Teach on Purpose! Leslie David Burns, Stergios Botzakis, 2016 Great teaching is not just a matter of talent or creativity or passion Teachers are made not born and great teachers know why they do what they do in their classrooms They do it strategically and purposefully based on technique Teach on Purpose demonstrates a high quality research based and practical approach to teaching that focuses on how to use data about students' identities, experiences and knowledge to design responsive curriculum and instruction that ensures learning The authors provide secondary school teachers with scientifically proven strategies for creating learning environments that increase student motivation, engagement and academic achievement The text features model units authored and taught by practicing classroom teachers in math, science, social studies and language arts to demonstrate key principles that can be used in any classroom to be a true professional educator Teach on Purpose empowers teachers across all content areas to create meaningful teaching and learning experiences together with their students for the success of all Examines powerfully both the art and the science, the heart and the mind of teaching, arguing for distributive practices that link healing and hope to profound opportunities based in responsive classroom engagements David Kirkland, associate professor of English and Urban Education, New York University Will energize you and remind you why you joined the teaching profession in the first place Renee Boss, National Board Certified Teacher and Education Blogger Encourages us all to remember that we shape our students with the skills we help them develop and just as equally with the fires we ignite within them Ashley Lamb Sinclair, former student and 2016 Kentucky Teacher of the Year Soon to be teachers, new teachers, veteran teachers, embittered teachers, emboldened teachers and even those who prepare and work with those teachers will benefit from this book Brandon Abdon, Advanced Placement Program The College Board

Visual Literacy Mark Newman, Donna Ogle, 2019-10-31 Visual Literacy examines how teachers can use visuals to improve learning for all students It provides teachers with a foundation in visual literacy defined as the ability to read, think and communicate with visually presented information Results of studies of students using visual information indicate that most students are clearly lacking in the tools needed to use visuals effectively The book orients teachers to visual literacy and the world of visuals It discusses various classroom tested strategies and activities for all students including second language learners and students with special needs Stressing visual literacy skills helps students understand a visual more deeply so they can master the content they are learning Teachers will learn to employ a literacy triad of reading, thinking and communicating to aid students in their study of visuals First they inquire into the visual, reading it for content and context including assessing the authenticity of the document Second they think about the document by analyzing interpreting and evaluating it to come up with answers to their inquiry Graphic organizers help students decipher the content and understand the meaning of the visual document connecting it to prior and future instruction Third they communicate their findings using visuals And Action! Kathy Swan,Mark Hofer,2013-11-12 And Action Directing Documentaries in the Social Studies Classroom provides social studies educators with the background knowledge conceptual understanding and tools necessary to design and facilitate classroom documentary projects in the K 12 social studies classroom The authors have spent more than ten years in classrooms working collaboratively with teachers to design and research classroom documentary projects Recognizing the challenges of this kind of work the authors partnered with filmmakers historians educational technologists and classroom teachers with experience in leading documentary projects to refine a production process that more closely mirrors the work of filmmakers With this book the authors draw on all of these experiences to assist social studies educators to efficiently and effectively structure and assess documentary projects Educators will learn ways to transition student learning away from digital encyclopedia entries toward a more authentic documentary approach that focuses on disciplined inquiry and the use of evidenced based arguments Teaching in a

Globally-Connected World Ervin F. Sparapani,Pamela L. Ross McClain,2016-07-29 This book examines the current social political economic and religious climate of the world makes projections for the future and then makes suggestions for what the contributors believe educators need to think about in order to adequately prepare young people to successfully navigate that future We live in a globally connected world and young people as they move into the future need to be prepared to live in that future Schools and teachers tend to focus on the present which is okay however schools and teachers must decide what is important to know in the present in order for young people to be successful in the future The responsibility of education today must be to prepare learners to live in an unknown future that is global and not be so focused on an uncertain present

An Ethnohistorian in Rupert's Land Jennifer S. H. Brown,2017-08-10 In 1670 the ancient homeland of the Cree and Ojibwe people of Hudson Bay became known to the English entrepreneurs of the Hudson s Bay Company as Rupert s Land after the founder and absentee landlord Prince Rupert For four decades Jennifer S H Brown has examined the complex relationships that developed among the newcomers and the Algonquian communities who hosted and tolerated the fur traders and later the missionaries anthropologists and others who found their way into Indigenous lives and territories The eighteen essays gathered in this book explore Brown s investigations into the surprising range of interactions among Indigenous people and newcomers as they met or observed one another from a distance and as they competed compromised and rejected or adapted to change While diverse in their subject matter the essays have thematic unity in their focus on the old HBC territory and its peoples from the 1600s to the present More than an anthology the chapters of An Ethnohistorian in Rupert s Land provide examples of Brown s exceptional skill in the close study of texts including oral documents images artifacts and other cultural expressions The volume as a whole represents the scholarly evolution of one of the leading ethnohistorians in Canada and the United States
