Africa Environment Outlook 2 Unep:

Southern Africa Environment Outlook ,2008 Global Environment Outlook 2000 United Nations Environment Programme,1999 This volume provides a comprehensive and detailed analysis of the conditions of the global environment highlighting key global concerns and making recommendations for policy action Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch,Navnita Chadha Behera,Patricia Kameri-Mbote,John Grin,Úrsula Oswald Spring,Béchir Chourou,Czeslaw Mesjasz,Heinz Krummenacher,2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth sessment Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on c mate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world Routledge Handbook of International Environmental Law Erika Techera,Jade Lindley,Karen N. Scott,Anastasia Telesetsky,2020-12-29 This book critically explores the legal tools concepts principles and instruments as well as cross cutting issues that comprise the field of international environmental law Commencing with foundational elements progressing on to discrete sub fields then exploring regional cooperative approaches cross cutting issues and finally emerging challenges for international environmental law it features chapters by leading experts in the field of international environmental law drawn from a range of countries in order to put forward a truly global approach to the subject The book is split into five parts The foundations of international environmental law covering the principles of international environmental law standards and voluntary commitments sustainable development issues of public participation and environmental rights and compliance state responsibility liability and dispute settlement The key instruments and governance arrangements across the most critical areas of international environmental law biodiversity wildlife freshwater forestry and soils fisheries marine pollution chemicals and waste air and atmospheric pollution and climate change Crucial developments in seven distinct regions of the world Africa Europe North America Latin America South East Asia the polar regions and small island states Cross cutting issues and multidisciplinary developments drawing from multiple other fields of law and beyond to address human rights and Indigenous rights war and armed conflict trade financing investment criminology technology and energy Contemporary challenges and the emerging international environmental law regimes which address these the changing climate forced migration marine plastic debris and future directions in international environmental law Containing chapters on the most critical developments in environmental law in recent years this comprehensive and authoritative book makes for an essential reference work for students scholars and practitioners working in the field Ecological Changes in the Zambezi River Basin Mzime Ndebele-Murisa, 2021-01-11 This book provides an analysis of the ecological conditions and ecosystem goods and services of the Zambezi River Basin ZRB the fourth largest river in Africa Various environmental and anthropogenic factors inclusive of climate environmental flows hydrology morphology pollution and land use changes among others and their interactions are considered as drivers of the river ecosystems The impacts of these drivers on aquatic biota river ecological integrity and the livelihoods of surrounding communities are analysed within the socio economic policy context The book goes beyond the usual inventories and basic research by using the comparative research method CRM in a trans disciplinary manner This CRM analytical approach in this book seeks to interrogate the differences or similarities in socio economic systems livelihoods ecological systems ecosystem goods and services their usage and management under the seemingly different cultural socio economic conditions expected across borders that are within the ZRB The multidisciplinary approach also connects the typical ecological research with social dimensions in a holistic manner The book therefore provides empirical and research based evidence to support strategic planning and policy development in the wake of ecological changes that nations and indeed regions such as the ZRB are grappling with while seeking to sustainably manage precious river systems Water, Climate Change and the Boomerang Effect Larry Swatuk, Lars Wirkus, 2018-07-27 In line with COP21 agreements state led climate change mitigation and adaptation actions are being undertaken to transition to carbon neutral green economies However the capacity of many countries for action is limited and may result in a boomerang effect defined as the unintended negative consequences of such policies and programmes on local communities and their negative feedbacks on the state To avoid this effect there is a need to understand the policy drivers decision making processes and impacts of such action in order to determine the ways and means of minimizing negative effects and maximizing mutually beneficial policy outcomes This book directly engages the policy debates surrounding water resources and climate actions through both theoretical and comparative case studies It develops the boomerang effect concept and sets it in relation to other conceptual tools for understanding the mixed outcomes of state led climate change action for example backdraft effect and maldevelopment It also presents case studies illustrative of the consequences of ill considered state led policy in the water sector from around the world These include Africa China South Asia South America the Middle East Turkey and Vietnam and examples of groundwater hydropower development and forest hydrology where there are often transboundary consequences of a state s policies and actions In this way the book adds empirical and theoretical insights to a still developing debate regarding the appropriate ways and means of combating climate change without undermining state and social development A thriving agricultural sector in a changing climate De Pinto, Alessandro, Ulimwengu, John

M.,2017-10-25 Given its heavy reliance on rainfed agriculture and projected climatic and weather changes SSA faces multidimensional challenges in ensuring food and nutrition security as well as preserving its ecosystems In this regard climate smart agriculture CSA can play an important role in addressing the interlinked challenges of food security and climate change CSA practices aim to achieve three closely related objectives sustainably increase agricultural productivity adapt to climate change and mitigate greenhouse gas GHG emissions The CSA objectives directly contribute to achieving the 2014 Malabo Declaration goals which include commitments to 1 end hunger in Africa by 2025 2 halve poverty by 2025 through inclusive agricultural growth and transformation and 3 enhance the resilience of livelihoods and production systems to climate variability and other related risks These linkages underscore the importance of including CSA in country and regional plans to achieve overarching development objectives in Africa in particular food security and poverty reduction The 2016 Annual Trends and Outlook Report ATOR examines the contribution of CSA to meeting Malabo Declaration goals by taking stock of current knowledge on the effects of climate change reviewing existing evidence of the effectiveness of various CSA strategies and discussing examples of CSA based practices and tools for developing evidence based policies and programs

Research Handbook on International Environmental Law Fitzmaurice, Malgosia,Brus, Marcel,Merkouris, Panos,Rydberg, Agnes,2021-11-12 This thoroughly updated and revised second edition of this foundational Handbook combines practical and theoretical analyses to cover a wide array of cutting edge issues in international environmental law IEL It provides a comprehensive view of the complexity of IEL both as a field in its own right and as part of the wider system of international law

Environmental Futures J. Alcamo,2008-10-10 As scientists and policymakers try to come to grips with problems such as climate change and risks to biodiversity they turn more and more frequently to the method of scenario analysis to better understand the future of these problems Over the last few years scenario analysis has become one of the key tools for bridging environmental science and policy This is the first book to sum up the current practice of environmental scenario analysis and to propose directions for improving its quality and effectiveness Chapters are written by an international group of distinguished scenario experts and provide an excellent starting basis for first time scenario practitioners as well as a collection of new ideas on improving scenario practice for experienced scenario analysts Comprehensive coverage and overview on environmental scenario analysis from a team of international experts First book to address key contemporary issues involved with environmental scenario analysis Gives guidelines for best practicesBenefits Excellent starting base for first time scenario practitioners Helps the reader to interpret scenarios and to place them into the correct context

International Organizations and the Law of the Sea 2000 Barbara Kwiatkowska, Harm Dotinga, Erik J. Molenaar, Alex G. Oude Elferink, Alfred H.A. Soons, 2021-10-25 Now in its 16th year the NILOS Documentary Yearbook provides the reader with an excellent collection of documents related to ocean affairs and the law of the sea issued each year by organizations organs and bodies of the United Nations system Documents of the UN General Assembly Meeting of States Parties to the UN Law of the Sea Convention CLCS ISBA ITLOS Follow Up to the UN Small Island States Conference ECOSOC UNEP and UNCTAD are included first followed by the documents of FAO IAEA ILO IMO and UNESCO IOC As in the previous volumes documents which were issued in the course of 2000 are reproduced while other relevant documents are listed The NILOS Documentary Yearbook has proved to be of invaluable assistance in facilitating access by the international community of scholars and practitioners in ocean affairs and the law of the sea to essential documentation The entry of the 1992 UN Law of the Sea Convention into force on 16 November 1994 and of the Part XI Agreement on 28 July 1996 as well as of the UN Fish Stocks Agreement on 11 December 2001 coupled with the review of the UNCED Agenda 21 at the 2002 Johannesburg World Summit make continuation of this assistance of particular significance in the years to come The members of the Yearbook s Advisory Board are Judges Abdul Koroma and Shigeru Oda of the ICJ UNDOALOS Director Mrs Annick de Marffy Judges Thomas Mensah Dolliver Nelson and Tullio Treves of the ITLOS as well as Rosalie Balkin Edward Brown Lee Kimball Bernard Oxman and Shabtai Rosenne Afro-Eurasia: Assessing Sustainability Ray C. Anderson, Louis Kotz, Stephen Morse, 2012-10-31 Afro Eurasia Assessing Sustainability focuses on the geographic area where humans originated and first began to make use of the natural world Earth s largest landmass stretching from Portugal in the west across the steppes of Russia and south across Africa to the Cape of Good Hope By examining the history of human expansion as well as 21st century pressures to address ecosystem damage across the region international scholars and regional experts weave sustainability into core curricular subjects The interdisciplinary coverage includes national and regional environmental histories as well as business and commerce migration educational institutions law and government and the lifestyles of diverse populations Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies Biliana Cicin-Sain, David Vanderzwaag, Miriam C. Balgos, 2015-05-15 This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis While most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping fishing oil and gas development in the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992 2002 and 2012 sustainable development summits The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated precautionary and anticipatory Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world

Handbook of Water Harvesting and Conservation Saeid Eslamian, Faezeh Eslamian, 2021-04-09 Water harvesting is gaining more and more recognition as the sustainable and resilient alternative to other water supply options It is economically viable socially compatible and environmentally friendly Water harvesting has proven to be a robust solution to overcome or reduce water shortages all over the world To apply this in a sustainable and effective way it is important to understand exactly where it can be applied to make full use of its potential The Handbook of Water Harvesting and Conservation Case Studies and Application Examples is the most comprehensive up to date and applied casebook on water harvesting and conservation yet published The editors bring together the many perspectives into a synthesis that is both academically based and practical in its potential applications The Handbook of Water Harvesting and Conservation Case Studies and Application Examples will be an important tool for education research and technical works in the soil water and watershed management area and will be highly useful for drought strategy planning flood management and adaptation to climate change in all urban agricultural forest rangeland areas

The Middle East and North Africa 2003 Eur, Energy and Environmental Challenges to Security Stephen Stec, Besnik Baraj, 2009-01-25 On 21 November 2007 the grand and elegant Delegates Hall of the Hungarian Parliament was the scene of the opening of a conference to discuss some of the most pressing issues of the day those related to our unending thirst for energy its environmental consequences and the challenges that these bear on security Over the next 3 days scientists parliamentarians and their guests confronted challenged teased and cajoled each other in a NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW entitled Energy and Environmental Challenges to Security affirming that knowledge and public service hold the keys to solving our greatest challenges The magnitude of the security challenge was confirmed while this volume was being prepared In mid 2008 the International Energy Agency issued a report concluding that US 45 trillion would be needed over the next half century to prevent energy shortages and greenhouse gas emissions from undermining global economic growth But lest such large numbers cause us all to shrug this volume brings attention to some of the more manageable aspects of the environment and energy security challenge from addressing conflict resources such as illegal timber that contribute to corruption and regional instability to means and mechanisms to enable the diversification of energy supplies to environmental risk reduction strategies for particular installations The participants in the Hungarian Parliament building were atypical for a NATO Advanced Research Workshop Global Environment Outlook - GEO-6: Healthy Planet, Healthy People UN Environment, 2019-06-06 Published to coincide with the Fourth United Nations Environmental Assembly UN Environment's sixth Global Environment Outlook calls on decision makers to take bold and urgent action to address pressing environmental issues in order to protect the planet and human health By bringing together hundreds of scientists peer reviewers and collaborating institutions and partners the GEO reports build on sound scientific knowledge to provide governments local authorities businesses and individual citizens with the information needed to guide societies to a truly sustainable world by 2050 GEO 6 outlines the current state of the environment illustrates possible future environmental trends and analyses the effectiveness of policies This flagship report shows how governments can put us on the path to a truly sustainable future emphasising that urgent and inclusive action is needed to achieve a healthy planet with healthy people This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core The Europa World Year Book 2008 Joanne Maher, 2008-06-24 First published in 2008 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Climate and Land Degradation Ndegwa Ndiang'ui, 2007-08-28 Based on an International Workshop held in Arusha Tanzania this book presents state of the art papers real world applications and innovative techniques for combating land degradation It offers recommendations for effectively using weather and climate information for sustainable land management practices

Climate Vulnerability, 2013-03-15 Climate change has been the subject of thousands of books and magazines scientific journals and newspaper articles daily It's a subject that can be very political and emotional often blurring the lines between fact and fiction The vast majority of research studies projections and recommendations tend to focus on the human influence on climate change and global warming as the result of CO2 emissions often to the exclusion of other threats that include population growth and the stress placed on energy sources due to emerging global affluence Climate Vulnerability Five Volume Set seeks to strip away the politics and emotion that surround climate change and will assess the broad range of threats using the bottom up approach including CO2 emissions population growth emerging affluence and many others to our five most critical resources water food ecosystems energy and human health Inclusively determining what these threats are while seeking preventive measures and adaptations is at the heart of this unique reference work Takes a Bottom Up approach addressing climate change and the threat to our key resources at the local level first and globally second providing a more accurate and inclusive approach Includes extensive cross referencing which is key to readers as new connections between factors can be discovered Cuts across a number of disciplines and will appeal to Biological Science Earth Environmental Science Ecology and Social Science comprehensively addressing climate change and other threats to our key resources from multiple perspectives
