Interactive Readings for Christian Worship Edwin Zackrison, Melvin Campbell, 2003-08 Need some revitalization of your worship service with more involvement on the part of the congregations Or do you need more focus on the sermon subjects This book may well be your answer The 53 responsive readings in the book differ from the traditional approach Here you may find the audience cast in various roles such as in drama where they will respond as a character in a story such as in readers theatre Good reading is easy to achieve as in choral reading and the audience gets to answer and suggest corporately as in traditional responsive readings The audience may play the fool the pharisee the publican God the believer or the skeptic At all times we worked at keeping the responses short so that the long monotony of untrained reading would be avoided and a minimum of rehearsal instruction would be needed to have maximum expression Both youth and adults have enjoyed these responsive readings We think your congregation will as well The Evangelical repository. Rachel Haidu, 2023-07-28 A consideration of how contemporary art can offer a deeper understanding of selfhood With Each One Another Rachel Haidu argues that contemporary art can teach us how to understand ourselves as selves how we come to feel oneness to sense our own interiority and to shift between the roles that connect us to strangers those close to us and past and future generations Haidu looks to intergenerational pairings of artists to consider how three aesthetic vehicles shape in painting characters in film and video and roles in dance allow us to grasp selfhood Better understandings of our selves she argues complement our thinking about identity and subjecthood She shows how Philip Guston's figurative works explore shapes descriptive capacities and their ability to investigate history while Amy Sillman's paintings allow us to rethink expressivity and oneness Analyzing a 2004 video by James Coleman Haidu explores how we enter characters through their interior monologues and she also looks at how a 2011 film by Steve McQueen positions a protagonist's refusal to speak as an argument for our right to silence. In addition, Haidu examines how Anne Teresa de Keersmaeker's distribution of roles across dancers invites us to appreciate formal structures that separate us from one another while Yvonne Rainer's choreography shows how such formal structures also bring us together. Through these examples, Each One Another reveals how artworks allow us to understand oneness, interiority, and how we become fluid agents in the world, and it invites us to examine critically and forgivingly our attachments to selfhood.

PINTER ET CETERA, edited by Craig N. Owens, is among the first volumes published since playwright Harold Pinter's death to account for the many ways his poems, plays, fiction, screenwriting, and public statements have influenced the creative work of artists and writers worldwide. It collects nine essays by nine scholars from five nations, each approaching Pinter's work from a different perspective. Together, these essays offer a compelling argument for thinking of Pinter not merely as a unique writer whose individual genius has introduced the world to a particular aesthetic, but more importantly as an artist working within numerous traditions, influencing and influenced by the work of painters, installation artists, film directors, photographers, poets, and of course, theatre makers. PINTER ET CETERA is a bold step toward expanding our understanding of Pinter and establishing its importance beyond the absurdist stage. Contributors include Judith Roof, Ubiratan Paiva de Oliveira, Kyounghye Kwon, Mark Taylor, Batty Michael, Stuart Lynch, Jeanne Collier, Andrew Wyllie, Christopher Wixson, and Lance Norman.
