

An Activity Series

Purpose: The purpose of this lab is to verify the activity series of five metals and three halogens. This can be done by reacting the metal with various metal solutions to see which of them creates a displacement reaction. As for the halogens, it can be done in a similar way as metal, but with the halogens in their liquid form and ion form. The significance of this experiment is that geologist could use them to extract minerals from ores.

Hypothesis: The hypothesis of this experiment is that the experiment will help verify the activity series of metals and halogens. This is because the reaction would not occur if the substance trying to replace the other substance is less reactive than that other substance. If the reaction did happen, there would be an apparent change in the sample. For example, if one metal was replaced by the other, the solid in the solution would be changed to the metal that was replaced. As for halogens, each halogen possess different color from another and so if one halogen was replaced by the other, the color of the solution would be changed.

Combes,Nirmala Bhogal,2012-03-22 The central theme running through this volume on New Technologies for Toxicity Testing is the development and application of advanced techniques for cell and tissue culture as well as new markers and endpoints of toxicity as alternatives to the traditional paradigm of relying on data from laboratory animal tests to undertake labelling and risk assessment Of course many of the techniques and methods described in this volume are in the early stages of development and much work will be needed to ensure their further improvement optimisation and validation However we are confident that this will be achieved and that just as with the in vitro assays that were validated and granted regulatory acceptance over the last decade these and many other new advanced methods will likewise become part of the toxicologist s improved toolbox for coping with increasingly stringent and numerous regulatory requirements and test chemicals while placing less reliance on traditional testing paradigms Southern Medical Journal ,1926 ERDA Energy Research Abstracts ,1983 ERDA Energy Research Abstracts United States.
