Acts Chapter 1summary

Jack J. Gibson

Acts Chapter 1 summary:

The Synopsis of Summary Convictions, showing, at one view, the penalties, &c. for 1300 offences, when proceedings must be commenced, what justices to convict, &c., with introduction, practical observations; an epitome of other matters coming before Justices out of Sessions and an abstract of the Juvenile Offender's Act George Colwell OKE,1857 Water Baptism and Spirit Baptism Ken Lenz,2017-11-14 This is a book that clearly and comprehensively covers the topics of both water baptism and Spirit baptism from a purely biblical perspective rather than from a particular ecclesiastical historical or theological perspective Rather than using isolated Scripture verses in an effort to shore up a position this book quotes and explains all passages that have a bearing on these two topics allowing a position to form that is based solely on God s Word Passages are considered within their broader literary contexts and alternative interpretations are explored Water baptism and the baptism in the Spirit are for all Christians Whether you are a layperson minister or teacher this book is for you The Acts of Paul Richard I. Pervo,2014-03-17 This is the most complete translation of the Acts of Paul in English together with a detailed commentary The orientation is primarily literary with detailed attention to the history of composition and revision Unlike many studies this commentary does not focus upon the story of Thecla Exemplary Life Andy Chambers,2012-11-01 Exemplary Life articulates Luke s vision for life together in a local church using key passages from Acts 2 42 47 4 32 35 and 5 12 16 known as summary narratives as the starting point of reference Although Luke is rightly acclaimed as the church s first historian he was a powerful writer and theologian as well He also planted churches with Paul and had definite convictions about what life together in the church should look like Yet Luke s theology of church life is underemphasized in modern scholarship downplayed by issues rising from the historical critical method However when the summary narratives are studied through the lens of narrative and rhetorical criticism Luke s strategy is unmistakable Those passages cast a vision for life together in an exemplary church drawn from the historical circumstances of the church in Jerusalem These narratives also serve as a starting point for studying church life throughout Acts When the church planting movements in Samaria Antioch Ephesus and Troas are examined we find echoes of the narratives almost constantly These amplify and drive home Luke s message in the summary narratives Taking this path twenty distinct characteristics of exemplary church life emerge From repentance and Scriptural authority to praying together and earning the respect of neighbors each one is thoughtfully presented here by author Andy Chambers to reassert Luke s voice in 21st century conversations about the faithful formation of New Testament churches Congressional Record United States. Congress,1991 Peter Between Jerusalem and Antioch Jack J. Gibson,2013 Why did Peter cease eating with the Gentile Christians at Antioch Gal 2 11 14 after defending his decision to eat with Cornelius before the entire Jerusalem church Acts 11 1 18 Beginning with a character study of Peter throughout the Gospels and Acts Jack Gibson demonstrates that Peter is consistently portrayed as being a faithful disciple whose pre Pentecost impetuosity is due to a lack of understanding of the message of Jesus and his post Pentecost boldness is due to his newly revealed understanding of this message. The historical background to the Antioch incident is considered with special consideration given to the Jewish response to Roman rule. Peter's relationship with James and Paul is analyzed culminating in an evaluation of Peter's motivations for ceasing to eat with the Gentiles.

Theology through Community Richard A. Pruitt, 2019-02-14

Since the 1980s renewal scholars have given considerable attention to the role of the believing community in the interpretive process. A broad consensus has emerged that a triad involving Scripture, the Spirit, and the believing community forms a cooperative relationship resulting in theological development followed by commensurate action identified in this research as theological creativity. In the context of this research to be creative with theology is to take an existing theological assumption and broaden or adapt it to current circumstances given the Spirit's evidential work and a consensual understanding of Scripture. But how does the community negotiate between Spirit and Scripture without subsuming either into its own predilections? For Luke, the first-century community of believers in Acts functions as an indispensable character in the formation of theological creativity. This work will demonstrate how Luke positions the community as a character in story form between Spirit and Scripture, functioning as a bridge through which its testimony of the Spirit's evidential work and its application of Scripture interact. In order to illustrate this balancing act, we will use a modified configuration of the triadic notion: Spirit-Community-Scripture.

Common Property, the Golden Age, and Empire in Acts 2:42-47 and 4:32-35 Joshua Noble, 2020-10-15

Joshua Noble focuses on the rapid appearance and disappearance in Acts 2 and 4 of the motif that early believers hold all their property in common and argues that these descriptions function as allusions to the Golden Age myth. Noble suggests Luke's claims that the believers had all things in common and that no one claimed private ownership of any possessions, a motif that does not appear in any biblical source, rather calls to mind Greek and Roman traditions that the earliest humans lived in utopian conditions when no one possessed any private property but all things were common. By analyzing sources from Greek, Latin, Jewish, and Christian traditions and reading Acts 2:42-47 and 4:32-35 as Golden Age allusions, Noble illustrates how Luke's use of the motif of common property is significant for understanding his attitude toward the Roman Empire. Noble suggests that Luke's appeal to this myth accomplishes two things: it characterizes the coming of the Spirit as marking the beginning of a new age, the start of a universal restoration that will find its completion at the Second Coming of Christ, and it creates a contrast between Christ, who has actually brought about this restoration, and the emperors of Rome, who were serially credited with inaugurating a new Golden Age.

The Christian World Around the New Testament Richard Bauckham, 2017-10-20

Most of these thirty-one essays by Richard Bauckham, a well-known New Testament scholar, were first published between 1979 and 2015 in journals and multi-authored volumes. Two are previously unpublished, and one has not been published in English before They range widely over early Christianity and early Christian literature in both the New Testament period and the early patristic period reflecting the author's conviction that the historical study of early Christianity should not isolate the New Testament literature from other early Christian sources such as the apostolic fathers and the Christian apocryphal literature Some of the essays develop further the themes of the author's books on aspects of the Gospels such as the intended audiences of the Gospels the way in which Gospel traditions were transmitted the role of the eyewitnesses in the origins of the Gospels the importance of Papias's evidence about Gospel traditions and the relationship between canonical and Gnostic Gospels Some of the essays relate to important persons such as Peter Barnabas Paul and James These include a full investigation of the evidence for the martyrdom of Peter and an attempt to locate the estate of Publius where Paul stayed on Malta There are studies of the Sabbath and the Lord's Day in both the New Testament and patristic periods There are studies that survey most of the main categories of apocryphal Christian literature including apocryphal Gospels and Acts and with a special focus on the non canonical apocalypses such as the Apocalypse of Peter and the Latin Vision of Ezra
