2010 Report to Congress of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission,2010 China's Implementation of the Rulings of the World Trade Organization Weihuan Zhou,2019-10-03 Amid the ongoing crisis surrounding the WTO China s role and behaviour in the multilateral trading system has attracted overwhelming attention This timely monograph provides the first comprehensive and systemic analysis of China s compliance with the rulings of the WTO s dispute settlement mechanism DSM It covers all the disputes in which China has been a respondent during its 17 year WTO membership and offers a detailed discussion of China s implementation of adverse WTO rulings its approaches to settling WTO disputes the possible explanations for such approaches and post compliance issues The book shows how China has utilised the limitations and flexibilities of WTO rulings to ensure that its implementation of the rulings not only delivers adequate compliance but also maintains its own interests Overall this book argues that the issues relating to the quality of China s compliance and post compliance practices concern the loopholes within the DSM itself which may be utilised by all WTO Members However despite the loopholes China s record of compliance suggests that the DSM has been largely effective in inducing compliance and influencing domestic policy making It is therefore in the interest of all WTO Members and other stakeholders to protect the DSM as the crown jewel of the multilateral trading system

Assessing Intellectual Property Compliance in Contemporary China Kristie Thomas,2017-02-14 Since its accession to the World Trade Organisation WTO in December 2001 China has been committed to full compliance with the Trade Related Intellectual Property Rights TRIPS Agreement This text considers the development of intellectual property in China and offers an interdisciplinary analysis of China s compliance with the TRIPS Agreement using theories originating in international relations and law It notes that despite significant efforts to amend China s substantive IP laws to prepare for WTO accession and sweeping changes to domestic legislation a significant gap existed between the laws on paper and as enforced in practice and that infringements to the agreement are still prevalent The book examines how compliance with international rules can be promoted and encouraged in a specific jurisdiction Making a case for a wider more interdisciplinary and global outlook it contends that compliance needs to align with the national interests of relevant countries and jurisdictions as governments economic interests support the greater enforcement of the IP laws

The Fundamental Dynamic Effect on Reform and Opening in China SHAO Binhong,2019-10-29 The Fundamental Dynamic

Effect on Reform and Opening in China is the seventh volume of the series China in the World The year 2018 marks the fortieth year of China's reform and opening China's reform and opening has involved many areas This volume focuses on reform and opening's dynamic mechanisms but it also touches on how to look at some of the problems that these dynamic mechanisms face today The articles in this volume explore the driving force of China's reform and opening up from the perspective of institutional changes such as the political economy of globalization and China's options in response to globalization's retrogression and the re-construction of world order What are the strategies for upgrading the competitiveness of an emerging major power Why does world need a new concept of openness What are the four major challenges for the world economy How do Chinese scholars think in an Anti Globalization environment Operation of the Trade Agreements Program, The Year in Trade, 56th Report 2004 , OECD Reviews of Regulatory Reform: China 2009 Defining the Boundary between the Market and the State OECD,2009-05-05 This review of China's regulatory system focuses on the overall economic context for regulatory reform the government's capacity to manage regulatory reform competition policy and enforcement and market openness China and the International Order Michael J. Mazarr,Timothy R. Heath,Astrid Stuth Cevallos,2018-05-21 The question of how China's rise will affect the post World War II international order carries considerable significance for the future of global politics This report evaluates the character and possible future of China's engagement with the postwar order The resulting portrait is anything but straightforward China's engagement with the order remains a complex often contradictory work in progress This report offers four major findings about the relationship of China to the international order First China's behavior over the past two decades does not mark it as an opponent or saboteur of the order but rather as a conditional supporter Since China undertook a policy of international engagement in the 1980s the level and quality of its participation in the order rivals that of most other states Second looking forward the posture China takes toward the institutions norms and rules of a shared order is now in significant flux various outcomes from continued qualified support to more aggressive challenges are possible Third partly because of this uncertainty a strengthened and increasingly multilateral international order can provide a critical tool for the United States and other countries to shape and constrain rising Chinese power Finally modifications to the order on the margins in response to Chinese preferences pose less of a threat to a stable international system than a future in which China is alienated from that system However these modifications must be governed by strictly articulated end points 2005 Report to Congress of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission United States. Emerging Powers in the International Economic Order Sonia E. Rolland, David M. Trubek, 2019-08-01 The post war liberal economic order seems to be crumbling placing the world at an inflection point China has emerged as a major force and other emerging economies seek to play a role in shaping world trade and investment law Might they band together to mount a wholesale challenge to current rules and institutions Emerging Powers in the International Economic Order argues that resistance from the Global South and the creation of China led alternative spaces will have some impact but no robust alternative vision will emerge Significant legal innovations from the South depart from the mainstream neoliberal model but these countries are driven by pragmatism and strategic self interest and not a common ideological orientation nor do they intend to fully dismantle the current ordering In this book Sonia E Rolland and David M Trubek predict a more pluralistic world which is neither the continued hegemony of neoliberalism nor a full blown alternative to it
