Activities The Lighthouse Keepers Catastrophe:

The Art of Science Barbara Hume, Christine Galton, 1989 The Art of Science presents an invaluable collection of effective and simple activities together with associated creative ideas to introduce and reinforce the teaching of science to infants and lower juniors Book jacket      Teaching Writing Ann Browne, 1999 This title by Ann Browne focuses on the teaching of writing at Key Stage 1 and before and fully addresses the National Literacy Strategy at this level The text fully reflects the requirements of the ITT National Curriculum whilst addressing the latest research findings on the development of literacy skills in the primary years      Teaching Design and Technology in the Primary School (1993) Tina Jarvis, 2017-09-29

Originally published in 1993 The appearance of design and technology in the National Curriculum has offered primary teachers opportunities for imaginative and stimulating work which is directly related to the lives of their pupils Its sheer scope can however be daunting for the teacher already overloaded with the other demands of the National Curriculum Tina Jarvis provides some much needed guidance on strategies for including design and technology effectively within the whole curriculum including the development of co operative group work and finding effective ways to assess individuals in group situations The author also looks at how teachers can tackle subject areas which may be unfamiliar to them such as systems environments and economic enterprises      A Corner to Learn Neil Griffiths, 1998 This book explores imaginative ways to expand children s experience through play It incorporates ideas using role play corners to develop language skills and cross curricular work A Corner to Learn features creative ideas on making 21 original home corners and brilliant colour photos of the corner in use An introductory section describes the role of home corners learning The book also provides detailed practical advice and step by step line drawings that explain exactly how to make and use play corners for creative learning This is a fantastic source of inspiration for making and using home corners and play to develop early learning

Understanding Reading Development Colin Harrison, 2004-01-31 Colin Harrison s knowledge of the research on reading processes and comprehension is encyclopaedic This is essential reading for all those committed to improving literacy attainment at all levels Professor Greg Brooks University of Sheffield      Educational Technology D.D. Aggarwal, 2004 school classrooms Part A of the book provides the context of technologies education and the new Australian Curriculum Technologies Introductory chapters discuss what technology is and its role in human society emphasising the idea of technology as a process rather than a product Chapters also examine why technologies education is important how it relates to other fields such as science and engineering and how it has changed over the years Part B then focuses on key concepts and elements in teaching technologies to primary students Topics covered include creativity and the design process suitable pedagogies for technologies education planning assessment and where to find appropriate resources The final part of the book gives an overview of core concepts within the Design and technologies and Digital technologies subjects of this learning area within the Australian Curriculum Technologies

The Literacy Agenda Elaine Furniss, Pamela Green, 1991

Jumpstart! Drama Teresa Cremin, Roger McDonald, Emma Longley, Louise Blakemore, 2009-03-23 Jumpstart Drama contains more than forty engaging practical easy to do and highly motivating drama activities which will appeal to busy primary teachers who wish to enliven their practice and make more use of drama in line with the Framework for Literacy All the activities connect to well known texts which are popular in primary classrooms and the conventions described can be used in a variety of subjects suiting a wide range of learning styles The book is organised around four sections which can be dipped into each providing rich and accessible ideas to stimulate drama in the classroom helping teachers to use stories as a basis for drama work use poetry as a stimulus for drama teach non fiction through the use of drama develop role play areas and the drama opportunities they provide Ideal for busy primary teachers who wish to encourage their pupils in drama Jumpstart Drama will help teachers to use literary and non fiction texts in a dramatic and motivating manner

Exploring Play in the Primary Classroom Gill Beardsley, Penelope Harnett, 2013-11-26 First Published in 1999 This innovative series is an ideal means of supporting professional practice in the post Dearing era when a new focus on the quality of teaching and learning is possible The series promotes reflexive teaching and active forms of pupil learning Using a number of case studies this book explores the authors fascination for the ways in which children use imaginative play to explore their ideas about the world In pretend play and drama activities they often re enact their experiences coming to terms with cognitive challenges which they might not otherwise resolve

Primary Design and Technology for the Future Alan Howe, Dan Davies, Ron Ritchie, 2013-10-18 This is a challenging new book for primary teachers interested in developing their teaching of Design Technology subject leaders in D T and for student teachers choosing this as their specialty It will also appeal to in service providers and LEA advisory staff Children s creativity cultural development and citizenship are important but currently underdeveloped in primary education This book uniquely focuses on how these aspects can be emphasized in the teaching of Design and Technology The National Curriculum has the potential to bring creativity cultural development and citizenship into the mainstream and the authors show the considerable extent to which D T integrated with other curriculum subjects can contribute to realizing these goals There are examples throughout of best current practice showing how such ideas have been implemented      Logo D Lamont Johnson, Cleborne D Maddux, 1997-12-30 In Logo A Retrospective you'll look back and see why attempts to teach Logo in American schools failed the first time it was introduced and you'll learn what you can do so educators don't make the same mistake again. You'll explore how teachers can sidestep the all too familiar cycle of zealous overselling, eventual disappointment, backlash and abandonment that undermined Logo's first appearance in American school curricula. Of particular interest to teachers, parents, computer programmers and members of the general public, Logo A Retrospective thoroughly and more accurately outlines Logo's philosophical and theoretical framework and shows you how you can play a part in the current Logo renaissance already thriving in Australia, Latin America and Europe. Specifically, this book contains a decade's worth of scholarly research on Logo information concerning Logo's future and evolution, strategies for handling student autonomy and teacher intervention, recent software design data and feedback for learning Logo, new research on computer programming's effects on children's cognitive development. Without a doubt, computers and other electronic media will be a vital source of learning in the classrooms of the future. The development of powerful new versions of the Logo language such as MicroWorlds is welcome evidence that Logo's popularity is on the rise. So put the past behind you. Read Logo A Retrospective and see what's presently giving schoolchildren all over the world a fresh headstart at their classroom computer terminals.      The Writers Directory, 2013      Activities Based on The Lighthouse Keeper's Lunch by Ronda and David Armitage Sarah Snashall, 2015 Part of the Read Respond series, this book provides teachers with everything they need to share The Lighthouse Keeper's Lunch with their class.      The Little Book of Story Bags

Marianne Sargent, 2015-06-04 Reading stories is an invaluable experience for young children, helping them to develop a wide range of important skills. As well as developing listening skills, children who have regular access to stories develop an awareness of story structure, character and setting. They also begin to understand the concept of letter sounds and words printed on the page and increase their vocabulary. Offering opportunities for active, involved, cross-curricular learning, story bags help bring stories to life and offer practical ideas that serve the differing interests and learning styles of young children.

The Oxford History of New Zealand Literature in English Terry Sturm, 1998 This is the most comprehensive history of New Zealand literature to have been published. It offers chapters on the novel, poetry and on the short story, which have been the staple of earlier histories and surveys, as well as sections on drama, non-fiction, children's literature, popular literature and the history of publishing, patronage and literary magazines. In this major new edition, material is provided on the period from 1986-1996 and a new chapter has been included on literary scholarship, criticism and theory.      Drama and Writing Ages 5-11 Lorraine S. Harrison, 2023-03-22 Drama and Writing Ages 5-11 is a practical guide for teachers to develop and inspire writing through using drama in the classroom. Each of the ten chapters provides step-by-step guidance and creative prompts for writing that apply to both key stage one and key stage two, enabling teachers to motivate their pupils by creating meaningful contexts, audiences and purposes to encourage writing. With a wide range of ideas to apply to the
