Joseph James DeAngelo — aka the Golden State Killer — was responsible for a staggering 50 home-invasion rapes and 22 murders in California between 1974 and 1979. In his new six-part documentary series based on the book of the same name, author Michael Fitzmaurice takes other bits of actor Patton Oswalt, performed them into the dark world of the violent predator, and reveals a complicit and flawed investigation that challenged police for decades. In tonight's premiere episode, Millennium becomes immersed in the graphic details of the case, commencing with late-night sleuths, trading facts, and piecing together the puzzle. The series includes interviews and police files, as well as more interviews with detectives, survivors and family members, at the bottom.

Playing Doctor Joseph Turow, 2010-08-26 Joe Turow's Playing Doctor disquiets and challenges the reader's intellect with cogent analysis of the forces that have shaped television's portrayal of doctors and the medical world For that alone it is a fantastic read But Dr Turow also pleases the mind with well written and amusing stories interviews and behind the scenes anecdotes that bring to life in an eminently readable style the fascinating world of TV medicine David Foster M D supervising producer writer and medical consultant for House Joseph Turow takes us behind the scenes of such hit television series as ER Grey's Anatomy and House to reveal the complex relationship viewers have with their beloved fictional caregivers Turow carefully probes the history of TV medical series and presents a compelling argument for telling more truthful medical stories in the future to reflect and address the precarious state of our health care system today Neal Baer M D executive producer of Law Order: Special Victims Unit The great contribution of Turow's book in addition to providing a highly readable and smart overview of medical shows over the years is to examine the consequences of the gap between the reality of medical care and the often romanticized heroic depictions on television This would be a very good book for professors to use in teaching a range of courses in communications studies from introductory courses to more specialized classes on health and the media Susan Douglas Catherine Neafie Kellogg Professor Arthur F Thurnau Professor Communications Studies Department Chair University of Michigan Playing Doctor is an engaging and highly perceptive history of the medical TV series from its inception to the present day Turow offers an inside look at the creation of iconic doctor shows as well as a detailed history of the programs an analysis of changing public perceptions of doctors and medicine and an insightful commentary on how medical dramas have both exploited and shaped these perceptions Drawing on extensive interviews with creators directors and producers Playing Doctor is a classic in the field of communications studies This expanded edition includes a new introduction placing the book in the contemporary context of the health care crisis as well as new chapters covering the intervening twenty years of television programming Turow uses recent research and interviews with principals in contemporary television doctor shows such as ER Grey s Anatomy House and Scrubs to illuminate the extraordinary ongoing cultural influence of medical shows Playing Doctor situates the television vision of medicine as a limitless high tech resource against the realities underlying the health care debate both yesterday and today Joseph Turow is Robert Lewis Shayon Professor at the Annenberg School for Communication University of Pennsylvania He was named a Distinguished Scholar by the National Communication Association and a Fellow of the International Communication Association in 2010 He has authored eight books edited five and written more than 100 articles on mass media industries He has also produced a DVD titled Prime Time Doctors Why Should You Care that has been distributed to all first year medical students with the support of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Praise for the first edition of Playing Doctor With Playing Doctor Joseph Turow has established himself as one of the foremost analytic historians of the interplay between television its audiences and other American institutions George Comstock S I Newhouse Professor at the Newhouse School of Public Communications Syracuse University in Health Affairs Cover image Eric Dane Kate Walsh Sara Ramirez and crew members on the set of Grey s Anatomy American Broadcasting Company Inc Television Variety Shows David M. Inman, 2014-12-03 For the few hundred television viewers in 1946 a special treat on the broadcast schedule was the variety show called Hour Glass It was the first TV program to go beyond talking heads cooking demonstrations and sporting events featuring instead dancers comics singers and long commercials for its sponsor Chase and Sanborn coffee Within two years another variety show Texaco Star Theatre became the first true television hit and would be credited with the sales of thousands of television sets The variety show formula was a staple of television in its first 30 years in part because it lent itself to a medium where everything had to be live and preferably inside a studio Most of the early television stars including Jackie Gleason Milton Berle Sid Caesar Ed Sullivan Red Skelton Dinah Shore and Arthur Godfrey rose to prominence through weekly variety shows In the 1960s major stars such as Jerry Lewis Dean Martin Judy Garland and Danny Kaye were hosting variety shows By the 1970s the format was giving way to sitcoms and dramas but pop music stars Sonny and Cher Tony Orlando and Dawn and Donny and Marie Osmond hosted some of the last of the species This book details 57 variety shows from the 1940s through the 1990s A history of each show is first provided followed by a brief look at each episode Air date guest stars sketches performed and a listing of songs featured are included Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress.
