Gifford,2012-12-06 Bernard R Gifford In the United States the standardized test has become one of the major sources of information for reducing uncertainty in the determination of individual merit and in the allocation of merit based educational training and employment opportunities Most major institutions of higher education require applicants to supplement their records of academic achievements with scores on standardized tests Similarly in the workplace as a condition of employment or assignment to training programs more and more employers are requiring prospective employees to sit for standardized tests In short with increasing frequency and intensity individual members of the political economy are required to transmit to the opportunity marketplace scores on standardized examinations that purport to be objective measures of their and potential In many instances these test scores are the abilities talents only signals about their skills that job applicants are permitted to send to prospective employers THE NATIONAL COMMISSION ON TESTING AND PUBLIC POLICY In view of the importance of these issues to our current national agenda it was proposed that the Human Rights and Governance and the Education and Culture Programs of the Ford Foundation support the establishment of a blue ribbon National Commission on Testing and Public Policy to investigate some of the major problems as well as the untapped opportunities created by recent trends in the use of standardized tests particularly in the workplace and in schools National Assessment of Educational Progress 1969-1983 Theodore B. Pratt,1984 During its first 14 years of existence the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP was located at the Education Commission of the States ECS This annotated bibliography of 575 references lists all major publications by or about NAEP published between 1969 and 1983 References are in a classified arrangement by specific or special assessment Documents not dealing with a specific assessment are grouped by Methodological Publications Special Analyses and General and Miscellaneous Materials by NAEP are separated from materials about NAEP done by external organizations Subject Personal Author and Preparing Institution indexes are provided The compilation is based on materials documents and journal articles archived in the database of the Educational Resources Information Center ERIC and therefore most documents cited can be obtained through the ERIC Document Reproduction Service EDRS WTB

the exams were conducted personally by successive kings who pursued Confucian ideals that found expression in the enormous value placed on the pursuit of wisdom and learning In the 21st century we are both puzzled and impressed by this tradition Puzzled by such an explicit commitment to a meritocracy in an essentially feudal society impressed by this enthusiasm for learning and the pursuit of wisdom at the highest level of society Yet there are also important similarities between the 11th and 21st centuries Then as now assessment was associated with excellence high standards pr tige and competition success for the chosen few disappointment for the majority Then as now the pursuit of excellence was embedded in a social context that favoured the elite and determined success in terms of the predilections of the p erful Then as now the purpose of the assessment the way it was conducted and its impact on society all re ected the social and economic priorities of the day
