Pazmino, 2002-04-29 To reject power and its legitimate use is ultimately to reject God's gift and intention for Christians as we live in the world writes Robert W. Pazmino. He applies these factors and the need for confident authoritative teachers specifically to the ministry of Christian education. By What Authority Do We Teach completes a trilogy covering key elements of evangelical education. Also in print are Foundational Issues in Christian Education, an agenda of theological, sociological, psychological, curricular, and other concerns, and Principles and Practices of Christian Education, which integrates conversion and connection into the teaching task.      Christian Initiation of Children - CTL - 2009 ,

Celebrating the Lectionary® for Primary Grades 2016-2017: Supplemental Lectionary-Based Resource Lisa Mersereau,      36 Creative Ideas for Children in the Church School Lois Brokering, 1982      Christ's Torah Markus Vinzent, 2023-12-13 This volume explores the creation of the collection now known as the New Testament. While it is generally accepted that it did not emerge as a collection prior to the late second century CE, a more controversial question is how it came to be. How did the writings that make up the New Testament, the Gospels, the so-called Praxapostolos, Acts, and the canonical letters, the Epistles of Paul, and Revelation, make their way into the collection, and what do we know about their possible historical origins and in turn the emergence of the New Testament itself? The New Testament as we know it first became recognisable in more detail in Irenaeus of Lyon towards the end of the second century CE. However, questions remain as to how and by whom it was redacted. Was it a slow organic process in which texts written by different authors, members of different communities and in various places grew together into one book? Or were certain writings compiled on the basis of an editorial decision by an individual or a group of editors, revised for this purpose and partly harmonised with each other? This volume sketches out the complex development of the New Testament, arguing that key second-century scholars played an important role in the emergence of the canonical collection and putting forward the possible historical origins of the text's composition.

Christ's Torah: The Making of the New Testament in the Second Century is of interest to students and scholars working on the New Testament and anyone with an interest in early Christianity more broadly.

CTL Activity Sheet Masters , Multi-Faith Activity Assemblies Elizabeth Peirce, 2003-12-16. Packed with ideas for the primary school teacher, this book includes stories, songs and drama activities from six major world religions: Christianity, Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism and Sikhism. The book is helpfully split into topic areas which include: New Beginnings, Places of Worship, Friends, Festivals, Rites of Passage, Water Themes, Animals and Birds, Inspirational Leaders. There is also a useful section on background information with pronunciation guides for teachers. For the different world religions, feature Jesus, the New Adam Dennis J. Billy, CSsR, 2017-11-15. This book retells the narrative of Christ's redemptive journey by looking at some of the Gospel's underlying assumptions and showing how they are both reasonable and credible For Christians faith is not contrary to reason but presupposes and even builds on it This faith asks us to put aside whatever preconceptions we may have regarding the Gospel message and listen with an open heart to the way it speaks to the universal human condition The seed of hope buried deep within the mythologies of old is nothing but a faint reflection of God s dream for his creation For Christians this dream has entered the arena of history in the person of Jesus Christ the New Adam who sheds light on our human condition by making all things new Rev 21 5
