A Criminology Of Narrative Fiction Rafe McGregor, 2022-07-12 Drawing on complex narratives across film TV novels and graphic novels this authoritative critical analysis demonstrates the value of fictional narratives as a tool for understanding explaining and reducing crime and social harm McGregor establishes an original theory of the criminological value of fiction

Post-Monolingual Anglophone Novels Birgit Neumann, 2025-09-19 Engaging with recent research in literary multilingualism studies the global anglophone and comparative studies this book theorizes the so called post monolingual anglophone novels Inspired by Yasemin Yildiz's Beyond the Mother Tongue The Postmonolingual Condition 2012 post monolingual anglophone novels are understood as literary texts that activate multi and translingual strategies to mount a challenge to the monolingual norm and the homogenizing aspirations of English Post monolingual anglophone novels employ literary configurations of multi and translingualism without ignoring the ongoing validity of the monolingual norm in the international book market and the power differentials inherent in English This corpus of texts is therefore highly self conscious about the use of language As post monolingual novels stage exchange and movement between languages they also model in the realm of fiction new concepts of language In several case studies of contemporary anglophone post monolingual novels from different parts of the world the book demonstrates how the post monolingual in literature operates within different cultural and political contexts The readings of Arundhati Roy's The Ministry of Utmost Happiness Yvonne A Owuor's The Dragonfly Sea Marlon James A Brief History of Seven Killings J M Coetzee's The Childhood of Jesus and Ocean Vuong's On Earth We're Briefly Gorgeous propose theoretically and methodologically innovative ways of engaging with literary multi and translingualism While the analyses focus on the post monolingual poetics they also direct attention to the novels modes of production and circulation in the anglosphere

Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction Greg Forter, 2019 This volume explores how postcolonial historical fiction can be a valuable resource for thinking about the prehistory of our present It examines how novels from and about the Atlantic and Indian Ocean worlds present specific historical and oceanic instances of colonialism and highlights the continuities between the colonial era and our own

Crime Fiction in the Caribbean Lucy Evans, 2024-09-18 Crime Fiction in the Caribbean Reframing Crime and Justice is the first academic book to focus on crime fiction by anglophone Caribbean writers It explores how contemporary writers experiment with the crime genre in order to convey contextualize and comment on crime and justice in Caribbean countries Lucy Evans reads crime fiction as a versatile mode of writing that can be politically engaged and that in a Caribbean context can expose power structures embedded in the region's multi layered history of colonial conquest genocide of Indigenous populations plantation agriculture transatlantic slavery and indentured labour This book covers fiction set in Trinidad and Tobago Jamaica Guyana Barbados Grenada and Haiti discussing novels by Elizabeth Nunez Jacob Ross Marlon James Harischandra Khemraj Esther Figueroa Edwidge Danticat Cherie Jones and several others Evans considers how fiction by anglophone Caribbean writers not only reflects upon the social realities of crime and crime control in the Caribbean but also at times contests or complicates scholarly popular and legal perspectives She argues that through their engagement with the crime genre these writers raise pressing questions about what constitutes crime and justice in a Caribbean context and about accountability Looking beyond the traditional focus of crime fiction and criminology on individual acts of wrongdoing their fiction highlights systemic social harms rooted in the region's colonial past Reading crime fiction through the lens of criminological research Crime Fiction in the Caribbean brings the study of literary writing into scholarly debate on crime in the Caribbean At the same time it extends the global turn in crime fiction studies focusing on a region that has been sidelined even in studies which examine the genre's international dimensions
