SADC Gender Protocol 2017 Barometer Morna, Colleen Lowe, Makamure, Lucia, 2017-10-04 The SADC Protocol on Gender and Development is the only sub regional instrument in the world that brings together global and continental commitments to gender equality in one instrument used to enhance accountability The Southern African Gender Protocol Alliance is a network of country and regional NGOs that campaigned for the Protocol its updating implementation and tracking Originally aligned to the Millennium Development Goals that expired in 2015 SADC Gender Ministers updated the Protocol and aligned it to the Sustainable development Goals SDGs Beijing Plus Twenty and the Africa Agenda 2063 in 2016 In July 2017 the Ministers adopted a Monitoring Evaluation and Reporting Framework MERF that will be the basis of future reporting Now in its ninth edition the 2017 Barometer is the first assessment of the Post 2015 SADC Gender Protocol Moving with the times the Alliance has expanded the two key main yardsticks in the Barometer the SADC Gender and Development Index SGDI and the Citizen Score Card CSC The Barometer incorporates many MERF and SDG indicators as well as its own unique measures of voice choice and control The Barometer also introduces the Gender Responsive Assessment of Constitutions and Laws conducted by Alliance experts and networks around the region A wealth of data insights and analysis awaits all readers of the Barometer that will also be made available online and in multi media formats The SADC we want is one in which citizens engage step it up for gender equality and make sure we achieve Planet 50 50 by 2030 The Oxford Handbook of Space Security Saadia M. Pekkanen, P. J. Blount, 2024 The Oxford Handbook of Space Security focuses on the interaction between space technology and international and national security processes Saadia M Pekkanen and P J Blount have gathered a group of key scholars who bring a range of analytical and theoretical perspectives to take an analytically eclectic approach to assessing space security from an international relations IR theory perspective Bringing together scholarship from a group of leading experts this volume explains how these contemporary changes will affect future security in from and through space Foreign Policy in Post-Apartheid South Africa Adekeye Adebajo, Kudrat Virk, 2017-12-18 South Africa is the most industrialized power in Africa It was rated the continent s largest economy in 2016 and is the only African member of the G20 It is also the only strategic partner of the EU in Africa Yet despite being so strategically and economically significant there is little scholarship that focuses on South Africa as a regional hegemon This book provides the first comprehensive assessment of South Africa s post Apartheid foreign policy Over its 23 chapters and with contributions from established Africa Western Asian and American scholars as well as diplomats and analysts the book examines the current pattern of the country s foreign relations in impressive detail The geographic and thematic coverage is extensive including chapters on the domestic imperatives of South Africa s foreign policy peace making defence and security bilateral relations in Southern Central West Eastern and North Africa bilateral relations with the US China Britain France and Japan the country s key external multilateral relations with the UN the BRICS economic grouping the African Caribbean and Pacific Group ACP

as well as the EU and the World Trade Organization WTO An essential resource for researchers the book will be relevant to the fields of area studies foreign policy history international relations international law security studies political economy and development studies Hollywood and Africa Opio Dokotum,2020-02-05 Hollywood and Africa recycling the Dark Continent myth from 19082020 is a study of over a century of stereotypical Hollywood film productions about Africa It argues that the myth of the Dark Continent continues to influence Western cultural productions about Africa as a cognitive based system of knowledge especially in history literature and film Hollywood and Africa identifies the colonial mastertext of the Dark Continent mythos by providing a historiographic genealogy and context for the terms development and consolidation An array of literary and paraliterary film adaptation theories are employed to analyse the deep genetic strands of HollywoodAfrica film adaptations The mutations of the Dark Continent mythos across time and space are then tracked through the classical neoclassical and new wave HollywoodAfrica phases in order to illustrate how Hollywood productions about Africa recycle revise reframe reinforce transpose interrogate and even critique these tropes of Darkest Africa while sustaining the colonial mastertext and rising cyberactivism against Hollywoods whitewashing of African history

Commercial Transitions and Abolition in West Africa 1630-1860 Angus E. Dalrymple-Smith,2019-12-09

Commercial Transitions and Abolition in West Africa 1630 1860 offers a fresh perspective on why in the nineteenth century the most important West African states and merchants who traded with Atlantic markets became exporters of commodities instead of exporters of slaves This study takes a long term comparative approach and makes use of new quantitative data It argues that the timing and nature of the change from slave exports to so called legitimate commerce in the Gold Coast the Bight of Biafra and the Bight of Benin can be predicted by patterns of trade established in previous centuries by a range of African and European actors responding to the changing political and economic environments of the Atlantic world The Gulf States and the Horn of Africa Robert Mason,Simon Mabon,2022-01-25 The Gulf States and the Horn of Africa takes a deep dive into the complexities of power projection political rivalry and conflict across the Red Sea and beyond Focusing on the nature of interregional connections between the Gulf and the Horn it explores the multifaceted nature of relations between states and the two increasingly important subregions Bringing together scholars working on and in both regions the book considers strategic competition between Saudi Arabia and Iran and between the UAE and both Qatar and Turkey along with other international engagement such as joint anti piracy operations counterterrorism cooperation security assistance base agreements and economic development Drawing on a range of subject expertise and field research across case study countries the volume adds to the sparse literature on the regional and international politics of the Horn of Africa and Red Sea gleaned specific insights from contemporary reflections across the book This is essential reading for students and researchers interested in the Horn of Africa and the evolving regional geopolitics of the Gulf Industrial & Commercial South Africa and Storekeepers' Review ,1917 Nigeria's Border Diplomacy Oladotun E. Awosusi,Olusola

Ogunnubi,2025-11-10 This book examines the ways in which Nigeria's borders are used as instruments of soft and hard power in the country's relations with other African states Across land air sea cyberspace and even outer space Nigeria uses its borders to insert the country into the heart of African geopolitics Drawing on the African realist conception of African internationalism this book analyses how the country exerts the geographic advantage of its territoriality as a diplomatic instrument to assert its regional aspirations The authors also examine how Nigeria positions itself amongst its direct West African neighbours and within the ECOWAS borderless Protocols and the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA the book goes further to consider how Nigeria uses non physical borders deploying space exploration and cyber security initiatives to further its hegemonic influence in Africa This book will be of interest to researchers across the fields of Political Science International Relations Border Studies and African Studies Infrastructures for Peace in Sub-Saharan Africa

Mediel Hove,Geoff Harris,2019-06-14 Cultures of violence are characteristic of many countries in sub Saharan Africa and attempts to move towards cultures of peace have often proved difficult and ineffectual And yet the wide variations in levels of violence within and between countries show that it is not inevitable rather it is the result of choices made at individual community and societal levels This book examines the potential of peace infrastructures as vehicles to strengthen and spread progress towards cultures of peace Peace infrastructures vary hugely in sophistication and level The examples examined in this book range from tiny structures which help resolve conflicts between individuals and within community organisations peace committees which serve local communities peace education and peace club programmes in schools mediation mechanisms to prevent election violence and to ministries of peace to coordinate government and non government efforts in peacemaking and peacebuilding The overall finding is that the development of peace infrastructures at all levels has great potential to build cultures of peace 1 It is the only book available which documents the experience and potential of nonviolence in post independence sub Saharan Africa 2 It makes a persuasive case for the development of various peace infrastructures in order to make peace sustainable 3 It explains how strategic planning can be utilised both to bring about change and to institutionalise it Colonial Adventures: Commercial Law and Practice in the Making ,2020-11-04

Colonial Adventures Commercial Law and Practice in the Making addresses the question how and to what extent the development of commercial law and practice from Ancient Greece to the colonial empires of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries were indebted to colonial expansion and maritime trade Illustrated by experiences in Ancient Europe the Americas Asia Africa and Australia the book examines how colonial powers whether consciously or not reshaped the law in order to foster the prosperity of homeland manufacturers and entrepreneurs or how local authorities and settlers brought the transplanted law in line with the colonial objectives and the local constraints amid shifting economic commercial and political realities Contributors are Alain Cl ment Alexander Claver Oscar Cruz Barney Bas De Roo Paul du Plessis Bernard Durand David Gilles Petra Mahy David Mirhady M C Mirow Luigi Nuzzo Phillip Lipton Umakanth Varottil and Jakob Zollmann

Advertising Culture and Translation Rosanna Masiola, 2017-03-07 This book is the first comprehensive study combining and integrating advertising culture and translation within the framework of colonial Commonwealth and postcolonial studies and globalization It addresses a number of controversial issues evident in two relatively young disciplines as a result of decades of research and teaching in university courses A cross cultural approach to translational issues and the translatability of advertising cohesively is adopted here exploring the dynamics of the conflict between the centre and the periphery It introduces the concept of advertising English as lingua franca AELF marking new trends in the domain of varieties of English around the world VEAW The data examined here show the ambivalent polarity conditioning advertising and translation both have been mutually exclusive and both have been subject to bans censorship and ideological control racism propaganda and stereotyping In their fundamental principles and concepts of theories and applications however neither discipline can exist outside a free market and total freedom of expression and trust

Decolonising Journalism Education in South Africa Ylva Rodny-Gumede, Colin Chasi, Zubeida Jaffer, Mvuso Ponono, 2023-05-19 This book is the culmination of several years of collaborative work It is a unique contribution to the field of journalism because of the depth and variety of contributions it makes to the field The scholars who contribute to this volume respond to the great need to rethink journalism from various perspectives including journalism training research the contents of the news media language media ethics the safety of journalists and gender inequities in the news media In doing this they recognise how the societies that journalism address should themselves change

China's New Role in African Politics Christof Hartmann, Nele Noesselt, 2019-10-21 China's rise to global power status in recent decades has been accompanied by deepening economic relationships with Africa with the New Silk Road's extension to Sub Saharan Africa as the latest step leading to much academic debate about the influence of Chinese business in the continent However China's engagement with African states at the political and diplomatic level has received less attention in the literature This book investigates the impact of Chinese policies on African politics asking how China deals with political instability in Africa and in turn how Africans perceive China to be helping or hindering political stability While China officially operates with a foreign policy strategy which conceives of Africa as one integrated monolithic area with the Forum on China Africa Cooperation FOCAC the flagship of inter continental cooperation this book highlights the plurality of context specific interaction patterns between China and African elites demonstrating how China's role and relevance has differently evolved according to whether African countries are resource rich and geostrategically important from the Chinese perspective or not By looking comparatively at a range of different country cases the book aims to promote a more thorough understanding of how China reacts to political stability and instability and in which ways the country contributes to domestic political dynamics and stability within African states China's New Role in African Politics will be of interest to researchers from across Political Science International Relations International Law and Economy Security Studies and African and Chinese Studies The Open Access version of this

The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces Evert Kleynhans, Marco Wyss, 2025-03-01

The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces provides the first in depth and multifaceted analysis of the evolution and current state of national defence policies strategies doctrines capabilities security challenges and strategic responses of African states and their armed forces Geographically these aspects are investigated at the national sub regional and regional levels Chronologically they are analysed against the backdrop of the superpower withdrawal from the continent in the 1990s and the so called New Scramble for Africa which has seen a crescendo of renewed great power interest in the continent's resources as well as its strategic role location and relevance since the 2000s The book takes a bottom up and African centric approach and is organized around five key themes i the differing security outlooks and defence policies of African powers within the region and the different sub regions ii the strategies doctrines transformation and employment of African armed forces iii the relationship between African armed forces with sub regional regional and international organizations iv the challenges that African states and their armed forces have been facing and their strategic responses and v the position of African perspectives and agency in the context of continental and international security and defence Understanding African security and defence especially in terms of each individual nation's ability to contribute to peacekeeping operations counterterrorism border security and internal security requires a focus on the national level of armed forces and defence policies this in turn sheds light on sub regional and regional divergences challenges and cooperation Based on this framework the chapters in this volume offer comprehensive African perspectives on African and international security and defence and in doing so show the agency of the continent's countries and armed forces in International Security and Relations

Fragments from the History of Loss Louise Green, 2020-04-02 The Anthropocene's urgent message about imminent disaster invites us to forget about history and to focus on the present as it careens into an unthinkable future To counter this Louise Green engages with the theoretical framing of nature in concepts such as the Anthropocene the great acceleration and rewilding in order to explore what the philosophy of nature in the era of climate change might look like from postcolonial Africa Utilizing a practice of reading developed in the Frankfurt school Green rearranges narrative fragments from the global nature industry which subjugates all aspects of nature to the logic of capitalist production in order to disrupt preconceived notions and habitual ways of thinking about how we inhabit the Anthropocene Examining climate change through the details of everyday life particularly the history of conspicuous consumption and the exploitation of Africa she surfaces the myths and fantasies that have brought the world to its current ecological crisis and that continue to shape the narratives through which it is understood Beginning with African rainforest exhibits in New York and Cornwall Green discusses how these representations of the climate catastrophe fail to acknowledge the unequal pace at which humans consume and continue to replicate imperial narratives about Africa Examining this history and climate change through the lens of South Africa's entry into capitalist modernity Green argues that the Anthropocene redirects attention away from the real problem which is not human's relation with nature but people's relations with each other A sophisticated carefully argued call to rethink how we approach relationships between and among humans and the world in which we live Fragments from the History of Loss is a challenge to both the current era and the scholarly conversation about the Anthropocene

The 4IR and the Humanities in South Africa Bhaso Ndzendze ,Asheel Singh ,Suzall Timm ,2024-05-28 The world is at a crossroads because of industrial change compounded by a global pandemic Humanities and social science education is grappling with the meaning of this change to the effect that there have been some anxieties and misguided perceptions about the irrelevance of the humanities in this emerging new world With the emergence of new technologies this book highlights the indispensable centrality of humanity and the humanities going forward The book will provide a reference point for new and innovative approaches to the humanities in the 4IR in South Africa and Africa Its diverse content means that it will be useful across the humanities and social science spectrum

Marketing Communication in African Languages Abiodun Salawu, Kehinde Oyesomi, 2024-12-23 This edited volume considers the use of African languages for marketing communication The importance of an indigenous language stems from its benefits which include increased comprehension and a sense of resonance among the target audience which makes it more memorable as opposed to foreign languages Chapters in the book variously examine African traditional advertising and marketing popular culture as a channel for advertising and marketing political communication advertising and marketing commercials and public relations in African languages as well as branding corporate and public communication in African languages The use of African languages for marketing communication is considered on the traditional mass media and the digital media Readers will gain a lot of insights into the theory and practice of marketing communication in African languages

China and the Islamic World

Robert R. Bianchi, 2019-02-01 China is building a New Silk Road that runs through the heartland of the Muslim world promising it will create integrated economies and stronger ties across Eurasia and Africa Robert R Bianchi argues that while China has the financial and technical resources to accomplish its infrastructure goals it is woefully unprepared to deal with the social and political demands of its partner countries citizens China and the Islamic World explores how China's leaders and citizens are learning through their relationships with Pakistan Turkey Indonesia Iran Nigeria and Egypt that they have to respect and adjust to the aspirations of ordinary people throughout the Islamic world not just cater to the narrow band of government and business elites Bianchi demonstrates that turbulent countries along the New Silk Road are likely to transform Chinese society at least as much as China changes them This realization will be deeply unsettling for China's authoritarian rulers who desperately want to monopolize power domestically The party and state bosses have responded to challenges with a contradictory blend of flexibility abroad and rigidity at home compromising with popular demands in one country after another while refusing to negotiate many of the same issues with their own citizens This book shows how China faces a growing struggle to maintain their double sided statecraft as it becomes apparent that the New Silk Road is not a one way street

Urban Politics of Human Rights Janne Nijman, Barbara Oomen, Elif Durmuş, Sara Miellet, Lisa

Roodenburg, 2022-11-14 Increasingly urban actors invoke human rights to address inequalities combat privatisation and underline common aspirations or to protect vested private interests The potential and the pitfalls of these processes are conditioned by the urban and deeply political These urban politics of human rights are at the heart of this book An international line up of contributors with long term engagement in this field shed light on these politics in cities on four continents and eight cities presenting a wealth of empirical detail and disciplinary theoretical perspectives They analyse the city society the urban actors involved and the mechanisms of human rights mobilisation In doing so they show the commonalities in rights engagement in today's globalised and often deeply unequal cities characterised by urban law private capital but also communities that rally around concepts as the right to the city Most importantly the chapters highlight the conditions under which this mobilisation truly contributes to social justice be it concerning the simple right to presence cultural rights accessible housing or in times of COVID health care Urban Politics of Human Rights provides indispensable reading for anyone with a practical or theoretical interest in the complex deeply political and at times also truly promising interrelationship between human rights and the urban Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
