A World Divided Eric D. Weitz,2021-06 A global history of human rights in a world of nations that grant rights to some while denying them to others Once dominated by vast empires the world is now divided into some 200 independent countries that proclaim human rights a transformation that suggests that nations and human rights inevitably develop together But the reality is far more problematic as Eric Weitz shows in this compelling global history of the fate of human rights in a world of nation states Through vivid histories from virtually every continent A World Divided describes how since the eighteenth century nationalists have established states that grant human rights to some people while excluding others setting the stage for many of today's problems from the refugee crisis to right wing nationalism Only the advance of international human rights will move us beyond a world divided between those who have rights and those who don't      Dictionary Catalog of the Research Libraries of the New York Public Library, 1911-1971 New York Public Library. Hollywood or History? Sarah J. Kaka, 2022-01-01 The rationale for the present text Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach About Inequality and Inequity Throughout History stems from two main things First and foremost is the fact that the reviews of the first two volumes in the Hollywood or History series have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioners Classroom utility and teacher practice have continued to be the primary objectives in developing the Hollywood or History strategy The second thing is that this most recent volume in the series takes it in a new direction rather than focusing on eras in history it focuses on the themes of inequity and inequality throughout history and how teachers can utilize the Hollywood or History strategy to tackle some of the more complicated content throughout history that many teachers tend to shy away from There is a firm belief that students' connection to film along with teachers' ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching challenging topics such as inequity and inequality in terms of gender race socioeconomic status and so much more The book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6-12 that address nine different topics centered around inequity and inequality throughout history many of which connect students to the world we are living in today The intended audience for the book are teachers who teach social studies at the 6th-12th grade level both in the United States and other countries An additional audience will be college and university social studies history methods professors in the United States and worldwide

Storytelling in Museums Adina Langer, 2022-06-22 With chapters written by a diverse set of practitioners from across the museum field and around the world Storytelling in Museums explores the efficacy and ethics of storytelling in museums The book shows how museums use personal local and specific stories to make visitors feel welcome while inspiring them to engage with new ideas and unfamiliar situations At the same time the book explores the responsibilities of museum practitioners toward the storytellers included in their narratives and how those responsibilities shift over time and manifest in different contexts The book s eighteen chapters represent a conversation among a diverse set of professionals for whom storytelling connotes their daily museum practice As educators collectors curators designers marketers researchers planners and collaborators the authors of this book consider the real work of storytelling from every angle From the inclusion of personal stories in educational programs to the meta narratives on display in exhibitions this book balances practical examples with ethical considerations placing the praxis of storytelling within the larger context of the 21st century museum The book moves beyond advocacy for storytelling as an essential part of the museum s toolkit to explore the many ways in which museums use personal stories and multiple storytelling techniques to support the larger public narratives embedded in their missions The contributors demonstrate how museums that emphasize storytelling from multiple angles can serve as a kind of counterpoint to our tendency to fixate on singular images of things we know little about They encourage museums to both acknowledge that they cannot control the narrative and to embrace their power to contribute to it through the multivalent multivocal stories they choose to share
