- Can operate the on-board relay in conjunction with the receiver (e.g., to trip a garage door opener).
- Note: This particular feature is not intended for UL installations.
- Can activate relays programmed into the control panel.
- Provides an End User mode to enable/disable local wireless keys (e.g., if a user accidentally loses a wireless key). See the ADEMCO 6150RF User Guide for this procedure.

Application Guidelines

Use the following guidelines when planning an installation:

- Local wireless keys are programmed directly into the 6150RF and may be used regardless of whether the RF receiver is enabled or disabled.
- If using bi-directional devices, be sure to enable the transmitter module in the 6150RF.
- If transmitters are programmed into the control panel, be sure to enable the receiver. (Make sure you do not exceed the number of receivers supported by the control panel.)
- If a local wireless key is programmed to arm/disarm or to trigger a relay on the control panel, a user code must be entered into the 6150RF. This user code must also be programmed into the control panel.
- You must set the House ID only if you are using RF keypads and/or bi-directional devices; AND the House ID Source is the 6150RF (Local).
