Inventing Authenticity Carrie Helms Tippen,2018-08-12 In Inventing Authenticity Carrie Helms Tippen examines the rhetorical power of storytelling in cookbooks to fortify notions of southernness Tippen brings to the table her ongoing hunt for recipe cards and evaluates a wealth of cookbooks with titles like Y all Come Over and Bless Your Heart and famous cookbooks such as Sean Brock s Heritage and Edward Lee s Smoke and Pickles She examines her own southern history grounding it all in a thorough understanding of the relevant literature The result is a deft and entertaining dive into the territory of southern cuisine black eyed peas and cornbread fried chicken and fried okra pound cake and peach cobbler and a look at and beyond southern food tropes that reveals much about tradition identity and the yearning for authenticity Tippen discusses the act of cooking as a way to perform and therefore reinforce the identity associated with a recipe and the complexities inherent in attempts to portray the foodways of a region marked by a sometimes distasteful history Inventing Authenticity meets this challenge head on delving into problems of cultural appropriation and representations of race thorny questions about authorship and more The commonplace but deceptively complex southern cookbook can sustain our sense of where we come from and who we are or who we think we are

A Place to Belong Amber O'Neal Johnston,2023-09-05 A guide for families of all backgrounds to celebrate cultural heritage and embrace inclusivity in the home and beyond Gone are the days when socially conscious parents felt comfortable teaching their children to merely tolerate others Instead they are looking for a way to authentically embrace the fullness of their diverse communities A Place to Belong offers a path forward for families to honor their cultural heritage and champion diversity in the context of daily family life by Fostering open dialogue around discrimination race gender disability and class Teaching hard history in an age appropriate way Curating a diverse selection of books and media choices in which children see themselves and people who are different Celebrating cultural heritage through art music and poetry Modeling activism and engaging in community service projects as a family Amber O Neal Johnston a homeschooling mother of four shows parents of all backgrounds how to create a home environment where children feel secure in their own personhood and culture enabling them to better understand and appreciate people who are racially and culturally different A Place to Belong gives parents the tools to empower children to embrace their unique identities while feeling beautifully tethered to their global community

Afro-Nostalgia Badia Ahad-Legardy,2021-04-12 As early as the eighteenth century white Americans and Europeans believed that people of African descent could not experience nostalgia As a result black lives have been predominately narrated through historical scenes of slavery and oppression This phenomenon created a missing archive of romantic historical memories Badia Ahad Legardy mines literature visual culture performance and culinary arts to form an archive of black historical joy for use by the African descended Her analysis reveals how contemporary black artists find more than trauma and subjugation within the historical past Drawing on contemporary African American culture and recent psychological studies she reveals nostalgia s capacity to produce positive emotions Afro nostalgia emerges as an expression of black romantic recollection that creates and inspires good feelings even within our darkest moments Original and provocative Afro Nostalgia offers black historical pleasure as a remedy to contend with the disillusionment of the present and the traumas of the past

The Routledge Handbook of Vegan Studies Laura Wright,2021-03-30 This wide ranging volume explores the tension between the dietary practice of veganism and the manifestation construction and representation of a vegan identity in today s society Emerging in the early 21st century vegan studies is distinct from more familiar conceptions of animal studies an umbrella term for a three pronged field that gained prominence in the late 1990s and early 2000s consisting of critical animal studies human animal studies and posthumanism While veganism is a consideration of these modes of inquiry it is a decidedly different entity an ethical delineator that for many scholars marks a complicated boundary between theoretical pursuit and lived experience The Routledge Handbook of Vegan Studies is the must have reference for the important topics problems and key debates in the subject area and is the first of its kind Comprising over 30 chapters by a team of international contributors this handbook is divided into five parts History of vegan studies Vegan studies in the disciplines Theoretical intersections Contemporary media entanglements Veganism around the world These sections contextualize veganism beyond its status as a dietary choice situating veganism within broader social ethical legal theoretical and artistic discourses This book will be essential reading for students and researchers of vegan studies animal studies and environmental ethics

Black Food Matters Hanna Garth,Ashanté M. Reese,2020-10-27 An in depth look at Black food and the challenges it faces today For Black Americans the food system is broken When it comes to nutrition Black consumers experience an unjust and inequitable distribution of resources Black Food Matters examines these issues through in depth essays that analyze how Blackness is contested through food differing ideas of what makes our sustenance healthy and Black individuals own beliefs about what their cuisine should be Primarily written by nonwhite scholars and framed through a focus on Black agency instead of deprivation the essays here showcase Black communities fighting for the survival of their food culture The book takes readers into the real world of Black sustenance examining animal husbandry practices in South Carolina the work done by the Black Panthers to ensure food equality and Black women who are pioneering urban agriculture These essays also explore individual and community values the influence of history and the ongoing struggle to meet needs and affirm Black life A comprehensive look at Black food culture and the various forms of violence that threaten the future of this cuisine Black Food Matters centers Blackness in a field that has too often framed Black issues through a white centric lens offering new ways to think about access privilege equity and justice Contributors Adam Bledsoe U of Minnesota Billy Hall Analena Hope Hassberg California State Polytechnic U Pomona Yuson Jung Wayne State U Kimberly

Unpalatable Carrie Helms Tippen, 2025-01-15 The cookbook genre is highly conventional with an orientation toward celebration and success From glossy photographs to heartwarming stories and adjective rich ingredient lists the cookbook tradition primes readers for pleasure Yet the overarching narrative of the region is often one of pain loss privation exploitation poverty and suffering of various kinds While some cookbook writers go to great lengths to avoid reminding readers of this painful past others invoke that pain as a marker of southern authenticity Still others use stories of southern suffering as an opportunity to make space for reconciliation reparation or apology for past wrongs In Unpalatable Stories of Pain and Pleasure in Southern Cookbooks author Carrie Helms Tippen attempts to understand the unique rhetorical situation of the southern cookbook as it negotiates a tension between the expectations of the genre and the prevailing metanarratives of the southern experience one focused on pleasure and the other rooted in pain Through an analysis of commercially published southern cookbooks from the 1990s to the present Tippen examines the range of rhetorical purposes and strategies writers have employed some of which undermine the reality of a painful past and cause harm or violence and others which serve as tools for truth and reconciliation

Food Faiths Catherine L. Newell, 2023-08-29 Food Faiths Diet Religion and the Science of Spiritual Eating explores how individuals internalize scientific knowledge regarding health and diet and then incorporate that information into their lives as the basis of a personal spiritual practice In this book Catherine L Newell examines how science is used to justify a dietary lifestyle and investigates the world of spiritual eating which is comprised of practitioners who identify themselves not by a religion but by their diet These diets are based in diverse sciences such as anthropology ecology systems biology nutritional studies biomedicine and physiology adherents view their diet as a lifestyle a path to enlightenment and a nebulously defined point of health This in turn enables the practitioner to locate themselves in relation to other members of their community to older traditions suffused with religious practice and to understand their praxis in relation to the entire biosphere While on one level this project explores how food health and diet can be a source of spiritual fulfillment on another level Food Faiths illustrates how science and religion are subsumed into a culture and merged to form the basis of an individual's lived spiritual practice
