterning of communities went largely unrecognized Today as this useful collection makes clear these interpretive insights are fundamental to all archaeologists who investigate the roles of complex polities in their landscapes Polities and Power features detailed studies from an intentionally disparate array of regions including Mesoamerica Andean South America southwestern Asia East Africa and the Indian subcontinent Each chapter or pair of chapters is followed by a critical commentary In concert these studies strive to infer social political and economic meaning from archaeologically discerned landscapes associated with societies that incorporate some expression of state authority The contributions engage a variety of themes including the significance of landscapes as they condition and reflect complex polities the interplay of natural and cultural elements in defining landscapes of state archaeological landscapes as ever dynamic entities and archaeological landscapes as recursive structures reflected in palimpsests of human activity Individually many of these contributions are provocative even controversial Taken together they reveal the contours of landscape archaeology at this particular evolutionary moment

The World of the Indian Ocean, 1500-1800 M.N.

Pearson, 2024-10-28 The articles in The World of the Indian Ocean 1500 1800 describe the activities of people living on the coasts of the Indian Ocean generously defined during the early modern period Most are based at least in part on Portuguese materials A broad theme linking them all is the claim that in most areas of society and economy early modern Europeans and Asians had much in common with the newly arrived Europeans having no particular advantage over their Asian interlocutors The first five studies discuss aspects of trade and commerce while the next group deal with social and religious themes including conversions and a much quoted early attempt to investigate littoral society The third section presents four discussions of aspects of the early contact between Indian and European medical systems
