Education Dept,1922 Report Transvaal (South Africa). Education Department,1924 Towards a New Primary Curriculum for South Africa Carol A. Macdonald,1993 Since 1979 Act 90 The Education and Training Act South Africa s law has stated that an official language i e English or Afrikaans could be used as the medium of instruction after Std 2 fourth grade in black education Almost without exception English was chosen by the primary schools This means that most children are introduced to the new subjects of history science and geography through the medium of English These subjects are encapsulated in textbooks that children find unusable and teachers have difficulty in understanding In 1990 the legislation was amended so that medium of instruction now becomes a matter of negotiation between the Minister of Education and the parents This negotiation is currently under way in many Department of Education and Training schools This change of legislation came as a direct result of research carried out over a period of five years on the Threshold Project 1985 1990 The overt cause of difficulties within the education system would have seemed to be a language policy that traumatises both teachers and pupils Inadequate time and materials are spent preparing children for a change in the medium of learning and the curriculum is not developed carefully enough to lead children to an understanding to a large number of abstract concepts by the fifth year of schooling The Journal of Education ,1920 Democracy and Human Rights in Multicultural Societies Matthias Koenig,Paul F. Primary Education in Crisis Brahm Fleisch, 2008 In the past decade the national preoccupation has been on the crisis in secondary schools Lurking behind the intractable problem of low pass rates the dysfunctional schools and the small number of higher grade mathematics and science graduates is the calamity in primary education Drawing on the work of researchers in a range of fields including psychology sociology anthropology linguistics economics the health sciences and mathematics education this book documents the depth and scope of the primary education crisis and provides a comprehensive and rigorous explanation of its causes Primary education in crisis pulls together the wealth of research on health poverty resources language and teaching as factors in academic achievement in reading writing and mathematics At the centre of the book is an analysis of the published studies that systematically document what teachers teach and fail to teach and why it is that teaching is at the heart of the crisis in primary education The author suggests that there are no quick fixes but only hard choices and that for reform to succeed it must be evidence based Elitism and Meritocracy in Developing Countries Robert E. Klitgaard,1986

Human Rights, Diversity, and National Identity

Patricia E. Bromley,2011 Fundamental world changes that simultaneously undermine a nation state s charisma and promote the rise of a supra national system have wide ranging effects upon national states within a modern global society My dissertation empirically examines the effects of social and cultural globalization on systems of mass schooling which are central institutions in every country Globally primary and secondary education initially emerged as the premier tool for nation states to create a unified national citizenry loyal to their country and socialized into a common cultural tradition I examine the extent to which this original nationalizing purpose of schooling is challenged by the increased emphases on universal human rights and diversity in civic education The analyses consist of two sections Hierarchical linear models are used to analyze a unique primary data source of 521 social science textbooks from 74 countries during the period 1970 2008 These findings show a worldwide increase in emphasis on human rights and increases in discussions of diversity in well established liberal democracies Cross national quantitative analyses are complemented by a qualitative case study of social science curricula in British Columbia BC which examines nation building within a context of strong emphasis on diversity and human rights The BC study utilizes currently approved high school citizenship education textbooks as well as older textbooks dating back to 1871 It also draws on a selection of historical documents including Ministry of Education reports curricular frameworks and high school exit exams Process wise I find the incorporation of human rights and diversity reflects macro level changes in national and global society Content wise I find four main approaches to reconciling ideas of human rights and diversity with national identity 1 framing human rights and multiculturalism as part of national identity 2 using pedagogical approaches that promote multiple perspectives and individual agency 3 celebrating social and scientific figures and accomplishments as the source of national pride and 4 drawing on exogenous sources to affirm state legitimacy This study is one of the first to theorize that civic education worldwide is moving away from a national focus and to provide empirical evidence of this trend A key implication is that educational systems are being repurposed from their original goal of constructing a unitary national citizenry to a new view emphasizing human diversity and equality in a globally interconnected world Further students are increasingly taught that the global civil society and non state actors are important and legitimate agents of social change British Education Index ,1982 Abstract Bulletin of the Institute of Paper Chemistry ,1986-10
