

Fris Frikkie se flukse familie ry graag fiets. Eers trek hulle almal hul fietsryfrokkies aan. Mamma maak 'n groot fles koffie, want daar is nie 'n kafee op pad na die ou fabriek nie. Die toebroodjies en frikkadelle draai sy in foelie toe.

Sy pak alles in die sak met die fraaiings. Sy onthou ook babasussie se fopspeen en die kamera. Eers moet pappa net gou 'n nuwe film in die kamera sit. Sy wonder wie 'n foto van die hele familie sal neem. Pappa frons, want die swart flits is weg en sê netnou dit word donker.

"Wie weet waar die flits is?" vra pappa. "As ons nie die flits kry nie sal ons die fakkel moet saamneem," sê Frikkie. "Is daar fyn feetjies in die ou fabriek, pappa?" vra Friedel.

"Nee, ek glo nie, maar langs die pad sal ons mooi flaminke sien. Ons sal ook baie voëltjies sien fladder. Ons moet net fluister anders skrik hulle." Pappa fluit vrolik terwyl hulle so ry. Gelukkig is die familie fiks en kan hulle flink en vinnig tot by die fabriek ry.

Na 'n heerlike uitstappie is die hele familie stokflou. Nadat hulle na die flikkerende sterre gekyk het, kruip hulle in die vere. Net pappa bly nog wakker, want hy wil eers gou die boek klaar lees.

Creating Books for the Young in the New South Africa Barbara A. Lehman, Jay Heale, Anne Hill, 2014-10-08 This collection of essays analyzes the work of 29 authors and illustrators South African children s and youth literature has a long history The country is the most prolific publisher of children s books on the continent producing perhaps the highest quality literature in Africa Its traditions resonate within the larger world of children s literature but are solidly grounded in African myth and archetypes The African diaspora in the U S and elsewhere have stories rooted in these oral traditions Much has changed in South African literature for children since the 1994 transformation of the country A field once dominated by all white and mostly female writers and illustrators has diversified adding many new voices

Literary Activism Amit Chaudhuri, 2018-02-15 Literary Activism revisits and interrogates and looks to renew the force of the literary It s a movement that emerges from a radically altered landscape for both publishing and academia where what Amit Chaudhuri calls market activism has effected changes on language on the measuring of value on the concept of influence in ways we struggle to recognise Encompassing the perspectives of the writer critic translator academic and publisher the essays in this volume follow no single line of enquiry Rather they offer the beginnings of an analysis of the literary world at a certain moment of globalisation while also questioning whether a literary world exists and if it does where its boundaries lie The collection moves in many directions from Arun Kolatkar and his near heroic refusal of both marketplace and reputation to Derek Attridge who argues for a form of affirmative criticism which positions the critic as a lover of the text while from Amsterdam Dubravka Ugre i reflects on life in a literary out of nation zone adrift in a territory where intellectual protest has been stripped of ideological impetus and subsumed by the voraciousness of the market Taken together these essays initiate a series of conversations about who reads what and why about the practice of writing and criticism at this particular contemporary moment and about the activities and institutions that shape an understanding of what literature is and what it can do

The Work of World Literature Francesco Giusti, Benjamin Lewis Robinson, 2021-04-27 The contentious discourse around world literature tends to stress the world in the phrase This volume in contrast asks what it means to approach world literature by inflecting the question of the literary Debates for against and around world literature have brought renewed attention to the worldly aspects of the literary enterprise Literature is studied with regard to its sociopolitical and cultural references contexts and conditions of production circulation distribution and translation But what becomes of the literary when one speaks of world literature Responding to Derek Attridge s theory of how literature works the contributions in this volume explore in diverse ways and with attention to a variety of literary practices what it might mean to speak of the work of world literature The volume shows how attention to literariness complicates the ethical and political conundrums at the centre of debates about world literature Literary Transactions in South Africa Michael Chapman, 2025-04-03 A representative overview of some of the most pressing concerns in contemporary literary criticism in South Africa demonstrating literary forms shaping power in the interpretation of politically contentious content Rather than pressing literature into the service of a political cause or programme this study's purpose its politics of interpretation is to open literature to the potential of human experience in both the personal and the public life The society of focus South Africa is a society of political contestation Instead of prioritizing the what of contestation however Michael Chapman explores contestation through the how of the literary work In sharp transactions between an intransitivity of form and a compulsion to communicate the book elucidates an ethics of aesthetics in J M Coetzee and Nadine Gordimer and the best of modernism and the worst of modernism in Roy Campbell's poetry It also asks Can Themba's style of the shebeens in the 1950s be re-visited in a contemporary context of gender based abuse Why or how are Ellen Kuzwayo and Mtutuzeli Matshoba writing in the struggle years of the 1970s simultaneously less than artists and more than artists Has the interpretative frame of the postcolonial best served fiction after apartheid What language of interpretation best releases the voices of contemporary women's poetry a poetry which in its play on identities and identifications looks both inwards to its locality and outwards to the globe Alert to both South Africa's colonial past and its assertions of today Literary Transactions in South Africa pursues the challenge of interpreting a literature of disjuncture between Africa and the West or the South and the North

Abortion Ecologies in Southern African Fiction Caitlin E. Stobie, 2023-01-12 Focusing on texts from the late 1970s to the 1990s which document both changing attitudes to terminations of pregnancy and dramatic environmental medical and socio-political developments during southern Africa's liberation struggles this book examines how four writers from Botswana South Africa and Zimbabwe address the ethics of abortion and reproductive choice Viewing recent fiction through the lens of new materialist theory which challenges conventional individual based notions of human rights by asserting that all matter holds agency this book argues that southern African women writers anticipate and exceed current feminist revivals of materialist thought Not only do the authors question contemporary discourse framing abortion as either a confirmation of a woman's right to choose or an unethical termination of human life but they challenge conventional understandings of development growth and time Through close readings of both literal gestation in the selected texts and the metaphorical reproduction of the post-colonial nation this study advances the concept of reproductive agency creating a range of queer ecocritical alternatives to tropes such as those of the Mother Country Mother Africa or the birth of a nation This study situates abortion narratives by Wilma Stockenström translated by J M Coetzee Zo Wicomb Yvonne Vera and Bessie Head alongside contemporary postcolonial feminist theories melding traditional beliefs with materialist views to reconsider the future of reproductive health matters in southern Africa Merging queer ecocritical perspectives from materialism and postcolonialism this study will appeal to students and researchers in the medical humanities new materialisms and postcolonial studies Spatial Justice After Apartheid Jaco Barnard-Naudé, Julia Chryssostalis, 2022-08-25 This book considers the question of spatial justice after apartheid from several disciplinary perspectives jurisprudence law literature architecture photography and psychoanalysis are just some of the disciplines engaged here However the main theoretical device on which the authors comment is the legacy of what in Carl Schmitt s terms is nomos as the spatialised normativity of sociality Each author considers within the practical and theoretical constraints of their topic the question of what nomos in its modern configuration may or may not contribute to a thinking of spatial justice after apartheid On the whole the collection forces a confrontation between law s spatiality in a postcolonial era on the one hand and the traumatic legacy of what Paul Gilroy has called the colonial nomos on the other hand In the course of this confrontation critical questions of continuation extension disruption and rewriting are raised and confronted in novel and innovative ways that both challenge Schmitt s account of nomos and affirm the centrality of the constitutive relation between law and space The book promises to resituate the trajectory of nomos while considering critical instances through which the spatial legacy of apartheid might at last be overcome This interdisciplinary book will appeal to scholars of critical legal theory political philosophy aesthetics and architecture A Companion to African Literatures Olakunle George, 2021-03-22 Rediscover the diversity of modern African literatures with this authoritative resource edited by a leader in the field How have African literatures unfolded in their rich diversity in our modern era of decolonization nationalisms and extensive transnational movement of peoples How have African writers engaged urgent questions regarding race nation ethnicity gender and sexuality And how do African literary genres interrelate with traditional oral forms or audio visual and digital media A Companion to African Literatures addresses these issues and many more Consisting of essays by distinguished scholars and emerging leaders in the field this book offers rigorous deeply engaging discussions of African literatures on the continent and in diaspora It covers the four main geographical regions East and Central Africa North Africa Southern Africa and West Africa presenting ample material to learn from and think with A Companion To African Literatures is divided into five parts The first four cover different regions of the continent while the fifth part considers conceptual issues and newer directions of inquiry Chapters focus on literatures in European languages officially used in Africa English French and Portuguese as well as homegrown African languages Afrikaans Amharic Arabic Swahili and Yoruba With its lineup of lucid and authoritative analyses readers will find in A Companion to African Literatures a distinctive rewarding academic resource Perfect for undergraduate and graduate students in literary studies programs with an African focus A Companion to African Literatures will also earn a place in the libraries of teachers researchers and professors who wish to strengthen their background in the study of African literatures

Rethinking Khoe and San Indigeneity, Language and Culture in Southern Africa Julie Grant, Keyan G. Tomaselli, 2022-09-19 The San hunter gatherers and Khoe herders of southern Africa were dispossessed of their land before during and after the European colonial period which started in 1652 They were often enslaved and forbidden from practicing their culture and speaking their languages In South Africa under apartheid after 1948 they were reclassified as Coloured which further undermined Khoe and San culture forcing them to reconfigure and realign their identities and loyalties Southern Africa is no longer under colonial or apartheid rule the San and Khoe however continue in the struggle to maintain the remnants of their languages and cultures and are marginalised by the dominant peoples of the region The San in particular continue to command very extensive research attention from a variety of disciplines from anthropology and linguistics to genetics They are however usually studied as static historical objects but they are not merely peoples of the past as is often assumed they are very much alive in contemporary society with cultural and language needs This book brings together studies from a range of disciplines to examine what it means to be Indigenous Khoe and San in contemporary southern Africa It considers the current constraints on Khoe and San identity language and culture constantly negotiating an indeterminate social positioning where they are treated as the inconvenient indigenous Usually studied as original anthropos but out of their time this book shifts attention from the past to the present and how the San have negotiated language literacy and identity for coping in the period of modernity It reveals that Afrikaans is indeed an African language incubated not only by Cape Malay slaves working in the kitchens of the early Dutch settlers but also by the Khoe and San who interacted with sailors from passing ships plying the West coast of southern Africa from the 14th century The book re-examines the idea of literacy its relationship to language and how these shape identity The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies Like Family Ena

Jansen, 2019-04-01 An analytic and historical perspective of literary texts to understand the position of domestic workers in South Africa More than a million black South African women are domestic workers Precariously situated between urban and rural areas rich and poor white and black these women are at once intimately connected and at a distant remove from the families they serve Ena Jansen shows that domestic worker relations in South Africa were shaped by the institution of slavery establishing social hierarchies and patterns of behavior that persist today To support her argument Jansen examines the representation of domestic workers in a diverse range of texts in English and Afrikaans Authors include Andr Brink JM Coetzee Imraan Coovadia Nadine Gordimer Elsa Joubert Antjie Krog Sindiwe Magona Kopano Matlwa Es kia Mphahlele Sisonke Msimang Zukiswa Wanner and Zo Wicomb Like Family is an updated version of the award winning Soos familie 2015 and the highly acclaimed 2016 Dutch translation Bijna familie A Necklace of Springbok Ears Helize van

Vuuren, 2016-05-30 Where once there were twenty nine San Bushman languages and or dialects in Southern Africa few now remain The loss of these languages results in the loss of their stored oral culture and indigenous knowledge All that remains are archaeological evidence and rock art or slim archives recorded by individuals such as Wilhelm Bleek Lucy Lloyd and GR von Wielligh who heard the encroaching language and cultural death knell before it was too late The contents of this study hang together as in a e necklace of springbok ears The last dancing rattle and necklace has long since crumbled to dust Yet the binding string serves as a useful metaphor for the literary texts discussed here and their relation to the culture of the First People. The cosmology embedded in the Xam myths as recorded by Von Wielligh between the Cederberg and the Gariep or Orange River seems to share much with contemporary consciousness in order to survive humankind needs to recognise the interdependence of all life.
